Wake County Public Schools Social Studies:

A School District's Journey to Excellence Bill McNeal, Tom Oxholm, 2008-07-03 A remarkable tool for educators and communities We are fortunate that a very effective former superintendent and successful business person are willing to share their quest for ensuring that all students are well prepared for their futures June St Clair Atkinson State Superintendent North Carolina Department of Public Instruction Blends business principles with excellent leadership in one of America's largest school districts to create a model for achieving excellence in school districts everywhere This is a well written practical illustration of how a leader makes things happen Larry Price Superintendent Wilson County Schools NC Learn how school districts can go from average to outstanding The challenge of preparing children and youth for success in the 21st century requires improvement in the business of education This unique resource provides an inside account of how Wake County Public Schools one of the nation's largest school districts made significant gains in student achievement and school performance over a ten year period to become a shining example of success Award winning superintendent Bill McNeal and successful businessman school board member Tom Oxholm show readers how they established a partnership to help students meet grade level expectations and support schools in closing achievement gaps Through the authors experience and tips readers will discover how to facilitate Improved educational outcomes especially among minority populations Progressive instructional leadership Fiscal responsibility and efficient allocation of resources Stronger school community relationships Rich in examples case studies and data A School District's Journey to Excellence is a much needed map to excellence in public education Resources in Education ,2001-04 Social Studies JoAnn Cangemi, 1986 Series focuses on the student's environment with the scope of the materials expanding from self and family in grade K to a world view in grade 6 Includes poster sized maps tests and activity masters and emphasizes geography skills History citizenship government economics and sociology are covered throughout Teaching Social Studies in Middle and Secondary Schools Candy Beal, Cheryl Mason Bolick, Peter H. Martorella, 2009 In the tradition of social studies innovator Peter Martorella this readable accessible text offers prospective teachers a comprehensive introduction to teaching social studies to middle and secondary school students With the purpose of social studies being the development of reflective competent concerned citizens the text first examines the origins and evolution of social studies and citizenship education across the United States Following this targeted chapters address the art science and craft of social studies teaching as a means for engaging learners in knowledge construction In the final section the authors look at ways to improve social studies instruction through the incorporation of emerging technologies and explore the implications of the rich cultural diversity within our nation Making Young Voters John B. Holbein, D. Sunshine Hillygus, 2020-02-20 In 2016 90% of young Americans reported an interest in politics 80% intended to vote Yet only 43% of people between the ages of 18 and 29 ended up actually casting a ballot Making Young Voters investigates what lies at the core of this gap The authors in depth interdisciplinary approach reveals that political apathy is not the reason for low levels of youth turnout. Rather, young people too often fail to follow through on their political interests and intentions. Those with noncognitive skills related to self-regulation are more likely to overcome internal and external barriers to participation. This book combines theory from psychology, economics, child development, and more to explore possible solutions rooted in civic education and electoral reform. This potentially paradigm-shifting contribution to the literature of American politics serves to influence not only our understanding of voter turnout but also the fundamental connections between the education system, electoral institutions, and individual civic behavior in a democracy. How young people vote affects not only each individual's future but that of the United States and of us all. North Carolina Public Schools, 1954 Telling Time Through the Ages Rebecca Weber, 2011

Approximately 5 000 to 6 000 years ago, people began to make clocks, tools that can precisely mark off equal lengths of time. In this book, you will find out about several types of clocks invented throughout history. You will also discover that you can make some of these clocks yourself by following step-by-step instructions. You will even measure your body clock. Middle Grades Education Pat Williams-Boyd, 2003-11-12. An expert guide to the development of the middle school model as the best educational environment designed to address students' developmental and social needs as well as educational needs. Middle Grades Education: A Reference Handbook explores the distinctive middle school approach to helping adolescents develop as human beings and citizens as well as students, with coverage that ranges from the conceptual foundations of the middle school model to research-based best practices, to sample lesson plans and activities. Edited by Pat Williams Boyd, with contributions from experienced frontline educators, the book showcases a number of places where the ideal middle school has become reality, where individual talents are nurtured, families are involved, teachers serve as role models and advocates, and crucial health and developmental needs are met. Readers will experience classrooms where students dance their math, sing their science, and breathe the winds of history, and where the joy of learning is bounded only by the educator's imagination.

Breaking the Mold of Preservice and Inservice Teacher Education Audrey Cohan, Andrea Honigsfeld, 2011-02-16. This unique collection of chapters takes the reader on a tour to explore innovative preservice and inservice teacher education practices from many regions of the United States, Canada, and the world. Each of the chapters offers an authentic documentary account of successful initiatives that break the traditional mold of teacher education. Section I presents unique preservice teacher preparation programs and initiatives. These chapters offer compelling ideas to readers who seek change in the higher education model of teacher training. Section II features inservice education for both the novice and veteran teacher. The chapters included in this section of the book offer stories of innovation as professional development initiatives. Each of the programs describes the setting or context in which the innovation takes place and focuses on the role of teachers and students. Chapters in Section III highlight the benefits of collaborative teacher education practices. Through the lens of community and with the tools of cooperation and support, innovative practices are described for the improvement of student learning Section IV offers less commonly presented diverse global perspectives on teacher education The sharing of ideas through global examples highlight the similarities in educational practices and common goals across the world Our History ,1983
