The Sensing Body in the Visual Arts Rosalyn Driscoll,2020-09-17 This book provides original grounds for integrating the bodily somatic senses into our understanding of how we make and engage with visual art Rosalyn Driscoll a visual artist who spent years making tactile haptic sculpture shows how touch can deepen what we know through seeing and even serve as a genuine alternative to sight Driscoll explores the basic elements of the somatic senses investigating the differences between touch and sight the reciprocal nature of touch and the centrality of motion and emotion Awareness of the somatic senses offers rich aesthetic and perceptual possibilities for art making and appreciation which will be of use for students of fine art museum studies art history and sensory studies Extreme Fear, Shyness, and Social Phobia Louis A. Schmidt, Jay Schulkin, 1999-09-02 Extreme Fear Shyness and Social Phobia assembles a stellar group of researchers to discuss the origins development and outcomes of extreme fear and shyness By selecting the foremost experts from disparate fields the editors provide a thorough and timely examination of the subject and present state of the art research for psychologists neuroscientists and clinicians interested in the development and outcome of these emotions in mental health This book is divided into three parts Part I investigates the development of fear and shyness in childhood Part II examines the endocrine and neural bases of fear and Part III provides clinical perspectives As well this is one of the only books available to cover the development and outcomes of extreme fear and shyness explain the basic neuroscience of fear and document the clinical outcomes of social phobia Nonverbal Communication Judee K Burgoon, Valerie Manusov, Laura K. Guerrero, 2021-09-06 The newly revised edition of this groundbreaking textbook provides a comprehensive overview of the theory research and applications of nonverbal communication Authored by three of the foremost scholars in the field and drawing on multidisciplinary research from communication studies psychology linguistics and family studies Nonverbal Communication speaks to today's students with modern examples that illustrate nonverbal communication in their lived experiences It emphasizes nonverbal codes as well as the functions they perform to help students see how nonverbal cues work with one another and with the verbal system through which we create and understand messages and shows how consequential nonverbal means of communicating are in people's lives Chapters cover the social and biological foundations of nonverbal communication as well as the expression of emotions interpersonal conversation deception power and influence This edition includes new content on Influencing Others as well as a revised chapter on Displaying Identities Managing Images and Forming Impressions that combines identity impression management and person perception Nonverbal Communication serves as a core textbook for undergraduate and graduate courses in communication and psychology Online resources for instructors including an extensive instructor's manual with sample exercises and a test bank are available at www.routledge.com 9780367557386 The Tell Matthew Hertenstein, 2013-11-12 Every day we make predictions based on limited information in business and at home Will this company's stock performance continue Will the job candidate I just interviewed be a good employee What kind of adult will my child grow up to be We tend to dismiss our predictive minds as prone to bias and mistakes but in The Tell psychologist Matthew Hertenstein reveals that our intuition is surprisingly good at using small clues to make big predictions and shows how we can make better decisions by homing in on the right details Just as expert poker players use their opponents tells to see through their bluffs Hertenstein shows that we can likewise train ourselves to read physical cues to significantly increase our predictive acumen By looking for certain clues we can accurately call everything from election results to the likelihood of marital success IQ scores to sexual orientation even from flimsy evidence such as an old yearbook photo or a silent one minute video Moreover by understanding how people read our body language we can adjust our own behavior so as to ace our next job interview or tip the dating scales in our favor Drawing on rigorous research in psychology and brain science Hertenstein shows us how to hone our powers of observation to increase our predictive capacities A charming testament to the power of the human mind The Tell will to paraphrase Sherlock Holmes show us how to notice what we see
