Women Borders And Violence Current Issues In Asylum Forced Migration And Trafficking:

Women, Borders, and Violence Sharon Pickering, 2010-12-21 Women at the Border analyzes border policing practices currently informed by paradigms of securitization against unauthorized mobility and explores the potential for a paradigm shift to a more ethical regulation of borders. By focusing on the ways women have sought to cross borders in extra legal fashion the book shows how border enforcement differentially impacts on some populations and makes the case that unauthorized migration requires management rather than repulsion and criminalization. When facing the emerging and future challenges of unauthorized mobility border policing must be recast as a function of human rights that results in greater human security at the border. Examining gender and border policing across Europe North America and Australia this book enhances our understanding of the gendered determinants of extra legal border crossing border policing and the changing dynamics of unauthorized mobility.

Human Trafficking in the Era of Global Migration Sarah Hupp Williamson, 2022-05-31 Factors such as inequality gender globalization corruption and instability clearly matter in human trafficking. But does corruption work the same way in Cambodia as it does in Bolivia? Does instability need to be present alongside inequality to lead to human trafficking? How do issues of migration connect? Using migration feminist and criminological theory this book asks how global economic policies contribute to the conditions which both drive migration and allow human trafficking to flourish with specific focus on Cambodia Bolivia and The Gambia. Challenging existing thinking the book concludes with an anti trafficking framework which addresses the root causes of human trafficking.

A Companion to Border Studies Thomas M. Wilson, Hastings Donnan, 2016-01-19 A Companion to Border Studies Taking into consideration all aspects this book has a very important role in the professional literature of border studies. Cross Border Review Yearbook of the European Institute Summing Up Highly recommended Upper division undergraduates and above Choice This book with its interdisciplinary team of authors from many world regions shows the state of the art in this research field admirably. Ulf Hannerz Stockholm University This volume will be the definitive work on borders and border related processes for years into the future. The editors have done an outstanding job of identifying key themes and of assembling influential scholars to address these themes. David Nugent Emory University This urgently needed Companion edited by two leading figures of border studies reflects past insights and showcases new directions a must read for understanding territory power and the state. Dr Nick Vaughan Williams University of Warwick This impressive collection will have a broad appeal beyond specialist border studies. Anyone with an interest in the nation state nationalism ethnicity political geography or indeed the whole historical project of the modern world system will want to have access to a copy. The substantive scope is global and the intellectual reach deep and wide. Simply indispensable. Richard Jenkins University of Sheffield Dramatic growth in the number of international borders has coincided in recent years with greater mobility than ever before of goods people and ideas. As a result interest in borders as a focus of academic study has developed into a dynamic multi disciplinary field embracing perspectives from anthropology development studies geography history political science and sociology Authors provide a comprehensive examination of key characteristics of borders and frontiers including cross border cooperation security and controls migration and population displacements hybridity and transnationalism A Companion to Border Studies brings together these disciplines and viewpoints through the writing of an international collection of preeminent border scholars Drawing on research from Africa Asia the Middle East Europe and the Americas the contributors argue that the future of Border Studies lies within such diverse collaborations which approach comparatively the features of borders worldwide

Ultra-Intensity Patriarchy Menara Guizardi,2021-10-19 This book analyzes the experiences of women living and working across the busiest and most transited frontier in South America the Paran Tri Border Area TBA between Argentina Brazil and Paraguay From a feminist approach it shows how in these territories the gender violence is intensified configuring an expression of ultra intensity patriarchy Based on ethnographic fieldwork conducted for two years along with Paraguayan women living and working between Ciudad del Este Paraguay and Foz de Iguaz Brazil the authors analyze on the one hand the intricate connection between gender violence and ethnicity on these borders and on the other hand the persistence of a female care that appears to offer a fundamental tool of resistance of vital female drive The work is divided into three parts The first is intended to read like a trip to this complex and fascinating corner of South America through a visual and ethnohistoric journey of the region as well as a theoretical debate that defines gender violence and its particular condensation on border territories The second part explores the women s stories in depth and follow the narrative thread of their biographies rebuilding their experiences from their families of origin to their productive insertion on the TBA Finally the third part takes an in depth look at the complex links between the social reproduction obligations that fall on women and the gender violence on the TBA stressing how they develop strategies to change their life conditions by establishing transborder circuits of care Ultra Intensity Patriarchy Care and Gender Violence on the Paran Tri Border Area will be a valuable tool for researchers from different disciplines such as anthropology sociology population studies and gender studies interested in the growing field of studies of feminism borders and migration from an intersectional perspective The New Politics of Immigration and the End of Settler Societies Catherine

Dauvergne,2016-03-14 Over the past decade a global convergence in migration policies has emerged and with it a new mean spirited politics of immigration It is now evident that the idea of a settler society previously an important landmark in understanding migration is a thing of the past What are the consequences of this shift for how we imagine immigration And for how we regulate it This book analyzes the dramatic shift away from the settler society paradigm in light of the crisis of asylum the fear of Islamic fundamentalism and the demise of multiculturalism What emerges is a radically original take on the new global politics of immigration that can explain policy paralysis in the face of rising death tolls failing human rights arguments and persistent state desires to treat migration as an economic calculus Race, Criminal Justice, and Migration Control Mary Bosworth,Alpa Parmar,Yolanda Vázquez,2018-01-12

The criminalization of migration is heavily patterned by race By placing race at the centre of its analysis this volume examines questions and explains the growing intersection between criminal justice and migration control Through the lens of race we see how criminal justice and migration enmesh in order to exclude stop and excise racialized citizens and non citizens from societies across the world within beyond and along borders Race and the meaning of race in relation to citizenship and belonging is excavated through the chapters presented in the book and the book as a whole thereby transforming the way we think about migration Neatly organized in four sections the book begins with chapters that present a conceptual analysis of race borders and social control moving to the institutions that make up and shape the criminal justice and migration complex The remaining chapters are convened around the key sites where criminal justice and migration control intersect policing courts and punishment Together the volume presents a critical and timely analysis of how race shapes and complicates mobility and how racism is enabled and reanimated when criminal justice and migration control coalesce Migration, Globalization, and the State R. Brickner,2013-11-01

Drawing evidence from North and South America Europe Asia and the Middle East the contributors illustrate that even within the common framework of economic globalization the ways in which the interests of state actors and the agency of migrants intersects continuously shapes and reshapes both home and destination societies Gender, Equality and Social Justice Sharron FitzGerald,Jane Freedman,2022-09-19 This book addresses a gap in both contemporary theorising and empirical analysis of the European Union s EU law and policy frameworks on migration sex work and anti trafficking Drawing on the authors previous research on these policies and with their practical experience of engaging with various EU institutions in law and policy making fora around gender equality and justice the work examines the processes involved in constructing and enacting policy frameworks and legal interventions on these issues within a feminist analytical framework The authors map how EU agenda setting operates and detail the roles that various EU institutions external groups and actors including non governmental organisations play in promoting or blocking policy on these three issues The book draws on feminist theorising on gender policy making and social justice to develop a general theoretical framework to help us understand how and why a consensus has seemingly been achieved at EU level on what constitutes gender equality in these three policy areas The book presents a valuable resource for academics researchers and policy makers in Law Migration EU policy making and Gender Studies
