Needle Work Jamie Jelinski, 2024-06-15 In 1891 J Murakami travelled from Japan via San Francisco to Vancouver Island and began working in and around Victoria His occupation creating permanent images on the skin of paying clients From this early example of tattooing as work Jamie Jelinski takes us from coast to coast with detours to the United States England and Japan as he traces the evolution of commercial tattooing in Canada over more than one hundred years Needle Work offers insight into how tattoo artists navigated regulation the types of spaces they worked in and the dynamic relationship between the images they tattooed on customers and other forms of visual culture and artistic enterprise Merging biographical narratives with an examination of tattooing s place within wider society Jelinski reveals how these commercial image makers bridged conventional gaps between cultural production and practical for profit work thereby establishing tattooing as a legitimate career Richly illustrated and drawing on archives print media and objects held in institutions and private collections across Canada and beyond Needle Work provides a timely understanding of a vocation that is now familiar but whose intricate history has rarely been considered George & Darril Fosty's Black Ice George Robert Fosty,Darril Fosty,2008 In 1895 The Colored Hockey League of the Maritimes was formed in Halifax Nova Scotia This was Twenty five years before the Negro Baseball Leagues in the United States and twenty two years before the birth of the National Hockey League The Colored League would emerge as a premier force in Canadian hockey and supply the resilience necessary to preserve a unique culture which exists to this day Unfortunately their contributions were conveniently ignored or simply stolen as white teams and hockey officials influenced by the black league copied elements of the black style or sought to take self credit for black hockey innovations Black Ice is the first written record of the Colored Hockey League in the Maritimes
