Legislature,1921 Prologue ,1981 The Spiritual-Industrial Complex Jonathan P. Herzog,2011-08-05 In his farewell address Dwight D Eisenhower warned the nation of the perils of the military industrial complex But as Jonathan Herzog shows in this insightful history Eisenhower had spent his presidency contributing to another lesser known Cold War collaboration the spiritual industrial complex This fascinating volume shows that American leaders in the early Cold War years considered the conflict to be profoundly religious they saw Communism not only as godless but also as a sinister form of religion Fighting faith with faith they deliberately used religious beliefs and institutions as part of the plan to defeat the Soviet enemy Herzog offers an illuminating account of the resultant spiritual industrial complex chronicling the rhetoric the programs and the policies that became its hallmarks He shows that well known actions like the addition of the words under God to the Pledge of Allegiance were a small part of a much larger and relatively unexplored program that promoted religion nationwide Herzog shows how these efforts played out in areas of American life both predictable and unexpected from pulpits and presidential appeals to national faith drives military training barracks public school classrooms and Hollywood epics Millions of Americans were bombarded with the message that the religious could not be Communists just a short step from the all too common conclusion that the irreligious could not be true Americans Though the spiritual industrial complex declined in the 1960s its statutes monuments and sentiments live on as bulwarks against secularism and as reminders that the nation rests upon the groundwork of religious faith They continue to serve as valuable allies for those defending the place of religion in American life

The Last Million David Nasaw, 2020-09-15 From bestselling author David Nasaw a sweeping new history of the one million refugees left behind in Germany after WWII In May 1945 German forces surrendered to the Allied powers putting an end to World War II in Europe But the aftershocks of global military conflict did not cease with the German capitulation Millions of lost and homeless concentration camp survivors POWs slave laborers political prisoners and Nazi collaborators in flight from the Red Army overwhelmed Germany a nation in ruins British and American soldiers gathered the malnourished and desperate refugees and attempted to repatriate them But after exhaustive efforts there remained more than a million displaced persons left behind in Germany Jews Poles Estonians Latvians Lithuanians Ukrainians and other Eastern Europeans who refused to go home or had no homes to return to The Last Million would spend the next three to five years in displaced persons camps temporary homelands in exile divided by nationality with their own police forces churches and synagogues schools newspapers theaters and infirmaries The international community could not agree on the fate of the Last Million and after a year of debate and inaction the International Refugee Organization was created to resettle them in lands suffering from postwar labor shortages But no nations were willing to accept the 200 000 to 250 000 Jewish men women and children who remained trapped in Germany In 1948 the United States among the last countries to accept refugees for resettlement finally passed a displaced persons bill With Cold War fears supplanting memories of World War II atrocities the bill granted the vast majority of visas to those who were reliably anti Communist including thousands of former Nazi collaborators and war criminals while severely limiting the entry of Jews who were suspected of being Communist sympathizers or agents because they had been recent residents of Soviet dominated Poland Only after the controversial partition of Palestine and Israel s declaration of independence were the remaining Jewish survivors able to leave their displaced persons camps in Germany A masterwork from acclaimed historian David Nasaw The Last Million tells the gripping yet until now largely hidden story of postwar displacement and statelessness By 1952 the Last Million were scattered around the world As they crossed from their broken past into an unknowable future they carried with them their wounds their fears their hope and their secrets Here for the first time Nasaw illuminates their incredible history and with profound contemporary resonance shows us that it is our history as well
