Vrouwen En Het Binnenhof:

Breaking Male Dominance in Old Democracies Drude Dahlerup, Monique Leyenaar, 2013-06-20 Has male dominance in political life been broken Will gender balance in elected assemblies soon be reached Around 100 years after women's suffrage was gained and in spite of much effort most countries are still at some distance from this goal In 2013 the average representation of women in the world's parliaments was around 20 per cent This book analyses the longitudinal development of women's political representation in eight old democracies where women were enfranchised before and around World War I Denmark Iceland Germany The Netherlands New Jersey USA New South Wales Australia Sweden and the United Kingdom These countries states have all followed an incremental track model of change in women's position in political life but have followed different trajectories This slow development stands in contrast to recent examples of fast track development in many countries from the Global South not least as a result of the adoption of gender quotas Furthermore the book discusses in four separate chapters the common historical development in old democracies the different trajectories and sequences the framing of women politicians and the impact of party and party system change In this book an innovative model of male dominance is developed and defined in terms of both degree and scope Four stages are identified male monopoly small minority large minority and gender balance The book then reconceptualizes male dominance by looking at horizontal and vertical sex segregation in politics at male coded norms in the political workplace and at discourses of women as politicians According to the time lag theory gender balance in politics will gradually be achieved However this theory is challenged by recent stagnation and drops in women's representation in some of the old democracies A new concept of conditional irreversibility is developed in the final discussion about whether we are heading for gender balance in politics De vrouw

Het geval Hekse Falsema Daan Heerma van Voss, 2025-03-27 Het staat op ons netvlies gebrand hoe Sigrid Kaag werd opgewacht in haar tuin door een menigte met brandende fakkels. Helaas betrof deze uiting van haat geen incident maar een verontrustende trend gevoed door eeuwenoude misogynie. Waar komt onze haat voor vrouwelijke politici vandaan? Dat vraagt Daan Heerma van Voss zich af wanneer hij in een taxi een hekelbetoog over Hekse Falsema aanhoort. Wat brengen vrouwen op machtige posities zoals Femke Halsema, Sylvana Simons of Sigrid Kaag in mensen naar boven waardoor ze vervallen in haatdragende taal. In Het geval Hekse Falsema onderzoekt Heerma van Voss de wortels van deze haat aan de hand van interviews en historische bronnen. Zet hij een scherpe nieuwe theorie uiteen en laat hij zien hoe de groeiende haat onze democratie dreigt te vergiften? Women's Studies British Library, 1990 This volume records the proceedings of a recent colloquium organized by The British Library to survey resources available to Women's Studies researchers in the UK. The collected papers include a review of the state of Women's Studies in British Universities, an overview of British Library resources in Western and Oriental collections of printed books, newspapers, manuscripts and archival materials, a discussion of present and future collection development in the BL and other research libraries and the user perspective. With contributions from librarians, academics, writers and publishers, this colloquium records a survey of current trends and likely future developments in the subject. Jedida Albertus Samuel Alting, 1891
