questions in a book that urges us to recover a death of our own and to view our final years as a fulfillment a last career Despite the recent spate of books on death and dying death remains a fact our culture tries desperately to ignore In other times and in other cultures preparing for death was seen as an important spiritual task perhaps the most important task of our lives Heinz argues that we can reconceive of death reinvest it with meaning and save it from becoming a meaningless biological event Seeking appropriate models for such a reconstruction Heinz offers a fascinating overview of the many ways death has been envisioned and ritualized throughout human history from the Tibetan Book of the Dead to 15th century Christian ars moriendi manuals on the art of dying and from Jean Paul Sartre to Elizabeth Kubler Ross He also surveys the more recent contributions of psychologists anthropologists cultural critics and death awareness advocates whose efforts have largely failed to integrate death into a larger human story and the larger human community Finally Heinz shows us how we might create rituals through the use of music visual arts dance drama and language that would enable us to approach death with reverence as the spiritual consummation of our lives
