Livable Cities from a Global Perspective Roger Caves, Fritz Wagner, 2018-05-11 Livable Cities from a Global Perspective offers case studies from around the world on how cities approach livability They address the fundamental question what is considered livable The journey each city has taken or is currently taking is unique and context specific There is no such thing as a one size fits all approach to livability Some cities have had a long history of developing livability policies and programs that focus on equity economic and environmental concerns while other cities are relatively new to the game In some areas government has taken the lead while in other areas grassroots activism has been the impetus for livability policies and programs The challenge facing our cities is not simply developing a livability program We must continually monitor and readjust policies and programs to meet the livability needs of all people The case studies investigate livability issues in such cities as Austin Texas Helsinki Finland London United Kingdom Warsaw Poland Tehran Iran Salt Lake City United States Rio de Janeiro Brazil Sydney Australia and Cape Town South Africa The chapters are organized into such themes as livability in capital city regions livability and growth and development livability and equity concerns livability and metrics and creating livability Each chapter provides unique insights into how a specific area has responded to calls for livable cities In doing so the book adds to the existing literature in the field of livable cities and provides policy makers and other organizations with information and alternative strategies that have design planning urban studies and geography Designing the Global City Robert Freestone, Gethin Davison, Richard Hu, 2018-12-12 This text explores how architectural and urban design values have been co-opted by global cities to enhance their economic competitiveness by creating a superior built environment that is not just aesthetically memorable but more productive and sustainable. It focuses on the experience of central Sydney through its policy commitment to design excellence and more particularly to mandatory competitive design processes for major private development. Framed within broader contexts that link it to comparable urban policy and design issues in the Asia Pacific region and globally it provides a scholarly but accessible volume that provides a balanced and critical overview of a policy that has changed the design culture, development expectations, public realm and skyline of central Sydney, raising issues surrounding the uneven distribution of benefits and costs, professional practice, representative democracy and implications of globalization.

Urban Transport XXIII C.A. Brebbia, S. Ricci, 2017-12-11 Forming the 23rd addition to a successful series, this book contains papers presented by an extensive selection of international delegates at the 23rd International Conference on Urban Transport and the Environment. Due to its continued success and multiplicity of topics, the series is considered to be a leading source of new research in the area of transport engineering. Transportation in urban areas, with its related environmental and social impacts, is of significant concern for government policymakers and for the urban citizens who need efficient transport systems. Extensive reviews of these systems are required to devise and then safeguard their operational use, maintenance, safety and security. The continuing requirement for better and more efficient urban transport systems and the need for a healthier environment has added to the increasing international desire for new technologies and developments in this essential field. The variety of topics covered reflects the complex interaction of urban transport systems with their environment and the need to establish integrated strategies. These topics include: Public transport systems; Urban transport planning and management; Environmental impact; Economic and social impact; Safety and security; Transportation modelling and simulation; Intelligent and advanced transport systems; City logistics; Inter-modal transport systems; Mass transport strategies; Freight transport; Railway systems; Port and city; Mobility and public space; Innovative electric transportation; Eco-mobility transport systems; Integrated network systems; Traditional and alternative fuels and energy; Public policies and governance.

Regions and Regional Planning Thomas Perrin, 2022-06-08 This book addresses the making and transforming of regions and territorial organisation, which are significant activities for policy makers and planners. It focuses on the regional intermediate scale and gathers contributions by researchers from various European universities, especially at a time when there is a renewed interest for regions, regionalisation and regional planning. The different chapters in this edited volume deliver insightful theoretical approaches and documented empirical case studies. The recent reform that redrew and reorganized regions in France is of particular interest. Other contributions enrich the reflection about territorial reforms and changes by analysing situations in Italy, Poland, United Kingdom, notably the issue of planning city regions or metropolitan areas. This volume provides a comparative view of the impact of territorial reforms on planning policies and explores the evolution of regional settings in Europe. It also confirms region as a fundamental scale and an essential instrument to organise and develop societies and territories. The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal European Planning Studies.

Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia Rita Padawangi, 2018-10-11. The study of urbanization in Southeast Asia has been a growing field of research over the past decades. The Routledge Handbook of Urbanization in Southeast Asia offers a collection of the major streams and themes in the studies of the cities in the region. A focus on the urbanization process rather than the city as an object opens the topic more broadly to bring together different perspectives. This timely handbook presents these diverse views to build a clearer understanding of theoretical contributions of urban studies in Southeast Asia and to provide a complete collection of scholarly works that are thematically structured and a useful tool for teaching urbanization in Southeast Asia. Following the introduction by the editor, the handbook is structured along central emerging themes. It contains six parts which are each introduced by the editor: Theorizing Urbanization in Southeast Asia; Migration Networks and Identities; Development and Discontents; Environmental Governance; The Social Production of the Urban Fabric; Social Change and Alternative Development. This handbook will be an essential reference work for scholars interested in Urban Studies, cities and urbanization in Asia and Southeast Asian Studies. Greening East Asia Ashley Esarey, Mary Alice Haddad, Joanna I. Lewis, Stevan Harrell, 2020-11-30. A timely collection examining a diverse region's environmental shifts. East Asia hosts a fifth of the world's population and consumes over half the world's coal, a quarter of its petroleum products and a tenth of its natural gas. It also produces a third of worldwide greenhouse gas emissions, making it a major contributor to climate change. The region, whose countries share ecological, sociocultural and political characteristics while varying in size, resource wealth, history and political systems, offers excellent insights into the complex dynamics influencing environmental politics, advocacy and policy. With essays addressing Japan after Fukushima, coal plants and wind turbines in China, environmental activism in Taiwan and sustainable rural development in South Korea, Greening East Asia explores a region's shift from development to eco-development in acknowledgment that environmental sustainability is a critical component of economic growth. Liverpool Beyond the Brink Michael Parkinson CBE, 2019-05-31. Liverpool Beyond the Brink describes the extraordinary if incomplete renaissance of Liverpool during the last thirty years. Showing how much has been achieved, who helped and what its current challenges are, this is a fascinating commentary on one of the UK's most iconic cities. Cultures of Development Jonathan Warren, 2016-11-25. The North Atlantic development establishment has had a blemished track record over the past 65 years. In addition to a sizeable portfolio of failure, the few economic success stories in the developing world such as South Korea and China have been achieved by rejecting the advice of Western experts. Despite these realities, debates within mainstream development studies have stagnated around a narrow cultural emphasis on institutions or the size and role of government. Cultures of Development

uses a contrapuntal comparison of Vietnam and Brazil to show why it is important for development scholars and practitioners to broaden their conceptualization of economies to include the socio cultural This smartly written book based on original ethnographic research breathes new life into development studies by bringing cultural studies into conversation with development studies with an emphasis on improving rather than merely critiquing market economies The applied deployment of critical development studies i e interpretive economics results in a number of theoretical advances in both development and areas studies demonstrating the economic importance of certain kinds of cultural work carried out by religious leaders artists activists and educators Most importantly the reader comes to fully appreciate how economies are embedded within the subjectivities discourses symbols rituals norms and values of a given society This pioneering book revives development practice and policy by offering fresh insights and ideas about how development can be advanced It will be of special interest to scholars and students of Development Studies Sociology Economics Anthropology and Area Studies The Routledge Handbook of Planning Megacities in the Global South Deden Rukmana,2020-06-04 Cities are now home to 55% of the world s population and that number is rising Urban populations across the world will continue to grow including in megacities with populations over ten million In 2016 there were 31 megacities globally according to the United Nations World Cities Report with 24 of those cities located in the Global South That number is expected to rise to 41 by 2030 with all ten new megacities in the Global South where the processes of urbanization are intrinsically distinct from those in the Global North The Routledge Handbook of Planning Megacities in the Global South provides rigorous comparative analyses discussing the challenges processes best practices and initiatives of urbanization in Middle America South America the Middle East Africa South Asia East Asia and Southeast Asia This book is indispensable reading for students and scholars of urban planning and its significance as a resource will only continue to grow as urbanization reshapes the global population Global Transformations and World Futures - II Sohail Tahir Inayatullah,2009-10-20 Global Transformations and World Futures is a component of Encyclopedia of Development and Economic Sciences in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias The Theme on Global Transformations and World Futures in two volumes deals with the diversity of points of view on this complex subject The chapters in these volumes are organized into three groups The first starts with chapters introducing the Global transformations in Knowledge Social and Cultural issues Issues such as the nature of global science the challenge of building real communities in a virtual world and the transition from an information economy to a communicative economy are explored The second presents the Global Economy The final group discusses the World Futures These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College students Educators Professional practitioners Research personnel and Policy analysts managers and decision makers and NGOs Digital Transformation and the Economics of Banking Piotr Łasak,Jonathan Williams,2023-11-07 The book provides deep insight into the processes of digital transformation of banking

A Way Forward Daniel P. Gitterman, Peter A. Coclanis, 2011-12-19 In the last half century North Carolina and the South have experienced rapid economic growth Much of the best analysis of this progress came from two North Carolina based research organizations the Southern Growth Policies Board and MDC originally a project of the North Carolina Fund Their 1986 reports are two of the best assessments of the achievements and limitations of the so called Sunbelt boom On November 17 2011 the Global Research Institute at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Institute for Emerging Issues at North Carolina State University co hosted a public discussion to build on these classic reports and to offer fresh analyses of the current challenges facing the region A Way Forward which issued from this effort features more than thirty original essays containing recommendations and strategies for building and sustaining a globally competitive South Collaborative Governance for Urban Revitalization Michael J. Rich, Robert P. Stoker, 2014-05-29 For more than one hundred years governments have grappled with the complex problem of how to revitalize distressed urban areas In 1995 the original urban Empowerment Zones Atlanta Baltimore Chicago Detroit New York and Philadelphia each received a 100 million federal block grant and access to a variety of market oriented policy tools to support the implementation of a ten year strategic plan to increase economic opportunities and promote sustainable community development in high poverty neighborhoods In Collaborative Governance for Urban Revitalization Michael J. Rich and Robert P. Stoker confront the puzzle of why the outcomes achieved by the original Empowerment Zones varied so widely given that each city had the same set of federal policy tools and resources and comparable neighborhood characteristics The authors analysis based on more than ten years of field research in Atlanta and Baltimore and extensive empirical analysis of EZ processes and outcomes in all six cities shows that revitalization outcomes are best explained by the quality of local governance Good local governance makes positive contributions to revitalization efforts while poor local governance retards progress While policy design and contextual factors are important how cities craft and carry out their strategies are critical determinants of successful revitalization Rich and Stoker find that good governance is often founded on public private cooperation a stance that argues against both the strongest critics of neoliberalism who see private enterprise as dangerous in principle and the strongest opponents of liberalism who would like to reduce the role of government
