

FROM THE AUTHOR OF REBECCA

'An eloquent elegy on the past of a county she loved so much'
THE TIMES

A photograph of a stone castle on a rocky cliff overlooking the ocean. The castle is built on a steep, dark rock face. The ocean is a deep blue with white foam from the waves crashing against the rocks. The sky is a lighter blue.

hotel eager to do and to see a country in order that when they get home they may say they have done it and seen it Only to say as for any real vision of eye heart and brain they might as well go through the world blindfold It is not the things we see but the mind we see them with which makes the real interest of travelling Eyes and No Eyes an old fashioned story about two little children taking a walk one seeing everything and enjoying everything and the other seeing nothing and thinking the expedition the dullest imaginable This simple tale which the present generation has probably never read contains the essence of all rational travelling About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
