Offshore Energy and Marine Spatial Planning Katherine L. Yates, Corey J. A. Bradshaw, 2018-03-29 The generation of offshore energy is a rapidly growing sector competing for space in an already busy seascape This book brings together the ecological economic and social implications of the spatial conflict this growth entails Covering all energy generation types wind wave tidal oil and gas it explores the direct and indirect impacts the growth of offshore energy generation has on both the marine environment and the existing uses of marine space Chapters explore main issues associated with offshore energy such as the displacement of existing activities and the negative impacts it can have on marine species and ecosystems Chapters also discuss how the growth of offshore energy generation presents new opportunities for collaboration and co location with other sectors for example the co location of wild capture fisheries and wind farms The book integrates these issues and opportunities and demonstrates the importance of holistic marine spatial planning for optimising the location of offshore energy generation sites It highlights the importance of stakeholder engagement in these planning processes and the role of integrated governance with illustrative case studies from the United States United Kingdom northern Europe and the Mediterranean It also discusses trade off analysis and decision theory and provides a range of tools and best practices to inform future planning processes

Myles, 2017-09-07 Over the last decade the concept of clustering has become a central idea for analyzing the competitiveness of nations industries and firms This book shows how the cluster concept can be usefully applied to the study of maritime activities Such activities including shipping shipbuilding and port and maritime services are clearly geographically concentrated in a number of maritime clusters However as the author shows these are having to compete with other uses of the coasts and oceans including capture fisheries marine aquaculture offshore energy and tourism Sound governance and planning is therefore required to manage the competing claims for ocean space The book shows how competing industries and other stakeholders can cooperate and benefit from an integrated approach to the development of maritime clusters The contribution of approaches such as integrated coastal zone management and innovations such as ocean business councils as well as coordinated networks of maritime clusters are reviewed Case studies are included from around the world including detailed examples of the development of the Nelson Mandela Bay Maritime Cluster in South Africa and from Poland in the Baltic Sea Ocean Law and Policy Carlos Espósito, James Kraska, Harry N. Scheiber, Moon-Sang Kwon, 2016-10-11 In the years since 1994 when the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS entered into force the ocean law regime has been profoundly affected by an interplay of new forces in global ocean affairs Numbered among them are innovations in technology and science the emergence of intensified piracy and other challenges to maritime security national and regional programs In Ocean Law and Policy Twenty Years of Development under the UNCLOS Regime experts from fourteen countries present nineteen papers that provide insightful analyses of these wide ranging issues that form the emerging new context of UNCLOS as a keystone to a working regime system Accessible as well as authoritative this volume offers to general readers as well as academics policy officials and legal experts a set of important analyses and provocative insights forming a major contribution to the literature of ocean studies
