Tourism in Latin America

Cases of Success

This book presents ten case studies of success about Latin America tourism. The cases are embedded in a framework describing the economic and cultural foundations of tourism development in the continent. Mexico, Brazil, Chile and Costa Rica are some of the Latin countries which have become examples and models for tourism development, respect for the environment and social inclusion. The book documents some of the best practices, along with an analysis of how these practices helped improving the environmental and social surroundings and how returns on investments has been assessed. Latin America is shown as an excellent example, with the Green Domestic Product of the continent expanding intensely in the tertiary sector (like leisure, hospitality, travel, tourism, entertainment, gastronomy, events and culture and outdoor recreation). This book is a valuable resource both for professionals in the tourism industry and for researchers in tourism management.
