Status and Sacredness Murray Milner,1994 Status and Sacredness provides a new theory of status and sacral relationships and a provocative reinterpretation of the Indian caste system and Hinduism Milner shows how in India and many other social contexts status is a key resource and that sacredness can be usefully understood as a special form of status By analyzing the nature of this resource Milner is able to provide powerful explanations of the key features of the social structure culture and religion He argues against the widely held view that the Indian caste system is best understood as a unique cultural development demonstrating that many of the seemingly exotic features are variations on themes common to other societies Milner s analysis is rooted in a new theoretical framework called resource structuralism that helps to clarify the nature and significance of power and symbolic capital The book thus provides a bold new analysis of India an innovative approach to the analysis of religion and an important contribution to social theory

The Self as Symbolic Space Carol Newsom, 2018-11-01 This volume investigates critical practices by which the Qumran community constituted itself as a sectarian society Key to the formation of the community was the reconstruction of the identity of individual members In this way the self became an important symbolic space for the development of the ideology of the sect Persons who came to experience themselves in light of the narratives and symbolic structures embedded in the community practices would have developed the dispositions of affinity and estrangement necessary for the constitution of a sectarian society Drawing on various theories of discourse and practice in rhetoric philosophy and anthropology the book examines the construction of the self in two central documents the Serek ha Yahad and the Hodayot

A Realist Theory of Art History Ian Verstegen, 2013-01-03 As the theoretical alignments within academia shift this book introduces a surprising variety of realism to abolish the old positivist theory dichotomy that has haunted Art History Demanding frankly the referential detachment of the objects under study the book proposes a stratified multi causal account of art history that addresses postmodern concerns while saving it from its errors of self refutation Building from the very basic distinction between intransitive being and transitive knowing objects can be affirmed as real while our knowledge of them is held to be fallible Several focused chapters address basic problems while introducing philosophical reflection into art history These include basic ontological distinctions between society and culture general and special history the discontinuity of cultural objects the importance of definition for special history scales facets and fiat objects as forms of historical structure the nature of evidence and proof historical truth and controversies Stressing Critical Realism as the stratified multi causal approach needed for productive research today in the academy this book creates the subject of the ontology of art history and sets aside a theoretical space for metaphysical reflection thus clarifying the usually muddy distinction between theory methodology and historiography in art history

The Rhetoric of Emotions Robert Perinbanayagam, 2017-07-05 Kenneth Burke founder of the critical method of dramatism believed that motives and attitudes are constantly generated by individuals as they encounter social situations and material objects in the course of their everyday lives In The Rhetoric of Emotions Robert Perinbanayagam proposes that by analysing individuals experiences especially through their interaction with creative outlets we can come to a deeper understanding of how the human mind systematically approaches the emotive process The author maintains that individuals use spoken language and all other forms of symbolism including art and literature to elicit social cooperation and emotional understanding both in regard to the world around them and within themselves Rhetoric and culture are mechanisms for managing values behaviour and emotions In order to ground this philosophical viewpoint Perinbanayagam strategically discusses famous novels and paintings to show how individuals construct emotional responses to the rhetorical objects at their disposal. In addition to the ideas of Burke and George Herbert Mead, the ideas of Max Weber, Georg Simmel, Charles Sanders Peirce, Edmund Husserl, Alfred Schutz, and Erving Goffman are also reflected in this provocative analysis.
