From Women's Experience to Feminist Theology Linda Hogan, 2016-10-06 What are the implications of adopting a primacy of praxis position in feminist theology How can we respect the diversity of women's experience while retaining it as a useful analytic category Do these twin resources of women's experience and praxis together imply that feminist theology is ultimately relativist Through an analysis of the work of some of today's key feminist theologians Christian womanist and post Christian Linda Hogan considers these and other methodological questions

Women at Worship Marjorie Procter-Smith, Janet Roland Walton, 1993-01-01 These diverse but unified descriptions of original ceremonies liturgies and rites offer suggestions for revitalizing traditional liturgical expressions in relation to women's experiences The works collected here are drawn from the perspectives of Christian Jewish African American Native American and Hispanic women

Conscience and Calling Anne

E. Patrick, 2013-08-15 This volume probes the meaning and ethical implications of the powerful symbol of vocation in a transformed social context. Patrick analyzes the complex responses of Catholic women to injustice and describes a post-Vatican II shift in understandings of virtue with particular attention to the experiences of U.S. sisters and laywomen. Intended as a follow up to Liberating Conscience: Feminist Explorations in Catholic Moral Theology, P. 4 of cover. Women and Christian Mission Frances Adeney, 2015-11-04 What are Christian women thinking about mission? How do they do mission? What informs their knowledge and action as they address issues in a complex world where religious proselytizing has become suspect? This empirical study explores those questions, finding congruence among women from diverse backgrounds and cultural contexts. Women in mission face common identity issues, utilize art and beauty in their work and develop character as they overcome obstacles in their cultural and denominational settings. Through nearly one hundred interviews of women in Europe, Asia, Brazil and the United States, a study of women's theologies of mission, lectures and countless conversations with women around the globe, this study finds common themes among contemporary women doing Christian mission. This book fills a lacuna in mission studies that professors, pastors and church women and men will find informative and refreshing.
