Hoyt, 2016-12-30 Women and Leadership edited by George R Goethals and Crystal L Hoyt of the Jepson School of Leadership Studies at the University of Richmond is a compact collection of thoughtful essays by experts on leadership theory as well as women s history Women and Leadership has been designed to help students and citizens who want a more nuanced explanation of what we know about women as leaders and about how they have led in different fields in different parts of the world and in past centuries It includes twenty biographies of women leaders in many different domains not only politics but also education fashion sports and social and environmental movements Los Angeles Magazine , 2003-03 Los Angeles magazine is a regional magazine of national stature Our combination of award winning feature writing investigative reporting service journalism and design covers the people lifestyle culture entertainment fashion art and architecture and news that define Southern California Started in the spring of 1961 Los Angeles magazine has been addressing the needs and interests of our region for 48 years The magazine continues to be the definitive resource for an affluent population that is intensely interested in a lifestyle that is uniquely Southern Californian Feminisms and Womanisms Althea Prince, Susan Silva-Wayne, 2004 Feminisms and Womanisms brings together theory and practical application so that feminist discourse interacts as a partner with the lived experience of women's social action. The selections combine classics in feminist thought with work from modern theorists and offer a solid foundation in international feminism. The conceptual understanding embedded in the terms feminism and womanism contributes to feminist discourse a carefully differentiated focus on the ideological uses of language to define relationships that have been historically mired in domination. The terms also define the way gender often has been used to signify and support domination. Given that feminism and womanism are interpretive concepts there is always a sense that knowledge making is in progress for there is nothing static or stagnant about feminism, feminist theory and feminist action. The formative nature of the feminist movement has of necessity a parallel interpretive theory. This reader embraces both the formative nature of the movement and the accompanying interpretive theories. It also pays attention to the chronological, cultural, geopolitical, racial and ethnic landscapes and sites where women live, carry out social action and theorize issues of equality. For both the general and academic reader, this book will be edifying while providing exposure to the feminist, womanist voices that inform the scholarship.

Women's Lives Gwyn Kirk, Margo Okazawa-Rey, 2007 This interdisciplinary, multicultural text reader provides an introduction to women's studies by examining U.S. women's lives in a global context and across categories of race, ethnicity, class, sexuality, disability and age. Substantial chapter introductions provide updated statistical information and explanations of key concepts and ideas as a context for the readings. Each chapter includes Questions to Frame Your Reading and Suggestions for Taking Action to help students link their knowledge and understanding to their own lives and apply it to the world around them.

Ecofeminism Vandana Shiva, Maria Mies, 2014-03-13 This groundbreaking work remains as relevant today as when it was first published. Two of Zed's best known authors argue that ecological destruction and industrial catastrophes constitute a direct threat to everyday life, the maintenance of which has been made the particular responsibility of women. In both industrialized societies and the developing countries, the new wars the world is experiencing, violent ethnic chauvinisms and the malfunctioning of the economy also pose urgent questions for ecofeminists. Is there a relationship between patriarchal oppression and the destruction of nature in the name of profit and progress? How can women counter the violence inherent in these processes? Should they look to a link between the women's movement and other social movements? Maria Mies and Vandana Shiva offer a thought provoking analysis of these and many other issues from a unique North-South perspective. They critique prevailing economic theories, conventional concepts of women's emancipation, the myth of catching up, development, the philosophical foundations of modern science and technology and the omission of ethics when discussing so many questions including advances in reproductive technology and biotechnology. In constructing their own ecofeminist epistemology and methodology, these two internationally respected feminist environmental activists look to the potential of movements advocating consumer liberation and subsistence production sustainability and regeneration and they argue for an acceptance of limits and reciprocity and a rejection of exploitation the endless commoditization of needs and violence Imagination Besieged Federica Bueti, 2025-03-05 Imagination Besieged records the silenced stories of a Mediterranean defined by loss displacement dispossession violence and its refusal Drawing links and connections between Calabria Athens Ramallah and Beirut the book grapples with the legacies of histories of violence criminality and colonialism that define not only the past but very much the present of a Mediterranean stuck in cycles of crises and death This atmosphere of impossibility and immobility as the author argues debilitates and distorts imagination as much as it forces those subjected to it to find ways to express their dissent sometimes in tragic ways The book invites to read with the Mediterranean as a space where violence can be felt and breathed in the air It looks and makes connections between the works of artists and writers who have problematised and challenged existing ahistorical representation of the Mediterranean as an exotic tourist destination In the works and words of the artists and writers discussed the Mediterranean appears not as a mythical place but in all its ambiguousness paradoxes dissonances and the distortions on the bodies the landscape the environment and the imagination produced by this persistent and invisibilised systemic violence At the same time Imagination Besieged listen to the refusal of this violence in the lives and practices of those who have rejected familial belongings narrow definitions of identity and their continuous dispossession Each essay taps into the depth of the archive of the modern Mediterranean to bring into the present what this present seeks to conceal
