Architecture Peter Šenk, 2017-10-12 This book investigates the architectural product design and urban typology of the capsule which beginning in the 1960s broadened the concept of the basic building blocks of architecture to include a minimal living unit called the capsule Here it is presented with regard to the continuity of the development of the Modern Movement its revisionist criticism pioneering examples as well as contemporary examples and uses The typology of the capsule allows us to consider this theme in terms of the architecture of resistance with the potential to search for an other architecture that is embedded in our contemporaneity manifested in small dwellings composite structures and container units shelters and mobile homes in nature and the urban environment technology transfer in high tech designs devices additions and extensions etc The concept of the capsule as a building element of architecture as well as a spatial element can therefore be regarded as having a generative potential for an architecture of personal space for the individual forcing us to reflect on our existing living and dwelling conditions

The Experimenters Eva Díaz, 2014-12-25 In the years immediately following World War II Black Mountain College an unaccredited school in rural Appalachia became a vital hub of cultural innovation Practically every major artistic figure of the mid twentieth century spent some time there Merce Cunningham Ray Johnson Franz Kline Willem and Elaine de Kooning Robert Motherwell Robert Rauschenberg Dorothea Rockburne Aaron Siskind Cy Twombly the list goes on and on Yet scholars have tended to view these artists time at the College as little more than prologue a step on their way to greatness With The Experimenters Eva D az reveals the importance of Black Mountain College and especially of three key teachers Josef Albers John Cage and R Buckminster Fuller to be much greater than that D az s focus is on experimentation Albers Cage and Fuller she shows taught new models of art making that favored testing procedures rather than personal expression These methodologies represented incipient directions for postwar art practice elements of which would be sampled and often wholly adopted by Black Mountain students and subsequent practitioners The resulting works which interrelate art and life in a way that imbues these projects with crucial relevance not only reconfigured the relationships among chance order and design they helped redefine what artistic practice was and could be for future generations Offering a bold compelling new angle on some of the most widely studied creative figures of modern times The Experimenters does nothing less than rewrite the story of art in the mid twentieth century

Architecture and Nature

Sarah Bonnemaïson, Christine Macy, 2003-09-02 Narrated painted and filmed American landscapes have been central to the construction of a national identity This book explores how such rhetorical landscapes have also been designed into the built environment of architecture

Counterculture Green Andrew G. Kirk, 2007-11-19 For those who eagerly awaited its periodic appearance it was more than a publication it was a way of life The Whole Earth Catalog billed itself as Access to Tools and it grew from a Bay Area blip to a national phenomenon catering to hippies do it yourselfers and anyone interested in self sufficiency independent of mainstream America In recovering the history of the Catalog s unique brand of environmentalism Andrew Kirk recounts how San Francisco s Stewart Brand and his counterculture cohorts in the Point

Foundation promoted a philosophy of pragmatic environmentalism that celebrated technological achievement human ingenuity and sustainable living By piecing together the social cultural material environmental and technological history of that philosophy s incarnation in the Catalog Kirk reveals the driving forces behind it tells the story of the appropriate technology movement it espoused and assesses its fate This book takes a fresh look at the many individuals and organizations who worked in the 1950s 1960s and 1970s to construct this philosophy of pragmatic environmentalism At a time when many of these ideas were seen as heretical to a predominantly wilderness based movement Whole Earth became a critical forum for environmental alternatives and a model for how complicated ecological ideas could be presented in a hopeful and even humorous way It also enabled later environmental advocates like Al Gore to explain our current inconvenient truth and the actions of Brand s Point Foundation demonstrated that the epistemology of Whole Earth could be put into action in meaningful ways that might foster an environmental optimism distinctly different from the jeremiads that became the stock in trade of American environmentalism Kirk shows us that Whole Earth was more than a mere counterculture fad In an era of political protest it suggested that staying home and modifying your toilet or installing a solar collector could make a more significant contribution than taking to the streets to shout down establishment misdeeds Given its visible legacy in the current views of Al Gore and others the subtle environmental heresies of Whole Earth continue to resonate today which makes Kirk s lucid and lively tale an extremely timely one as well

Alison and Peter Smithson Alison Smithson, Peter Smithson, Beatriz Colomina, Design Museum (London, England), 2004 Striving to adapt the progressive ideas of the pre war modern movement to the specific human needs of post war reconstruction Alison and Peter Smithson were among the most influential and controversial architects of the latter half of the twentieth century As younger members of CIAM Congr s Internationaux d Architecture Moderne and as founding members of Team 10 they were at the heart of the debate on the future course of Modern Architecture Their polemics and designs addressing issues such as the rising consumer society and the orientation of urban planning laid the foundations for New Brutalism and the Pop Art Movement of the 1960s An important adaptation made by the Smithsons and their generation was the rejection of modernism s machine aesthetics The new notions of place and territory were juxtaposed to Le Corbusier s machine habiter To the Smithsons a house was a particular place which should be suited to its location and able to meet the ordinary requirements of everyday life and to accommodate its inhabitants individual patterns of use This exhibition examines the evolution of the Smithsons approach to this everyday art of inhabitation It does this by extensively documenting most of their designs for individual dwellings especially their optimistic House of the Future of 1956 and the series of renovations of and additions to the fairy tale like Hexenhaus in Germany from the late 1980s onward
