Trade Liberalization In Sri Lanka:

Trade Liberalisation in Sri Lanka Ganeshan Wignaraja, 1998-04-12 The East Asian experience suggests that technological development is fundamental to export success in outward oriented economies This study analyses export performance in Sri Lanka at a national and firm level focusing on the acquisition of industrial technological capabilities during a period of trade liberalization It compares Sri Lanka's record with Korea Taiwan and Thailand Analysis of the export and technological record of enterprises of varying performance highlights the policies which enhance competitiveness in developing and transition economies

Impediments to Trade Liberalization in Sri Lanka Deepak Lal, Sarath Rajapatirana, 1989 Trade Liberalization in Sri Lanka Ganeshan Wignaraja, 1998 Trade Liberalisation in Sri Lanka Ganeshan Wignaraja, 1998-02-16

The East Asian experience suggests that technological development is fundamental to export success in outward oriented economies This study analyses export performance in Sri Lanka at a national and firm level focusing on the acquisition of industrial technological capabilities during a period of trade liberalization It compares Sri Lanka's record with Korea Taiwan and Thailand Analysis of the export and technological record of enterprises of varying performance highlights the policies which enhance competitiveness in developing and transition economies

Trade Liberalization in Sri Lanka H.M.S.P. Herath, 2014 This paper examines the process of Sri Lanka's trade liberalization and its impact on exports and imports The primary objective of the study is to estimate impact of trade liberalization on exports and imports of Sri Lanka Secondary data is used to estimate effects of trade liberalization on exports and imports for the period from 1970 to 2011 In estimating impacts of trade liberalization on export and import sectors total time period is divided into two sub periods of before trade liberalization i.e 1970-1977 and after trade liberalization i.e 1977-2011 The study mainly employs simple and multiple regression models to disentangle trade effects The main empirical results suggest that total exports and imports have grown at a higher rate during the closed economic era than in the open economic era Further the study finds that trade liberalization has increased imports by more than exports in Sri Lanka

Trade Liberalisation and Poverty in South Asia Prema-chandra Athukorala, Jayatilleke S. Bandara, Saman Kelegama, 2012-05-23 The link between trade liberalisation and poverty has arguably been one of the most debated topics in development policy debate Existing studies on the subject have primarily used multi country cross sectional data and there is a growing concern about the limitations of this approach in providing a sound empirical basis for informing the policy debate These limitations point to the need for undertaking in depth analyses within individual countries over time In order to examine the connection between trade liberalisation and poverty this book provides case studies of trade policy reforms and poverty reduction outcomes of seven countries in South Asia Bangladesh Bhutan India Maldives Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka The South Asia region allows for an excellent comparative study given the widespread emphasis on liberalisation reforms in the region over the past two decades as well as highlighting significant inter country differences in terms of the timing and comprehensiveness of reforms and the heavy concentration of world poverty in the region This book is a useful contribution to studies on South Asia as well as International Trade and Development Economics Global Rice and Agricultural Trade Liberalisation Mohammad A. Razzaque, Edwin Laurent, 2008 The liberalisation of trade in rice is likely to have huge welfare implications for countries dependent on its production and trade This book explores the poverty and welfare implications of this liberalisation for India Bangladesh Pakistan and Sri Lanka and identifies the effects on different groups within rice dependent developing countries Trade Policy and Industrialization in Turbulent Times Gerald K. Helleiner, 1994 With the relationship between trade policy and industrialization coming in for increasingly close scrutiny this book assesses how far trade policy has promoted economic growth in fourteen developing countries in the 1970s and 1980s Trade and Regional Integration in South Asia Selim Raihan, Prabir De, 2020-04-27 Gathering contributions from leading academics and international trade experts from South Asia this book is dedicated to the late Dr Saman Kelegma whose untimely death in June 2017 left a huge void in the field of regional economic cooperation Keeping in mind his enduring legacy regarding regional cooperation in South Asia it covers issues related to the challenges of deeper regional integration in South Asia and proposes strategies to address these challenges It also offers an up to date rigorous academic analysis of various issues related to low intra regional trade in South Asia prevalence of tariff barriers incidence of a range of non tariff measures challenges of weak trade related infrastructure and the need for trade facilitation the political economics of regional integration highlighting how bilateral political relations affect the integration process low level of intra regional investment South Asia s pattern of integration with the global and regional value chains pattern and dominance of informal trade and alternative regional integration initiatives in South Asia such as the bilateral regional and sub regional trade agreements within and countries outside this region Intended primarily for researchers and students of international trade and policymakers from South Asia and beyond the book is also a valuable supplementary reference resource for researchers and students Furthermore the pragmatic analysis of the policy options presented offers guidance for policymakers in South Asia wanting to implement effective policies and strategies for deeper regional integration Trade Liberalisation and Regional Disparity in Pakistan Muhammad Shoaib Butt, Jayatilleke S. Bandara, 2008-12-04 Pakistan s military which has directly controlled the country s affairs for more than half of its post independence history and which often retained real political power even during periods of democratic rule has played a significant role in trade liberalisation Regional disparities have increased since the beginning of major trade liberalisation attempts in the 1980s and at present regional conflicts and the associated regional disparities are extremely high The authors critically review the country s post independence political economy of trade liberalisation the resulting structural change and the story of regional disparities identifying possible relations with political regimes Using a regional computable general equilibrium CGE model the effects of trade liberalisation on regional disparities are quantitatively examined with an emphasis on the key export industries at a national level and on the relative output and employment growth at a regional level In the first study to distinguish a possible link between trade liberalisation and regional disparities under dissimilar political regimes such as autocracy and democracy Butt and Bandara use Pakistan as a case study to draw broader lessons for other developing countries This book will be of interest to academics economists political analysts and policymakers interested in development economics in general and South Asia in particular
