Urbanised Society in the Age of Cities Cumhur Olcar,2025-04-29 This book details the transformation processes that impinge on constitutionally ordained governance by drawing on the new theoretical approaches in the urban sciences It is unique in terms of its focused content which thoroughly analyses the transformation of space and governance in Turkey and beyond and how urban institutions have emerged and changed since their inception Underlining the distinct structural characteristics this book unearths the significant socio political and economic processes which are critical to the political articulation of governance in cities It follows a multidisciplinary approach which helps understand the social churning that has radically altered the conventions of urban politics It also attempts to draw out the theoretical implications of cities peculiar socio economic and political processes based on a rigorous empirical investigation in which political is envisioned and fashioned This book will be useful to students researchers and teachers working in the field of urban and social science public administration urban sociology political economy and urban politics It will also be an invaluable and interesting reading for those invested in Asian studies

Transnational Architecture and Urbanism Davide Ponzini,2020-05-28 Transnational Architecture and Urbanism combines urban planning design policy and geography studies to offer place based and project oriented insight into relevant case studies of urban transformation in Europe North America Asia and the Middle East Since the 1990s increasingly multinational modes of design have arisen especially concerning prominent buildings and places Traditional planning and design disciplines have proven to have limited comprehension of and little grip on such transformations Public and scholarly discussions argue that these projects and transformations derive from socioeconomic political cultural trends or conditions of globalization The author suggests that general urban theories are relevant as background but of limited efficacy when dealing with such context bound projects and policies This book critically investigates emerging problematic issues such as the spectacularization of the urban environment the decontextualization of design practice and the global circulation of plans and projects The book portends new conceptualizations evidence based explanations and practical understanding for architects planners and policy makers to critically learn from practice to cope with these transnational issues and to put better planning in place

Future Asian Space Erwin Viray,Davisi Boontharm,Limin Hee,2012-01-01 Rapid technological economic social and cultural changes are transforming the idea of Asian space With the shift to a global economy and an urban population explosion Asian cities have become a mainstay of progress national pride identity and positioning on the global stage The extraordinary pace and intensity of the changes have created a situation unique in the history of urban development Despite the immense diversity of Asian countries Asia ness is often treated as a distinctive quality that has emerged from unique recent circumstances affecting Asian urbanizations as a whole In Future Asian Space 15 authors explore broad concepts relating to the creation and re creation of Asian space and contemporary Asian identity and their examination of different sites and research approaches highlights the difficulty of pinpointing what Asia ness is or might become Appropriate design and planning of cities is a critical element in building a sustainable future and coping with environmental social and cultural problems Future Asian Space is designed to stimulate interests and engagement in discussions of the Asian city and its trajectories in architecture and urbanism but the authors conclusions will intrigue anyone interested in the future of cities and urban life in Asia

Geographies of Urban Governance Joyeeta Gupta, Karin Pfeffer, Hebe Verrest, Mirjam Ros-Tonen, 2015-08-08 With a current population inflow into cities of 200 000 people per day UN Habitat expects that up to 75% of the global population will live in cities by 2050 Influenced by forces of globalization and global change cities and urban life are transforming rapidly impacting human welfare economic development and urban regional landscapes This poses new challenges to urban governance while emerging city networks advancing geo technologies and increasing production of continuous data streams require governance actors to re think and re work conventional work processes and practices This book has been written to enhance our understanding of how governance can contribute to the development of just and resilient cities in a context of rapid urban transformations It examines current governance patterns from a geographical and inclusive development perspective emphasizing the importance of place space scale and human environment interactions and paying attention to contemporary processes of participation networking and spatialized digitization The challenge we are facing is to turn future cities into inclusive cities that are diverse but just and within their ecological limits We believe that the state of the art overview of topical discussions on governance theories instruments methods and practices presented in this book provides a basis for understanding and analyzing these challenges
