Unequal City Race Schools And Perceptions Of Injustice

Aaron G. Fountain Jr.

Unequal City Race Schools And Perceptions Of Injustice:

Unequal City Carla Shedd, 2015-10-20 Chicago has long struggled with racial residential segregation high rates of poverty and deepening class stratification and it can be a challenging place for adolescents to grow up Unequal City examines the ways in which Chicago's most vulnerable residents navigate their neighborhoods life opportunities and encounters with the law In this pioneering analysis of the intersection of race place and opportunity sociologist and criminal justice expert Carla Shedd illuminates how schools either reinforce or ameliorate the social inequalities that shape the worlds of these adolescents Shedd draws from an array of data and in depth interviews with Chicago youth to offer new insight into this understudied group Focusing on four public high schools with differing student bodies Shedd reveals how the predominantly low income African American students at one school encounter obstacles their more affluent white counterparts on the other side of the city do not face Teens often travel long distances to attend school which due to Chicago's segregated and highly unequal neighborhoods can involve crossing class race and gang lines As Shedd explains the disadvantaged teens who traverse these boundaries daily develop a keen perception of injustice or the recognition that their economic and educational opportunities are restricted by their place in the social hierarchy Adolescents worldviews are also influenced by encounters with law enforcement while traveling to school and during school hours Shedd tracks the rise of metal detectors surveillance cameras and pat downs at certain Chicago schools Along with police procedures like stop and frisk these prison like practices lead to distrust of authority and feelings of powerlessness among the adolescents who experience mistreatment either firsthand or vicariously Shedd finds that the racial composition of the student body profoundly shapes students perceptions of injustice The more diverse a school is the more likely its students of color will recognize whether they are subject to discriminatory treatment By contrast African American and Hispanic youth whose schools and neighborhoods are both highly segregated and highly policed are less likely to understand their individual and group disadvantage due to their lack of exposure to youth of differing backgrounds

Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation Austin Sarat, Charles J. Ogletree, 2017-10-24 The work at hand for bridging the racial divide in the United States From Baltimore and Ferguson to Flint and Charleston the dream of a post racial era in America has run up against the continuing reality of racial antagonism Current debates about affirmative action multiculturalism and racial hate speech reveal persistent uncertainty and ambivalence about the place and meaning of race and especially the black white divide in American culture They also suggest that the work of racial reconciliation remains incomplete Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation seeks to assess where we are in that work examining sources of continuing racial antagonism among blacks and whites It also highlights strategies that promise to promote racial reconciliation in the future Rather than revisit arguments about the importance of integration assimilation and reparations the contributors explore previously unconsidered perspectives on reconciliation between blacks and whites Chapters connect identity politics the rhetoric of race and difference the work of institutions and actors in those institutions and structural inequities in the lives of blacks and whites to our thinking about tolerance and respect Going beyond an assessment of the capacity of law to facilitate racial reconciliation Racial Reconciliation and the Healing of a Nation challenges readers to examine social political cultural and psychological issues that fuel racial antagonism as well as the factors that might facilitate racial reconciliation

Cutting School Noliwe Rooks, 2020-03-03 2018 Zora Neale Hurston Richard Wright Legacy Award Nonfiction Finalist A timely indictment of the corporate takeover of education and the privatization and profitability of separate and unequal schools published at a critical time in the dismantling of public education in America An astounding look at America s segregated school system weaving together historical dynamics of race class and growing inequality into one concise and commanding story Cutting School puts our schools at the center of the fight for a new commons Naomi Klein author of No Is Not Enough and This Changes Everything Public schools are among America s greatest achievements in modern history yet from the earliest days of tax supported education today a sector with an estimated budget of over half a billion dollars there have been intractable tensions tied to race and poverty Now in an era characterized by levels of school segregation the country has not seen since the mid twentieth century cultural critic and American studies professor Noliwe Rooks provides a trenchant analysis of our separate and unequal schools and argues that profiting from our nation s failure to provide a high quality education to all children has become a very big business Cutting School deftly traces the financing of segregated education in America from reconstruction through Brown v Board of Education up to the current controversies around school

choice teacher quality the school to prison pipeline and more to elucidate the course we are on today the wholesale privatization of our schools Rooks's incisive critique breaks down the fraught landscape of segrenomics showing how experimental solutions to the so called achievement gaps including charters vouchers and cyber schools rely on profit from and ultimately exacerbate disturbingly high levels of racial and economic segregation under the guise of providing equal opportunity Rooks chronicles the making and unmaking of public education and the disastrous impact of funneling public dollars to private for profit and nonprofit operations As the infrastructure crumbles a number of major U S cities are poised to permanently dismantle their public school systems the very foundation of our multicultural democracy Yet Rooks finds hope and promise in the inspired individuals and powerful movements fighting to save urban schools A comprehensive compelling account of what's truly at stake in the relentless push to deregulate and privatize Cutting School is a cri de coeur for all of us to resist educational apartheid in America

The Sociology of Education Jeanne Ballantine, Jenny Stuber, Judson Everitt, 2021-07-29 The ninth edition of The Sociology of Education examines the field in rare breadth by incorporating a diverse range of theoretical approaches and a distinct sociological lens in its overview of education and schooling Education is changing rapidly just as the social forces outside of schools are and to present the material in a meaningful way the authors of this book provide a unifying framework an open systems approach to illustrate how the issues and structures we find in education are all interconnected Separate chapters are devoted to how schools help shape who has access to educational opportunities and who does not issues of race class and gender the organization of schools and the roles that make up educational settings and more Throughout the book readers will have an opportunity to engage with theories and issues that are discussed and to apply their newly obtained understanding in response to emerging and persistent problems in the educational system The new edition continues to be a critical point of reference for students interested in exploring the social context of education and the role education has in shaping our society It is perfect for sociology of education and social foundations of education courses at the undergraduate or early graduate level

Marking the "Invisible" Andrea M. Hawkman, Sarah B. Shear, 2020-04-01 Substantial research has been put forth calling for the field of social studies education to engage in work dealing with the influence of race and racism within education and society Branch 2003 Chandler 2015 Chandler Husband 2010 King Ladson Billings 2003 Ooka Pang Rivera Ladson Billings 2003 Woyshner Bohan 2012 In order to challenge the presence of racism within social studies research must attend to the control that whiteness and white supremacy maintain within the field This edited volume builds from these previous works to take on whiteness and white supremacy directly in social studies education In Marking the Invisible editors assemble original contributions from scholars working to expose whiteness and disrupt white supremacy in the field of social studies education We argue for an articulation of whiteness within the field of social studies education in pursuit of directly challenging its influences on teaching learning and research Across 27 chapters authors call out the strategies deployed by white supremacy and acknowledge the depths by

Live to See the Day Nikhil Goyal, 2023-08-22 An indelible portrait of three children struggling to survive in the poorest neighborhood of the poorest large city in America Kensington Philadelphia is distinguished only by its poverty It is home to Ryan Giancarlos and Emmanuel three Puerto Rican children who live among the most marginalized families in the United States This is the story of their coming of age which is beset by violence the violence of homelessness hunger incarceration stray bullets sexual and physical assault the hypermasculine logic of the streets and the drug trade In Kensington eighteenth birthdays are not rites of passage but statistical miracles One mistake drives Ryan out of middle school and into the juvenile justice pipeline For Emmanuel his queerness means his mother s rejection and sleeping in shelters School closures and budget cuts inspire Giancarlos to lead walkouts which get him kicked out of the system Although all three are high school dropouts they are on a quest to defy their fate and their neighborhood and get high school diplomas In a triumph of empathy and drawing on nearly a decade of reporting sociologist and policymaker Nikhil Goyal follows Ryan Giancarlos and Emmanuel on their mission plunging deep into their lives as they strive to resist their designated place in the social hierarchy In the process Live to See the Day confronts a new age of American poverty after the end of welfare as we know it after zero tolerance in schools criminalized a generation of students after the odds of making it out are ever slighter

Racial/Ethnic Equity and School Safety Anthony A. Peguero, Patricia Campie, Maury Nation, 2025-06-20 This book highlights the intimate connection between racial ethnic equity and school and community safety the consequences of current inequities and establishes the way forward in terms of future research policy and practice School safety has taken on increased urgency as the United States educational systems families and students grapple with the residual effects of a public health pandemic that kept students out of classrooms and away from critical supportive services It is increasingly important to center the investigation understanding and policy implementations that highlight the correlates root causes and consequences of racial ethnic inequality in the pursuit of school safety This book addresses a range of aspects impacting racial ethnic equity and school safety all of which is being shaped by a growing population of diverse youth The chapters in this volume touch on family schools neighborhoods and communities however common to all of these chapters is an understanding of the challenges barriers consequences and importance of connecting minoritized students to provide opportunities and protection Thus each of these chapters takes care to identify points for intervention suggestions for policy and promising directions for future research Each study featured in this book stands out for its original and noteworthy contribution to the literature on the significance of race ethnicity in regard to school safety research Future research should further expand our understanding of equity school safety and justice for one of the fastest growing segments of the population racial ethnic minority youth The growing number of racial ethnic minority youth present both a challenge and an opportunity for increasingly diverse societies communities and schools This book was originally published as a special issue of Journal of School Violence

High School Students Unite! Aaron G. Fountain Jr., 2025-12-02

Mid twentieth century student activism is a pivotal chapter in American history While college activism has been well documented the equally vital contributions of high school students have often been overlooked Only recently have scholars begun to recognize the transformative role teenagers played in reshaping American education High School Students Unite highlights the crucial impact of high school activists in the 1960s and 1970s Inspired by civil rights and antiwar movements students across the nation demanded a voice in their education by organizing sit ins walkouts and strikes From cities such as San Francisco and Chicago to smaller towns such as Jonesboro Georgia these young leaders fought for curricula that reflected their evolving worldviews Drawing on archival research and interviews Aaron G Fountain Jr reveals how teenagers became powerful agents of change advocating for constitutional rights and influencing school reform Ironically the modernization of school security including police presence was partly a response to these student led movements Through oral histories and FBI records this fascinating history offers a fresh perspective on high school activism and its lasting impact on American education

Redistributing the Poor Armando Lara-Millán, 2021

Whenever the topic of large jails and public hospitals in urban America is raised a single idea comes to mind It is widely believed that because we as a society have disinvested from public health the sick and poor now find themselves within the purview of criminal justice institutions In Redistributing the Poor ethnographer and historical sociologist Armando Lara Mill n takes us into the day to day operations of running the largest hospital and jail system in the world and argues that such received wisdom is a drastic mischaracterization of the way that states govern urban poverty at the turn of the 21st century Rather than focus on our underinvestment of health and overinvestment of criminal justice his idea of redistributing the poor draws attention to how state agencies circulate people between different institutional spaces in such a way that generates revenue for some agencies cuts costs for others and projects illusions that services have been legally rendered By centering the state s use of redistribution Lara Mill n shows how certain forms of social suffering the premature death of mainly poor people of color are not a result of the state s failure to act but instead the necessary outcome of so called successful policy

College Students of Immigrant Origin Blake R. Silver, Graziella Pagliarulo McCarron, 2024-05-23 Explores the higher educational journeys of students of immigrant origin providing policy practice and research implications

The Color of Civics Matthew D. Nelsen, 2023 Generations of Americans dating back to the nation's founding have regarded schools as essential for developing the knowledge and civic values necessary for sustaining democracy Yet as Matthew D Nelsen argues in The Color of Civics traditional approaches to civic education are not living up to their promise for many students particularly students of color from disadvantaged communities How do we prepare an increasingly diverse generation of Americans for full participation in public life Drawing on lessons from students and teachers in Chicago The Color of Civics reimagines the democratic purpose of civic education Nelsen's findings challenge some of the most widely cited civic education research arguing that the content of traditional civic education courses privileges the political experiences of white political actors and in turn contributes to divergent political behaviors and participatory outcomes across racial and ethnic groups He presents a new approach to civic education that aims to foster political empowerment by centering historically grounded conversations about current events as well as critical categories of knowledge those that highlight the agency and grassroots political action of marginalized groups This approach increases rates of intended political participation among young people of color and heightens political empathy among white youth Nelsen also highlights the agency of teachers in processes of socialization exploring how their attitudes and lived experiences drive the implementation of more empowering civic learning environments By taking the histories and lived experiences of marginalized communities seriously The Color of Civics asserts that civics courses can become spaces where young people begin to recognize their own agency develop empathy and define the terms of their own political participation Including novel empirical research and an evidence based analysis Nelsen provides practical and useful advice for policymakers that cuts through the noise to focus on what works

Scripting the Moves Joanne W. Golann, 2025-03-18 An inside look at a no excuses charter school that reveals this educational model's strengths and weaknesses and how its approach shapes students

Silent single file lines Detention for putting a head on a desk Rules for how to dress how to applaud how to complete homework Walk into some of the most acclaimed urban schools today and you will find similar recipes of behavior designed to support student achievement But what do these scripts accomplish Immersing readers inside a no excuses charter school Scripting the Moves offers a telling window into an expanding model of urban education reform Through interviews with students teachers administrators and parents and analysis of documents and data Joanne Golann reveals that such schools actually dictate too rigid a level of social control for both teachers and their predominantly low income Black and Latino students Despite good intentions scripts constrain the development of important interactional skills and reproduce some of the very inequities they mean to disrupt Golann presents a fascinating sometimes painful account of how no excuses schools use scripts to regulate students and teachers She shows why scripts were adopted what purposes they serve and where they fall short What emerges is a complicated story of the benefits of scripts but also their limitations in cultivating the tools students need to navigate college and other complex social institutions tools such as flexibility initiative and ease with adults Contrasting scripts with tools Golann raises essential questions about what constitutes cultural capital and how this capital might be effectively taught Illuminating and accessible Scripting the Moves delves into the troubling realities behind current education reform and reenvisions what it takes to prepare students for long term success Intersectionality and Higher Education W. Carson Byrd, Rachelle J. Brunn-Bevel, Sarah M. Ovink, 2019-05-03 Though colleges and universities are arguably paying more attention to diversity and inclusion than ever before to what extent do their efforts result in more socially just campuses This book examines how race ethnicity class gender sexuality sexual orientation age disability nationality and other identities connect to produce intersected campus experiences Transforming Education Quintin Shepherd, 2024-01-26 Transforming Education Building Foundations for Systemic Change and Empowered Communities provides an engaging and pragmatic roadmap for transformational change in education systems Written for school superintendents and board members it unveils a five step theory of action that enables lasting systemic reforms Dr Shepherd intertwines theoretical knowledge with real life case studies guiding leaders through comprehensive strategic planning engaging stakeholders fostering a culture of continuous improvement leveraging resources and implementing innovative policies Central to the discourse is the idea of viewing school districts as dynamic ecosystems that can be shaped for optimal learning outcomes By developing robust systemic architectures the book empowers leaders to facilitate educational transformations that transcend the transactional changes often witnessed in school districts This book is a transformative tool for those daring to reimagine the future of education Education in a New Society Jal Mehta, Scott Davies, 2018-04-26 In recent decades sociology of education has been dominated by quantitative analyses of race class and gender gaps in educational achievement And while there s no question that such work is important it leaves a lot of other fruitful areas of inquiry unstudied This book takes that problem seriously considering the way the field has developed since the 1960s and arguing powerfully for its renewal The sociology of education the contributors show largely works with themes concepts and theories that were generated decades ago even as both the actual world of education and the discipline of sociology have changed considerably The moment has come they argue to break free of the past and begin asking new questions and developing new programs of empirical study Both rallying cry and road map Education in a New Society will galvanize the field Kindergarten Panic Bailey A. Brown, 2025-08-19 How school choice reproduces inequality by creating gendered and socioeconomic decision making labor for parents School choice policies have proliferated in recent years with parents forced to navigate complex admission processes In New York City families have more options than ever before but the search for the right school has proven to be time consuming painstaking and anxiety provoking work In Kindergarten Panic Bailey Brown examines the experiences of parents as they search for elementary schools finding that socioeconomic inequalities and persistent disparities in resources information access and decision making power contribute to broad variation in how families develop and manage their school choice labor strategies The labor that parents invest in searching for schools is unevenly distributed and shaped by gender socioeconomic background and neighborhood contexts Drawing on interviews with more than a hundred parents of elementary school students in New York City Brown shows how inequality manifests itself as parents and students deal with the uncertainties of the school choice process By conceptualizing school decision making as labor she makes visible the often unseen work that goes into making educational decisions for children Brown argues that recognizing school choice as labor both deepens our theoretical understanding of the challenges families confront and identifies vast disparities in parents labor across socioeconomic and gender divisions If parents continue to be charged with searching for schools we must take seriously how school choice policies reproduce the kind of inequality they are intended to reduce and we must invest in providing equitable access to high quality public schooling for all families Advances in Experimental Social Psychology
