Tshwane South College Application For 2015:

Research Methods for Educational Leadership and Management Musundire, Austin, 2025-05-13 Various research methods including action case study and experimental research can be tailored for educational leadership and management. Different research designs, data collection techniques and data analysis methods have differing strengths, weaknesses and challenges. As a result, it is crucial to develop the skills and confidence needed to conduct high quality research. Developing a deeper understanding of how to conduct rigorous research may consequently foster more effective and innovative research leading to improved educational policies, practices and outcomes. Research Methods for Educational Leadership and Management illustrates how these methods can be effectively applied to address issues in educational leadership and management. It promotes best practices in educational research by highlighting ethical considerations, addressing common challenges and providing strategies for overcoming these obstacles. Covering topics such as equity, employment practices, high performance culture and professional competencies, this book is an excellent resource for educational leaders, school managers, school administrators, policymakers, researchers, professionals, scholars, academicians and more. ECEL2015-14th European Conference on e-Learning, Amanda Jefferies and Marija Cubric, 2015-10-13. These Proceedings represent the work of contributors to the 14th European Conference on e Learning ECEL 2015, hosted this year by the University of Hertfordshire, Hatfield, UK, on 29-30 October 2015. The Conference and Programme Co Chairs are Professor Amanda Jefferies and Dr Marija Cubric, both from the University of Hertfordshire. The conference will be opened with a keynote address by Professor Patrick McAndrew, Director, Institute of Educational Technology, Open University, UK, with a talk on 'Innovating for learning: designing for the future of education'. On the second day, the keynote will be delivered by Professor John Traxler, University of Wolverhampton, UK, on the subject of 'Mobile Learning: No Longer Just e Learning with Mobiles'. ECEL provides a valuable platform for individuals to present their research findings, display their work in progress and discuss conceptual advances in many different branches of e Learning. At the same time, it provides an important opportunity for members of the EL community to come together with peers, share knowledge and exchange ideas. With an initial submission of 169 abstracts, after the double blind peer review process, there are 86 academic papers, 16 PhD Papers, 5 Work in Progress papers and 1 non academic paper in these Conference Proceedings. These papers reflect the truly global nature of research in the area, with contributions from Algeria, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Botswana, Canada, Chile, Coventry, Czech Republic, Denmark, Egypt, England, Estonia, France, Germany, Ireland, Japan, Kazakhstan, New Zealand, Nigeria, Norway, Oman, Portugal, Republic of Kazakhstan, Romania, Saudi Arabia, Scotland, Singapore, South Africa, Sweden, the Czech Republic, Turkey, Uganda, UK, United Arab Emirates, UK and USA, Zimbabwe. A selection of papers, those agreed by a panel of reviewers and the editor, will be published in a special conference edition of the EJEL Electronic Journal of e Learning www.ejel.org. The Future of Entrepreneurship in Africa Anthony Abiodun Eniola, Chux Gervase Iwu, Abdullah Promise Opute, 2022-12-30. For many years entrepreneurship has been considered as one of the most important solutions to the three pronged challenges poverty unemployment and inequality of most African countries A recent development that has undoubtedly compounded the challenges that African entrepreneurs face and further impede the economic growth impact is Covid 19 This pandemic has exerted severe damage to economies and businesses globally For the African setting the implications of Covid 19 on businesses and individuals would be enormous as African societies are rarely equipped to absorb unexpected shocks of this magnitude as the social and welfare schemes are far below requirements This book illuminates entrepreneurship in the African setting focusing on the prospects challenges and the post Covid 19 pandemic future It aims to offer a rich repository of information on strategies and techniques for sustaining entrepreneurial activities that can enrich African nations and will be of relevance to academics researchers advanced students entrepreneurs governments and government agencies who are interested in understanding issues relating to entrepreneurship development within the African continent Research

Critical management studies in the South African context Geoff A. Goldman, C.W. Callaghan, Gregory John Lee, Nthabiseng V. Moraka, Hester Nienaber, Shaun Ruggunan, Whitey (Tjaart Nicholaas) van der Linde, 2016-12-31 The purpose of this book is to establish the first formalised scholarly work on critical management studies CMS in the South African context The book is a collection of seven chapters six of which employ a conceptual methodology and one of which follows an interpretive paradigm employing qualitative methods of inquiry CMS is a relatively young school of thought arising in the early 1990s and still very much a peripheral movement within the academic discipline of management South Africa has very little scholarship on CMS as precious few scholars work in this space Furthermore publication opportunities are virtually non-existent as CMS is virtually unknown in the South African community of management scholars Thus this book represents the first academic work on CMS published in South Africa written and reviewed by scholars who are familiar with the field The primary target readership would be management academics but it could also be a useful reference for postgraduate students in management

Biological Nitrogen Fixation Frans J. de Bruijn, 2015-06-12 Nitrogen is arguably the most important nutrient required by plants However the availability of nitrogen is limited in many soils and although the earth's atmosphere consists of 78.1% nitrogen gas N_2 plants are unable to use this form of nitrogen To compensate modern agriculture has been highly reliant on industrial nitrogen fertilizers to achieve maximum crop productivity However a great deal of fossil fuel is required for the production and delivery of nitrogen fertilizer Moreover carbon dioxide CO_2 which is released during fossil fuel combustion contributes to the greenhouse effect and run-off of nitrate leads to eutrophication of the waterways Biological nitrogen fixation is an alternative to nitrogen fertilizer It is carried out by prokaryotes using an enzyme complex called nitrogenase and results in atmospheric N_2 being reduced into a form of nitrogen diazotrophic organisms and plants are able to use ammonia It is this process and its major players which will be discussed in this book Biological Nitrogen Fixation is a comprehensive two-volume work bringing together both review and original research articles on key topics in nitrogen fixation Chapters across both volumes emphasize molecular techniques and advanced biochemical analysis approaches applicable to various aspects of biological nitrogen fixation Volume 1 explores the chemistry and biochemistry of nitrogenases nif gene regulation the taxonomy evolution and genomics of nitrogen fixing organisms as well as their physiology and metabolism Volume 2 covers the symbiotic interaction of nitrogen fixing organisms with their host plants including nodulation and symbiotic nitrogen fixation plant and microbial omics cyanobacteria diazotrophs and non-legumes field studies and inoculum preparation as well as nitrogen fixation and cereals Covering the full breadth of current nitrogen fixation research and expanding it towards future advances in the field Biological Nitrogen Fixation will be a one-stop reference for microbial ecologists and environmental microbiologists as well as plant and agricultural researchers working on crop sustainability

Carvalho,Emily Darlington,Teresa Vilaça,2024-12-17 Health education well being improvement and advocacy are effective health promotion strategies among cutting edge Public Health practices Salutogenic perspectives rooted in ecological models have taken their rightful place to empower individuals and communities to change their life ecosystems and preserve and improve their health. It is imperative to shift from targeting protective or risk factors which have linear causal relationships with health conditions and or comorbidities and encompass a systemic understanding of the role of health determinants in creating health. Individual, collective and structural ecological approaches can better reduce health inequities. Moreover, engaging the presumed beneficiaries from such strategies ensures that actual needs are identified and choices are context specific. It improves the whole implementation process as well as its results. Higher levels of participation such as co-creation imply a bottom up voluntary collaborative process rooted in values of diversity, mutual trust, openness, autonomy, freedom and respect as well as shared expertise, responsibility and decision making which are essential values in co-creating health promotion.
