The Palgrave Handbook of Transformational Giftedness for Education Robert J Sternberg, Don Ambrose, Sareh Karami, 2022-04-23 This handbook examines what education would look like if it prepared gifted students to transform the world to make it a better place for all not just for those who receive extra resources from schools in return for being labeled as gifted The editors explore how transformationally gifted people can seek to make the world a better and more just place they try to make a positive meaningful and possibly enduring contribution to changing things in the world that are not working They do not view giftedness merely as a transaction whereby in exchange for being labeled as gifted they accrue benefits to themselves such as a more prestigious education more income or residence in a more exclusive community The overarching aim of this book is to present conceptions of what identification and instruction of the gifted would look like if the focus of gifted education was transformational rather than transactional What if gifted education did not focus so much on acceleration vs enrichment or pull out versus in class integration but rather on how to be gifted in giving back in using one's gifts to create a better world

The More of Myth Mary Aswell Doll, 2011-11-19 This book uses a nine year experience of teaching world mythology to art students in order to discuss why and how such ancient stories provide significance today Myth's weird images and metaphors recall Wyrd Word the goddess of the cauldron Students can be guided into the cauldron of mythic language to feel the stirring of new awareness of what it really means to be human Psychologically myth offers insights into family relations memory imagination and otherness Ecological insights from myth teach the connection among human animal plant relations and the organicism of all life forms Cosmological insights from myth surprisingly echo findings in new science with its emphasis on quantum mechanics force fields black holes subatomic particles chaos and the possibilities of time travel Two areas often considered completely opposite myth and science actually reflect one another since both propose theories albeit in different ways Myth cannot be laughed away as mere fabula since like science and psychology it has long explored adventures into unseen unknown worlds that yield necessary knowledge about the place of humans in the scheme of things big and small The more of myth will be of interest to teachers and students of curriculum studies to those seeking to go beyond Oedipus and Gutenberg and to readers who know that all forms of life including fingernails and rocks are wondrous diverse alive capable purposive and necessary

Postformal Education Jennifer M. Gidley, 2016-08-05 This book explains why the current education model which was developed in the 19th century to meet the needs of industrial expansion is obsolete It points to the need for a new approach to education designed to prepare young people for global uncertainty accelerating change and unprecedented complexity The book offers a new educational philosophy to awaken the creative big picture and long term thinking that will help equip students to face tomorrow's challenges Inside readers will find a dialogue between adult developmental psychology research on higher stages of reasoning and today's most evolved education research and practice This dialogue reveals surprising links between play and wisdom imagination and ecology holism and love The overwhelming issues of global climate crisis growing economic disparity and the youth mental health epidemic reveal how dramatically the current education model has failed students and educators This book raises a planet wide call to deeply question how we actually think and how we must educate It articulates a postformal education philosophy as a foundation for educational futures The book will appeal to educators educational philosophers pre service teacher educators educational and developmental psychologists and educational researchers including postgraduates with an interest in transformational educational theories designed for the complexity of the 21st century This is the most compelling book on education I have read for many years It has major implications for all who are in a position to influence developments in teacher education and educational policy Gidley is one of the very rare scholars who can write intelligently and accessibly about the past present and future in education I was challenged and ultimately convinced by her contention that what masquerades as education today must be seen for what it is an anachronistic relic of the industrial past Gidley's challenge is to co evolve a radically new education All who seek to play a part must read this book Brian J Caldwell PhD Educational Transformations former Dean of Education at the University of Melbourne and Deputy Chair Australian Curriculum Assessment and Reporting Authority ACARA

Narrating Transformative Learning in Education M. Gardner, U. Kelly, 2008-02-04 This collection highlights the experiences of an international group of educators as they explore the art of teaching the philosophy of learning and the tensions of working across socially constructed borders

Emergent Teaching Sam Crowell, David Reid-Marr, 2013-01-11 Emergent Teaching inspires teachers to teach with more spontaneity and creativity within an educational environment that is highly constrained It demonstrates through descriptive stories creative strategies and provides an intellectual foundation for emergent teaching

The authors show how teachers can relate subject matter to students lives and experience They illustrate rituals and processes that help establish a caring learning community Finally the book applies the theories of complexity and chaos while reaffirming the natural wisdom that teachers possess within themselves The authors have chosen a narrative format that models rather than tells and encourages readers to connect to their own stories and experiences The book is consistent with the theoretical understandings and research in the complexity sciences but takes a narrative approach giving examples and illustrations of ideas through stories myths and parables that act as metaphors and illustrations Key topics and practices embedded in these stories include teaching the whole person strategies for creative teaching new understandings of process meaning centered learning building community in the classroom strengthening the student teacher relationship project based learning using art and nature in teaching embodied learning incorporating story and narrative in teaching rites of passage embracing the unpredictable uncharted spaces in teaching

Jerome Bruner, Meaning-Making and Education for Conflict Resolution Sally Myers,2021-02-19 Myers offers an educational intervention that invites development of representations in response to difference Presenting a new framework for examining controversy between worldviews and a method for creating space for difference the book brings this into dialogue with education and research conflict resolution and religion

Nietzsche, Feminism and Political Theory Paul Patton,2002-09-11 Are you visiting women Do not forget your whip Thus Spoke Zarathustra the democratic movement is a form assumed by man in decay Beyond Good and Evil Nietzsche s views on women and politics have long been the most embarrassing aspects of his thought Why then has the work of Nietzsche aroused so much interest in recent years from feminist theorists and political philosophers In answer this collection comprises twelve outstanding essays on Nietzsche s work to current debates in feminist and political theory It is the first to focus on the way in which Nietzsche has become an essential point of reference for postmodern ethical and political thought

Cultural Transformations After Communism Barbara Törnquist-Plewa,Krzysztof Stala,2011-01-08 Focusing on the profound transformation in Central and Eastern Europe since the fall of the Iron Curtain this record analyzes complex cultural dimensions such as lifestyles habits value markers and identity Written by a group of experts it presents case studies from the former communist countries that are members of the European Union today and attempts to answer crucial questions about the constructions of a new identity in the region Have the processes of democratization and opening the borders produced mentality changes and new value systems Is there a convergence of values and cultures between the new and old EU members Have there been backlashes in the processes of reconstructing national identities This book is a valuable resource for anyone interested in European integration issues of national identity and the politics and culture of the post Communist countries

Mourning the Dream--Amor Fati Susanna Ruebsaat,2018-12-13 The inner figure of the blind victim the one who has the power to withstand the dark pull of the archetypal dynamic of illness wholeness was particularly active for a long period of time after I initially lost my eyesight She kept looking for what I could not see checking each eye over and over again separately crying out in despair to the other eye to see if it could not grasp what this one could not As a metaphor pointing to something not seen shadow material not identified with the soul of my blindness kept reaching out past her claustrophobic confinement to the blackness pressing in on her She was relentless in her efforts to stay connected to the not me that might help her learn how to see in another less literal way I reflect now on how seeing and my sense of self became symbiotic in that what I could see I felt was still a part of me I could still be whole I still had a relationship with these parts of my experience And what I could not see was not lost to me forever vanished as if my very sense of myself was suddenly unavailable absent Dead
