War and Rape Nicola Henry, 2012-07-26 Wartime rape has been virulent in wars of sovereignty territory conquest religion ideology and liberation yet attention to this crime has been sporadic throughout history Rape remains unspeakable particularly within law Moreover rape has not featured prominently in post conflict collective memory And even when rape is remembered it is often the subject of political controversy and heated debate In this book Henry asks some critical questions about the relationship between mass rape politics and law In what ways does law contribute to the collective memory of wartime rape How do counter memories of victims compete with the denialism of wartime rape The text specifically analyses the historical silencing of rape throughout international legal history and the potential of law to restore these silenced histories it also examines the violence of law and the obstacles to individual and collective redemption Tracing the prosecution of rape crimes within contemporary courts Henry seeks to argue that politics underscores the way rape is dealt with by the international community in the aftermath of armed conflict Providing a comprehensive overview of the politics of wartime rape and the politics of prosecuting such crimes within international humanitarian law this text will be of great interest to scholars of gender and security war crimes and law and society

Traumatised Witnesses in International Criminal Trials Suzanne Schot, 2024-02-13 This book focuses on the testimonial evidence of traumatised witnesses in trials of international crimes which deal with acts of genocide war crimes and crimes against humanity Such trials often involve the testimonies of those who experienced or witnessed extremely traumatic events which can make it hard for these witnesses to recall specific details Testifying during trial may in itself also pose challenges to their well being Yet the legal process of determining whether someone can be held criminally responsible for the alleged crimes needs to be fair in accordance with the right to a fair trial of the accused and the facts need to be determined as accurately as possible This book argues that to ensure fair and accurate fact finding when in particular traumatised witnesses testify a balance needs to be struck between the needs of witnesses who testify about traumatic experiences the fair trial rights of the accused and the objective of the court to establish as accurately as possible the responsibility of the accused This is crucial throughout the stages of selecting preparing presenting and assessing the testimonial evidence of traumatised witnesses The methodology involves an analysis of transcripts of proceedings and case law of the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia the International Criminal Court and Dutch courts prosecuting international crimes The research demonstrates that it is often difficult to strike a balance between the competing objectives during proceedings when traumatised witnesses testify due to the current lack of regulations and guidelines applicable during investigations and prosecutions This book shows that this balance can and should be achieved when traumatised witnesses testify during criminal proceedings for international crimes The work is an invaluable resource for researchers academics and practitioners in criminal law criminology legal psychology legal psychiatry social anthropology and forensic sciences
