The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling John Rowan, 2014-02-25 The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling presents a revealing and stimulating account of the current state of training that demonstrates how training will have to adapt if it is to sucessfully meet the needs and challenges of the future In an attempt to look afresh at the whole question of training John Rowan proposes that there are three ways of doing therapy and any examination of training has to consider each of these the instrumental where the main emphasis is on the treating the client or patient the authentic way where the main emphasis is on meeting the client or patient the transpersonal way where main emphasis is on linking with the client in a more personal way Each approach makes different assumptions about the self about the relationship and about the level of consciousness involved in doing therapy By challenging the basic precepts of traditional training John Rowan encourages the reader to reconsider subjects including the difference between counselling and psychotherapy culture and ethics the origins of disturbance in clients and child development The Future of Training in Psychotherapy and Counselling provides a much needed new perspective that will compel all psychotherapists and counsellors to take a closer look at training in the field An Integrative Approach to Therapy and Supervision Mary Harris, Anne Brockbank, 2011-07-15 This book presents an innovative model for therapy and supervision It draws on ideas from the psychological traditions of Transactional Analysis Gestalt theory and Cognitive Behavioural Therapy to develop an integrated approach to working with clients and to developing a supervisor supervisee relationship that can adapt to suit individual needs Communication Harmony Karen Phillip, 2019-08-13 The direction of many of our conversations can be changed quickly when you know how Once you learn to lead the conversation others will follow ensuring your discussion is productive rather than explosive These skills can be used anywhere with anyone They calm the conversation and put the focus on the solution instead of the problem The Therapist'S Use Of Self Rowan, John, Jacobs, Michael, 2002-10-01 This book deals with what is perhaps the central question in therapy who is the therapist And how does that actually come across and manifest itself in the therapeutic relationship A good deal of the thinking about this in psychoanalysis has come under the heading of countertransference Much of the thinking in the humanistic approaches has come under such headings as empathy genuineness nonpossessive warmth presence personhood Handbook of LGBT-affirmative Couple and Family Therapy Jerry J. Bigner, Joseph L. Wetchler, 2012 Handbook of LGBT Affirmative Couple and Family Therapy provides a comprehensive and specific overview spanning thirty chapters of the diverse and complex issues involved in LGBT couple and family therapy
