Education in Canada Helen McKenzie, Canada. Library of Parliament. Research Branch, 1994 As the basis of wealth in developed nations shifts from natural resources and manufacturing to knowledge achieving higher levels of popular education becomes increasingly important In Canada as in many other countries there is concern that the existing education systems are not adequately meeting the challenges of the complex modern world This concern persists despite the fact that Canada's post secondary enrollment rates are among the highest in the world This paper briefly discusses the practice responsibilities and limitations of the federal government in educational matters and some of the major public concerns with respect to accessibility quality and funding

Completing the GATT Uruguay Round Nicholas Hopkinson, 1993

The New Protectionism Tim Lang, Colin Hines, 1993 This monograph questions the benefits of free trade arguing that far from promoting prosperity for all those involved free trade only serves a narrow range of interests primarily for the large corporations who conduct it The authors claim that the consequences of present arrangements and those promised under the new GATT agreement will increase the difference between the world's rich and poor and accelerate the destruction of the global environment The authors suggest instead that trading arrangements should emphasize regional self sufficiency and the overall amount of trade should be reduced
