Dignity and Human Rights Stephan P. Leher, 2018-01-12 Is it impossible to assess dignity the agency of autonomy and equality of rights under the current rule of law when we are met by global challenges like climate change financial crisis food crisis natural disasters inequality violent conflicts and trade disputes Drawing on European philosophical enlightenment to rethink dominant theories of contemporary Western Human Rights Stephan P Leher explores the philosophical foundation of the concept of dignity and Human Rights Using specific examples from Africa and Latin America to explain these concepts as social realizations in the world Leher demonstrates the link between justice and peace and contends that dignity freedom and Human Rights law rule are social realizations and claims by all people He argues that sentences and propositions about social choices and realizations of real life expressed in ordinary language constitutes the basic element for the foundation and protection of human dignity and Human Rights The social choice to claim one's freedom and right can be considered as the dignity agency of the individual Dignity and Human Rights sheds new light on the academic assessment of dignity the agency of autonomy and equality of rights under a rule of law in a time of changes and challenges of human rights policies and politics

Law, Technology and Society Roger Brownsword, 2019-02-18 This book considers the implications of the regulatory burden being borne increasingly by technological management rather than by rules of law If crime is controlled if human health and safety are secured if the environment is protected not by rules but by measures of technological management designed into products processes places and so on what should we make of this transformation In an era of smart regulatory technologies how should we understand the regulatory environment and the complexion of its regulatory signals How does technological management sit with the Rule of Law and with the traditional ideals of legality legal coherence and respect for liberty human rights and human dignity What is the future for the rules of criminal law torts and contract law are they likely to be rendered redundant How are human informational interests to be specified and protected Can traditional rules of law survive not only the emergent use of technological management but also a risk management mentality that pervades the collective engagement with new technologies Even if technological management is effective is it acceptable Are we ready for rule by technology Undertaking a radical examination of the disruptive effects of technology on the law and the legal mind set Roger Brownsword calls for a triple act of re imagination first re imagining legal rules as one element of a larger regulatory environment of which technological management is also a part secondly re imagining the Rule of Law as a constraint on the arbitrary exercise of power whether exercised through rules or through technological measures and thirdly re imagining the future of traditional rules of criminal law tort law and contract law

Christianity and Global Law Rafael Domingo, John Witte, Jr., 2020-03-31 This book explores both historical and contemporary Christian sources and dimensions of global law and includes critical perspectives from various religious and philosophical traditions Two dozen leading scholars discuss the constituent principles of this new global legal order historically comparatively and currently The first part uses a historical biographical approach to study a few of the major Christian architects of global law and transnational legal theory from St Paul to Jacques Maritain The second part distills the deep Christian sources and dimensions of the main principles of global law historically and today separating out the distinct Catholic Protestant and Orthodox Christian contributions as appropriate Finally the authors address a number of pressing global issues and challenges where a Christian informed legal perspective can and should have deep purchase and influence The work makes no claim that Christianity is the only historical shaper of global law nor that it should monopolize the theory and practice of global law today But the book does insist that Christianity as one of the world s great religions has deep norms and practices ideas and institutions prophets and procedures that can be of benefit as the world struggles to find global legal resources to confront humanity s greatest challenges The volume will be an essential resource for academics and researchers working in the areas of law and religion transnational law legal philosophy and legal history Kantian Ethics, Dignity and Perfection Paul Formosa, 2017-08-10 In this volume Paul Formosa sets out a novel approach to Kantian ethics as an ethics of dignity by focusing on the Formula of Humanity as a normative principle distinct from the Formula of Universal Law By situating the Kantian conception of dignity within the wider literature on dignity he develops an important distinction between status dignity which all rational agents have and achievement dignity which all rational agents should aspire to He then explores constructivist and realist views on the foundation of the dignity of rational agents before developing a compelling account of who does and does not have status dignity and of what kind of achievement dignity or virtue we as vulnerable rational agents can and should strive for His study will be highly valuable for those interested in Kant s ethical moral and political philosophies Migration and the European Convention on Human Rights , 2021-02-25 This edited collection investigates where the European Convention on Human Rights as a living instrument stands on migration and the rights of migrants This book offers a comprehensive analysis of cases brought by migrants in different stages of migration covering the right to flee who is entitled to enter and remain in Europe and what treatment is owed to them when they come within the jurisdiction of a Council of Europe member state As such the book evaluates the case law of the European Convention on Human Rights concerning different categories of migrants including asylum seekers irregular migrants those who have migrated through domestic lawful routes and those who are currently second or third generation migrants in Europe The broad perspective adopted by the book allows for a systematic analysis of how and to what extent the Convention protects non refoulement migrant children family rights of migrants status rights of migrants economic and social rights of migrants as well as cultural and religious rights of migrants Making Comparisons in Equality Law Robin Allen, 2020-10-08 This book seeks to rebalance the relationship between comparison and justification to achieve more effective equality and non discrimination law As one of the most distinguished equality lawyers of his generation having appeared in over 40 cases in the House of Lords and the Supreme Court and many leading cases in the Court of Justice Robin Allen QC is well placed to explore this critical issue He shows how the principle of equality is nothing if not founded on apt comparisons By examining the changing way men and women s work has been compared over the last 100 years he shows the importance of understanding the framework for comparison With these insights he addresses contemporary problems of age discrimination and conflict of equality rights

Litigating Religions Christopher McCrudden, 2018-01-19 Religions are a problem for human rights and human rights are a problem for religions And both are problems for courts This book presents an interpretation of how religion and human rights interrelate in the legal context and how this relationship might be reconceived to make this relationship somewhat less fraught Litigating Religions an essay adapted by Christopher McCrudden from the Alberico Gentili Lectures given at the University of Macerata Italy examines how the resurgent role of religion in public life gives rise to tensions with key aspects of human rights in particular freedom of religion and anti discrimination law and how these tensions cannot be considered as simply transitional The context for the discussion is the increasingly troubled area of human rights litigation involving religious arguments such as wearing religious dress at work conscientious objections by marriage registrars admission of children to religious schools prohibitions on same sex marriage and access to abortion Christopher McCrudden argues that if we wish to establish a better dialogue between the contending views we must address a set of recurring problems identifiable in such litigation To address these problems requires changes both in human rights theory and in religious understandings
