The Paradox of Trauma and Growth in Pastoral and Spiritual Care Mary Beth Werdel, 2023-10-24 The Paradox of Trauma and Growth in Pastoral and Spiritual Care Night Blooming introduces and bridges the gap between the psychological and spiritual perspectives and responses in trauma work illuminating the complexity of the human phenomenon of growth though suffering that is too easily misunderstood in the context of pastoral and spiritual care Through the hopeful metaphor of night bloomers rare plants that grow because of light but bloom in the darkness it is suggested that while psychological trauma is inherently negative and suffering creates a spiritual inner night moving through it may reveal a new complex reality of the human experience not previously understood We may see ourselves others or the world in a way that is stronger wiser deeper or more brilliant than we had known before The book presents the goal of pastoral and spiritual work is not to extinguish darkness Nor is it to solely focus on the light The work is to learn how to stay awake through the night without glorifying it Such a task is far easier when we believe there might be a rare and uniquely beautiful bloom to stay awake for and that witnessing such a bloom could have great consequences for living a meaningful life

The Experience of Atheism: Phenomenology, Metaphysics and Religion Claude Romano, Robyn Horner, 2021-05-06 Religious and atheistic belief are presented anew in a volume of essays from leading phenomenologists in both France and the UK Atheism often presented as the negation of religious belief is here engaged with from a phenomenologically informed notion of experience The focus on experience sparks new debates in readings of belief faith and atheism as they relate to and complicate each other What unites the contributors is their relationship to phenomenology as it has developed in France in the wake of Heidegger and Husserl Leading French intellectuals from this context Jean Luc Nancy Quentin Meillassoux and Catherine Malabou amongst others contribute arresting ideas on atheistic faith the death of God and anarchic faith opening up new areas of understanding in a field whose parameters and core concepts are ever shifting Revealing the extent to which religious and atheistic belief must be seen to influence and on a fundamental level to co create one another the pluralistic society in which religious belief is counted as one option amongst many is given primacy The fact that religious faith has become not only optional but also in many contexts strangely alienated from society deeply modifies the experience of the believer as much as that of the non believer A focus on experience over and above belief moves us towards a mode of experiential knowledge which refuses to privilege the atheistic believer and deride the reality of religious belief

The Dark Womb Karen O'Donnell, 2022-02-28. The experience of reproductive loss raises a series of profoundly theological questions: how can God have a plan for my life? Why didn't God answer my prayers? How can I have hope after such an experience? Who am I after such a loss? Sadly, these are questions that, along with reproductive loss, have largely been ignored in theology. Karen O'Donnell tackles these questions head-on, drawing on her own experiences of repeated reproductive loss as she re-conceives theology from the perspective of the miscarrying person. Offering a fresh, original, and creative approach to theology, O'Donnell explores the complexity of the miscarrying body and its potential for theological revelation. She offers a re-conception of theologies of providence, prayer, hope, and the body as she reimagines theology out of these messy origins. This book is for those who have experienced such losses and those who minister to them. But it is also for all those who want to encounter a creative and imaginative approach to theology and the life of faith in our messy, complex world.

Creating a Comprehensive Trauma Center Mary Beth Williams, Lasse A. Nurmi, 2013-03-09. Early Thoughts on Creating Comprehensive Trauma Centers. This volume has been many years in writing. When Dr. Donald Meichenbaum first suggested it and I approached my coauthor Lasse Nurmi it did not seem to be as formidable a task as it has become Interviewing the centers in this book has taken years to get responses to summarize those responses and to return the summaries for further comment Many centers have been created in that time others have suspended operation This volume does not claim to present even a majority of those centers However the ones contained herein are representative of what is out there The idea to create a comprehensive trauma center is not new The initial section of this forward examines thoughts I proposed as part of my comprehensive examination for my doctorate Many of the ideas proposed then 1989 seem to fit now It is my dream to put them into practice someday in the future

THE COMPREHENSIVE EXAMINATION QUESTION In 1989 one question on the written comprehensive examination questions for my doctorate was If you were to create a comprehensive trauma center in your suburban area making use of what you have learned in your doctoral experience describe the organization of that center the mission structure personnel funding objectives and services it would offer Some of the conclusions reached then now seem applicable to the task at hand design ing comprehensive trauma centers CTCs for the 21st century
