Shakespearean Adaptation, Race and Memory in the New World Joyce Green MacDonald, 2020-08-24 As readers head into the second fifty years of the modern critical study of blackness and black characters in Renaissance drama it has become a critical commonplace to note black female characters almost complete absence from Shakespeare's plays Despite this physical absence however they still play central symbolic roles in articulating definitions of love beauty chastity femininity and civic and social standing invoked as the opposite and foil of women who are fair Beginning from this recognition of black women's simultaneous physical absence and imaginative presence this book argues that modern Shakespearean adaptation is a primary means for materializing black women's often elusive presence in the plays serving as a vital staging place for historical and political inquiry into racial formation in Shakespeare's world and our own Ranging geographically across North America and the Caribbean and including film and fiction as well as drama as it discusses remade versions of Othello Romeo and Juliet Antony and Cleopatra and The Taming of the Shrew Shakespearean Adaptation Race and Memory in the New World will attract scholars of early modern race studies gender and performance and women in Renaissance drama

Exile and Return as Poetics of Identity in Contemporary Anglo-Caribbean Literature

Eleonora Natalia Ravizza, 2019-11-25 In contemporary Anglo Caribbean literature the dialectic interrelations of exile and return are essential for conveying meta reflections on literature and language as well as the role they play in the construction of personal and collective identities While this volume focuses on the specificity of a cultural area whose history is marked by colonialism diaspora slavery and racial conflicts it also raises epistemological questions surrounding the complexity of literature and its function in a world which is ever more composite hybrid and transcultural By developing a new systematic approach which combines post colonial studies theories of intertextuality and philosophy of language it explores how contemporary literary texts reflect elaborate and redefine the experiences of societies that are currently dealing with ever growing global interdependencies and newly formed cultural and semiotic context

The Crowning of a Poet's Quest Paola Loreto,2009 This first extended study of Derek Walcott's Tiepolo's Hound 2000 defines the book as the culmination of the poetry and poetics of the Caribbean writer and Nobel Prize winner In this long poem Walcott achieves three goals pursued throughout his career to develop an original Caribbean aesthetic to meld the modes of poetry and prose and to formulate the Bildung of the island artist in terms of an autobiographical narrative The analysis provides an aesthetic and cultural evaluation of the poem in terms both of the Western poetic tradition to which it refers through its rich intertextuality and of its significance as a postcolonial milestone The commentary locates Walcott in an aesthetic tradition running from Emerson through the American Pragmatists to modernist poets describes his experimental use of certain central narrative strategies in his semi autobiographical long poems which is compared to those of another openly admired bilingual writer Vladimir Nabokov explores Walcott's revision of the epic mode and of the genre of autobiography delineates his unfolding of a post Romantic internalization of the poet's Arthurian quest and discusses his complex treatment of the multi layered metaphor of light as major evidence of the maturity of his style and poetics with their conscious cross fertilization between the literary cultures of Europe and the Caribbean An appendix to this study contains the transcriptions of various Walcott events that took place in Italy in the summers of 2000 and 2001 including a creative writing seminar a press conference and readings This extensive material opens a window onto Walcott's gifts as a teacher to his stringent yet passionate commitment to the art of poetry and to the ways in which he and his students grapple with the challenges of literary translation
