Artful Therapy Judith Aron Rubin, 2005-04-01 Use the therapeutic potential of art to make progress in your practice Artful Therapy shows you how to use art to make a difference in therapy Using visual imagery and art creation you can help people with medical problems understand how they feel about their illness victims of abuse tell without talking and substance abuse and eating disorder clients tap into unresolved issues These are just a few examples of how the power of art can improve your practice Ideal for mental health professionals and allied workers with little or no art background this accessible and proven guide takes you through the techniques of using art and visual imagery and shows you how they can benefit clients of varying ages and abilities With the art therapy tools provided you can open potentially groundbreaking new dialogues with your clients Author Judith Aron Rubin draws on more than forty years experience as an art therapist to help you maximize the value of art as a therapeutic tool in both the mental health disciplines such as psychology and social work and related specialties An accompanying DVD contains models for practitioners showing art therapy being used in actual clinical practice The DVD clearly models Initiating the art making process Using art in assessment Using mental imagery with or without art Implementing other art forms such as drama and music in therapy Using art with a variety of client types including children families and groups Assigning art as homework Whether or not you have used art therapy with your clients or are thinking about integrating art therapy in your practice making the most of art in the clinical setting begins with Artful Therapy Jung's Technique of Active Imagination and Desoille's Directed Waking Dream Method Laner Cassar,2020-06-07 Jung's Technique of Active Imagination and Desoille's Directed Waking Dream Method brings together Carl Jung's active imagination and Robert Desoille's revue dirigée directed waking dream method RED It studies the historical development of these approaches in Central Europe in the first half of the 20th century and explores their theoretical similarities and differences proposing an integrated framework of clinical practice The book aims to study the wider European context of the 1900s which influenced the development of both Jung's and Desoille's methods This work compares the spatial metaphors of interiority used by both Jung and Desoille to describe the traditional concept of inner psychic space in the waking dreams of Jung's active imagination and Desoille's RED It also attempts a broader theoretical comparison between the procedural aspects of both RED and active imagination by identifying commonalities and divergences between the two approaches This book is a unique contribution to analytical psychology and will be of great interest for academics researchers and post graduate students interested in the use of imagination and mental imagery in analysis psychotherapy and counselling The book's historical focus will be of particular relevance to Jungian and Desoillian scholars since it is the first of its kind to trace the connections between the two schools and it gives a detailed account of Desoille's early life and his first written works This book was a Grady Award nominee for 2021 Cognitive-Behavioral Art Therapy Marcia L. Rosal,2018-03-14 Cognitive Behavioral Art Therapy explores the intersection of art therapy practices and principles within cognitive behavioral therapy CBT theories and models This timely new resource examines CBT theory as it relates to art therapy and offers an argument for the inclusion of CBT within art therapy based treatments An analysis of the historical roots of both CBT and cognitive behavioral art therapy CBAT is presented along with current practices and a proposed model of implementation Also included are case studies to enhance this in depth exploration of a largely unexamined perspective within the arts therapies Introduction to Art Therapy Judith A. Rubin,2009-08-05 Introduction to Art Therapy Sources and Resources is the thoroughly updated and revised second edition of Judith Rubin's landmark 1999 text the first to describe the history of art in both assessment and therapy and to clarify the differences between artists or teachers who provide therapeutic art activities psychologists or social workers who request drawings and those who are trained as art therapists to do a kind of work which is similar but qualitatively different This new edition contains downloadable resources with over 400 still images and 250 edited video clips for much richer illustration than is possible with figures alone an additional chapter describing the work that art therapists do and new material on education with updated information on standards ethics and informing others To further make the information accessible to practitioners students and teachers the author has included a section on treatment planning and evaluation an updated list of resources selected professional associations and proceedings references expanded citations and clinical vignettes and illustrations Three key chapters describe and expand the work that art therapists do People We Help deals with all ages Problems We Treat focuses on different disorders and disabilities and Places We Practice reflects the expansion of art therapy beyond its original home in psychiatry The author's own introduction to the therapeutic power of art as a person a worker and a parent will resonate with both experienced and novice readers alike Most importantly however this book provides a definition of art therapy that contains its history diversity challenges and accomplishments
