Trademark Law And Policy Third Edition:

Trademark Law and Policy Kenneth L. Port, 2013 The Third Edition of this full length treatment of the law of trademarks in the United States begins by presenting a thorough discussion of why we protect trademarks It delves into the theoretical justifications that support trademark protection including law and economics notions of freedom of competition and cultural justifications The book is unique in the field in that it presents trademark infringement early rather than later in the semester The idea behind making infringement an early subject is that all of trademark law was originally a common law subject As such it was all judge made and cases arose only when someone sued someone else for trademark infringement Congress stated that the Lanham Act America s trademark law was a codification of the common law of trademarks Therefore the law of trademarks is put in the correct historical and theoretical justification Additional chapters focus on obtaining trademark rights retention of trademark rights registration of trademark rights and loss of trademark rights This Third Edition also provides an updated education on the current status of Trademark Dilution Law and the new and various causes of action regarding domain names No other textbook on the market provides such comprehensive coverage of these two timely topics in Trademark Law

Ownership of Knowledge Dagmar Schafer,Annapurna Mamidipudi,Marius Buning,2023-07-18 A framework for knowledge ownership that challenges the mechanisms of inequality in modern society Scholars of science technology medicine and law have all tended to emphasize knowledge as the sum of human understanding and its ownership as possession by law Breaking with traditional discourse on knowledge property as something that concerns mainly words and intellectual history or science and law Dagmar Sch fer Annapurna Mamidipudi and Marius Buning propose technology as a central heuristic for studying the many implications of knowledge ownership Toward this end they focus on the notions of knowledge and ownership in courtrooms workshops policy and research practices while also shedding light on scholarship itself as a powerful tool for making explicit the politics inherent in knowledge practices and social order The book presents case studies showing how diverse knowledge economies are created and how inequalities arise from them Unlike scholars who have fragmented this discourse across the disciplines of anthropology sociology and history the editors highlight recent developments in the emerging field of the global history of knowledge as science as economy and as culture The case studies reveal how notions of knowing and owning emerge because they reciprocally produce and determine each other s limits and possibilities that is how we know inevitably affects how we can own what we know and how we own always impacts how and what we are able to know Contributors Dagmar Sch fer Annapurna Mamidipudi Cynthia Brokaw Marius Buning Viren Murthy Marjolijn Bol Amy E Slaton James Leach Myles W Jackson Lissant Bolton Vivek S Oak J rn Oeder
