In Representing Black Music Culture Then Now and When Again Banfield honors the legacy of artists who have graced us with their work for more than half a century. The essays and interviews in this collection are enhanced by seven years of daily diary entries which reflect on some of the country's most respected Black composers, recording artists, authors, and cultural icons. These include Ornette Coleman, Bobby McFerrin, Toni Morrison, Amiri Baraka, Gordon Parks, the Marsalis brothers, Spike Lee, Maya Angelou, Patrice Rushen, and many others. Though many of the individuals Banfield lauds are well known to most readers, he also turns his attention to musicians and artists whose work, while perhaps unheralded by the world at large, are no less deserving of praise and respect for their contributions to the culture. In addition, this volume is filled with candid photographs of many of these fellow artists as they participate in expressive culture, whether on stage, on tour, in clubs, behind the scenes in rehearsal, or even during meals and teaching class. This unique book of essays, interviews, diary entries, and Banfield's personal photographs will be of interest to scholars and students of course, but also to general readers interested in absorbing and appreciating the beauty of Black culture.

Integrating African American Literature in the Library and Classroom Dorothy Littlejohn Guthrie, 2011-09-14. In this book, African American literature is illuminated through a project-based curriculum that incorporates national curriculum standards. It is important that the school curriculum be representative of the diversity of the American student population. Integrating African American Literature in the Library and Classroom is designed to help teachers and librarians achieve that goal. The book recommends and annotates more than 200 titles that touch on African American life from slavery through the present time, most of them by Black authors, and many of them winners of the Coretta Scott King, Caldecott, and/or Newbery awards. This guide offers cross-curricular lesson plans for grades K-12. Each chapter identifies areas in which instructional attention is most needed to help students develop a greater appreciation for diversity, perseverance, and ethnicity. Sheafe Douglas Morgan,2010 Born Just as the Civil War Began Lewis Sheafe grew to manhood at a pivotal moment in American history But instead of racial equality the nation offered its freed slaves further oppression and injustice Sheafe strong willed dynamic and seemingly tireless had but two main objectives Uplift his people spiritually and socially and consistently adhere to biblical principle in all aspects of life His thirst for truth led him first to the Baptists where he became both an eloquent minister and a prominent leader of the Black community Then his poor health led him to Battle Creek Sanitarium where he encountered Seventh day Adventism Sheafe saw in the Adventist message the tenets of race relations he already championed and he embraced it wholeheartedly He was sent to lead the Black work in Washington D C in 1902 and his evangelistic campaigns drew standing room only crowds of both Black and White listeners But during his turbulent years of Adventist ministry he and church leaders could not agree on how to apply biblical principles of racial equality The conflict eventually proved fatal to his ties with the denomination In this gripping biography Douglas Morgan pieces together the life of this forgotten leader whose story sheds light on the reason that no lasting separate Black Adventist denomination ever formed Book jacket
