Youth and Peaceful Elections in Kenya Kimani Njogu, 2013-08-15 Elections provide a tremendous opportunity for national transformation and the pursuit of democratic practice. They can be a moment of national renewal. However, in most of Africa, elections are often characterized by violent conflict as politicians seek to capture or maintain power through ethnic mobilization, propaganda, and misrepresentation. Considering opportunities offered by information technology, especially mobile phones, and the discovery of extensive natural resources, Africa has an opportunity to significantly change the lives of ordinary citizens. But this transformation requires that youth are fully present in the political, economic, social, and cultural arenas. They will need to marshal their energies and stay focused on the things that are important for the continent of Africa. In the case of Kenya, youth should not wait to be invited to take up political leadership. Instead, they will need to invite themselves to the table and take advantage of the opportunity provided in the Constitution and demand accountability and transparency in the conduct of national affairs. This book is part of ongoing work at Twaweza Communications in the pursuit of democracy, peace, and justice. Themes covered include youth and leadership elections and peace, youth as peace makers, family, and global values among other topics. The authors offer an in-depth analysis of the experiences of over one hundred unaccompanied young migrants, primarily from Afghanistan, Albania, and Eritrea. They show the lengths these young people will go to in pursuit of safety, security, and the futures they aspire to. Interdisciplinary in nature, the book champions a new political economy analysis of wellbeing in the context of migration and demonstrates the urgent need for policy reform.

Childhood, Philosophy and Open Society Chi-Ming Lam,2013-02-26 The purpose of this book is to develop a theory and practice of education from Karl Popper s non justificationist philosophy for promoting an open society Specifically the book is designed to develop an educational programme for fostering critical thinking in children particularly when they are involved in group discussion The study conducted an experiment to assess the effectiveness of Matthew Lipman s Philosophy for Children P4C programme in promoting Hong Long Chinese children s critical thinking Forty two Secondary 1 students volunteered for the experiment from whom 28 students were randomly selected and randomly assigned to two groups of 14 each one receiving P4C lessons and the other receiving English lessons The students who were taught P4C were found to perform better in the reasoning test than those who were not to be capable of discussing philosophical problems in a competent way and to have a very positive attitude towards doing philosophy in the classroom It was also found that P4C played a major role in developing the students critical thinking Considering that the construction of children by adults as incompetent in the sense of lacking reason maturity or independence reinforces the traditional structure of adult authority over children in society it runs counter to the goal of fostering critical thinking in children As a way to return justice to childhood and to effectively promote critical thinking in children the present study suggested reconstructing the concept of childhood highlighting the importance of establishing a coherent public policy on promotion of agency in children and also the importance of empowering them to participate actively in research legal and educational institutions
