Transitional Justice Framing A Model For Eritrea:

Transitional Justice Daniel Rezene Mekonnen, 2009 Introduction The political history of Eritrea Eritrea's legal obstacles under international law Factual findings on violations of international law in Eritrea Prosecution as a major instrument of accountability Alternative forms of accountability Outlines of a workable transitional justice model for Eritrea Mixed Legal Systems, East and West Vernon Valentine Palmer, Mohamed Y. Mattar, 2016-07-22 Advancing legal scholarship in the area of mixed legal systems as well as comparative law more generally this book expands the comparative study of the world's legal families to those of jurisdictions containing not only mixtures of common and civil law but also to those mixing Islamic and or traditional legal systems with those derived from common and or civil law traditions With contributions from leading experts in their fields the book takes us far beyond the usual focus of comparative law with analysis of a broad range of countries including relatively neglected and under researched areas The discussion is situated within the broader context of the ongoing development and evolution of mixed legal systems against the continuing tides of globalization on the one hand and on the other hand the emergence of Islamic governments in some parts of the Middle East the calls for a legal status for Islamic law in some European countries and the increasing focus on traditional and customary norms of governance in post colonial contexts This book will be an invaluable source for students and researchers working in the areas of comparative law legal pluralism the evolution of mixed legal systems and the impact of colonialism on contemporary legal systems It will also be an important resource for policy makers and analysts Religion, Gender, and the Public Sphere Niamh Reilly, Stacey Sriver, 2013-11-26 The re emergence of religion as a significant cultural social and political force is not gender neutral Tensions between claims for women's equality and the rights of sexual minorities on one side and the claims of religions on the other side are well documented across all major religions and regions It is also well recognized in feminist scholarship that gender identities and ethno religious identities work together in complex ways that are often exploited by dominant groups Hence a more comprehensive understanding of the changing role and influence of religion in the public sphere more widely requires complex multidisciplinary and comparative gender analyses Most recent discussion on these matters however especially in Europe has focused primarily on the perceived subordinate status of Muslim women These debates are a reminder of the deep interrelation of questions of gender identity human rights and religious freedom more generally The relatively narrow albeit important purview of such discussions so far however underscores the need to extend the horizon of enquiry vis vis religion gender and the public sphere beyond the binary of Islam versus the West Religion Gender and the Public Sphere moves gender from the periphery to the centre of contemporary debates about the role of religion in public and political life It offers a timely multidisciplinary collection of gender focused essays that address an array of challenges arising from the changing role and influence of religious organisations identities actors and values in the public sphere in contemporary multicultural and democratic societies Human Trafficking and Trauma in the Digital Era

Mirjam van Reisen, Munyaradzi Mawere, 2017-02-13 Eritrean refugees crisscross between countries in the Horn of Africa and North Africa in search of a safe place. Along their journeys they are looted, threatened, intimidated, violated, and held for ransom. This book revisits the human trafficking crisis that first emerged in the Sinai at the end of 2008 and examines the expansion of human trafficking of Eritrean refugees and other forms of exploitation beyond the Sinai. It focuses on the modus operandi of these practices and on identifying their key facilitators and beneficiaries. The book locates the origin of these practices within Eritrea; it reveals how a deliberate policy of impoverishment and human rights abuses has driven the people out of the country and how individuals within Eritrea and particularly within the ruling party benefit from the smuggling and trafficking of Eritrean refugees. The use of information communication technologies (ICTs) is identified as key to the new modus operandi of this criminal business and is found to further facilitate widespread collective trauma amongst Eritreans who witness the abuse of their family members and fellow nationals through digital networks. An entire section in this book is dedicated to assessing the extent and effects of individual and collective trauma caused by Sinai trafficking and to examining potential approaches to healing. Other sections discuss the vulnerabilities of Eritrean minors and women and the connections between human trafficking, terrorism, and organ trafficking. The last section of the book raises the question of accountability. It examines and evaluates international responses to this forgotten crisis and discusses the need for policies that tackle the problem where it emerges in Eritrea.

Enslaved Mirjam Van Reisen, 2023-01-21 Eritrean refugees are being trafficked and enslaved in Libya where they are tortured to force relatives to pay a ransom for their release. Labelled with a digital code, they are moved along in the possession of the traffickers through a series of black holes in which their access to digital technologies and connectivity is highly controlled. They are tortured, abused, extorted, and subjected to sexual violence. Many die along the way. If they make it to the Mediterranean Sea, they risk being intercepted and returned to Libya or dying at sea. Over the period of this study (2017-21), it is conservatively estimated that at least 200,000 men, women, and children have fallen victim to human trafficking for ransom in Libya and the cumulative value of this trade for that period is estimated at over 1 billion USD. This detailed ethnographic study identifies the routes, modus operandi, organisation, and key actors involved in the human trafficking for ransom of refugees and migrants who are desperately in need of protection. The book is part of the GAIC Research Network and African Studies series published by Langaa RPCIG and makes an important contribution to the literature on human trafficking, migration studies, African studies, modern slavery, social protection, and governance.

The African Garrison State Kjetil Tronvoll, Daniel Rezene Mekonnen, 2014 WINNER 2015 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Award. Examines Eritrea's deprivation of human rights since independence and its transformation into a militarised garrison state. When Eritrea gained independence in 1991, hopes were high for its transformation. In two decades, however, it became one of the most repressive in the world, effectively a militarised garrison state. This comprehensive and detailed analysis examines how the prospects for democracy in the new state turned to ashes, reviewing its development and in particular the loss of human rights and the state's political organisation Beginning with judicial development in independent Eritrea subsequent chapters scrutinise the rule of law and the court system the hobbled process of democratisation and the curtailment of civil society the Eritrean prison system and everyday life of detention and disappearances and the situation of minorities in the country first in general terms and then through exploration of a case study of the Kunama ethnic group While the situation is bleak it is not without hope however the conclusion focuses on opposition to the current regime and offers scenarios of regime change and how the coming of a second republic may yet reconfigure Eritrea politically Kjetil Tronvoll is Professor of Peace and Conflict Studies at Bjoerknes College founding and senior partner of the International Law and Policy Institute Oslo and a former Professor of Human Rights at the University of Oslo Daniel R Mekonnen is Senior Legal Advisor International Law and Policy Institute Oslo and former Judge of the Zoba Maekel Provincial Court in Eritrea

Handbook of Research on Transitional Justice and Peace Building in Turbulent Regions Cante, Fredy, Quehl, Hartmut, 2015-12-17 In the era of globalization awareness surrounding issues of violence and human rights violations has reached an all time high In a world where billions of human beings have the potential to create endless destruction these same individuals are capable of working cooperatively to create adequate solutions to current global problems The Handbook of Research on Transitional Justice and Peace Building in Turbulent Regions focuses on current issues facing nations and regions where poverty and conflict are endangering the lives of citizens as well as the socio economic viability of those regions Highlighting crucial topics and offering potential solutions to problems relating to domestic and international conflict societal safety and security as well as political instability this comprehensive publication is designed to meet the research needs of economists social theorists politicians policy makers human rights activists researchers and graduate level students across disciplines Building a Future on Peace and Justice Kai Ambos, Judith Large, Marieke Wierda, 2008-12-04 Results of the 2007 Nuremberg Conference on Peace and Justice Tensions between peace and justice have long been debated by scholars practitioners and agencies including the United Nations and both theory and policy must be refined for very practical application in situations emerging from violent conflict or political repression Specific contexts demand concrete decisions and approaches aimed at redress of grievance and creation of conditions of social justice for a non violent future There has been definitive progress in a world in which blanket amnesties were granted at times with little hesitation There is a growing understanding that accountability has pragmatic as well as principled arguments in its favour Practical arguments as much as shifts in the norms have created a situation in which the choice is increasingly seen as which forms of accountability rather than a stark choice between peace and justice It is socio political transformation not just an end to violence that is needed to build sustainable peace This book addresses these dilemmas through a thorough overview of the current state of legal obligations discussion of the need for a holistic approach including development analysis of the implications of the coming into force of the ICC and a series of hard case studies on internationalized and local approaches
