Excerpt Many years ago there lived an Emperor who was so fond of new clothes that he spent all his money on them in order to be beautifully dressed He did not care about his soldiers he did not care about the theatre he only liked to go out walking to show off his new clothes He had a coat for every hour of the day and just as they say of a king He is in the council chamber they always said here The Emperor is in the wardrobe In the great city in which he lived there was always something going on every day many strangers came there One day two impostors arrived who gave themselves out as weavers and said that they knew how to manufacture the most beautiful cloth imaginable Not only were the texture and pattern uncommonly beautiful but clothes which were made of the stuff possessed this wonderful property that they were invisible to anyone who was not fit for his office or who was unpardonably stupid Those must indeed be splendid clothes thought the Emperor If I had them on I could find out which men in my kingdom are unfit for the offices they hold I could distinguish the wise from the stupid Yes this cloth must be woven for me at once And he gave both the impostors much money so that they might begin their work They placed two weaving looms and began to do as if they were working but they had not the least thing on the looms They also demanded the finest silk and the best gold which they put in their pockets and worked at the empty looms till late into the night I should like very much to know how far they have got on with the cloth thought the Emperor But he remembered when he thought about it that whoever was stupid or not fit for his office would not be able to see it Now he certainly believed that he had nothing to fear for himself but he wanted first to send somebody else in order to see how he stood with regard to his office Everybody in the whole town knew what a wonderful power the cloth had and they were all curious to see how bad or how stupid their neighbour was I will send my old and honoured minister to the weavers thought the Emperor He can judge best what the cloth is like for he has intellect and no one understands his office better than he Now the good old minister went into the hall where the two impostors sat working at the empty weaving looms Dear me thought the old minister opening his eyes wide I can see nothing But he did not say so Both the impostors begged him to be so kind as to step closer and asked him if it were not a beautiful texture and lovely colours They pointed to the empty loom and the poor old minister went forward rubbing his eyes but he could see nothing for there was nothing there Dear dear thought he can I be stupid I have never thought that and nobody must know it Can I be not fit for my office No I must certainly not say that I cannot see the cloth Have you nothing to say about it asked one of the men who was weaving

Macromedia Flash MX ushers in a new era of moving images on the Internet. At its launch, analysts predicted that the Flash Player would transform itself from being a lightweight animation tool to the de facto technology for simple web interactivity. Randy Souza, Forrester. Since then, though, Flash developers combining vector animation and video have proven that it is capable of much much more than simple web interactivity. We're still just beginning to scratch the surface of the possibilities it opens up to us, but already it looks like Flash MX is becoming the key technology for pushing video creativity on the Web to a new whole level. Understandably, many people look at Flash as just another way to deliver video on the Web, one more program for showing movies on your desktop. Well, it can certainly do that, but there's a whole lot more it can do besides. You can use ActionScript to add custom controls, determine a video playback sequence, or mask your video with a custom shape. You can use layering to create special effects, design custom templates for e-learning applications, and use lightweight video streams along with Flash animation in rich media e-mail campaigns. Resources in Education, 1999-04
