Transition Frank J. Korom, Leah K. Lowthorp, 2020-05-21 The Indian Subcontinent has been at the centre of folklore inquiry since the 19th century yet while much attention was paid to India by early scholars folkloristic interest in the region waned over time until it virtually disappeared from the research agendas of scholars working in the discipline of folklore and folklife This fortunately changed in the 1980s when a newly energized group of younger scholars who were interested in a variety of new approaches that went beyond the textual interface returned to folklore as an untapped resource in South Asian Studies This comprehensive volume further reinvigorates the field by providing fresh studies and new models both for studying the lore and the life of everyday people in the region as well as their engagement with the world at large By bringing Muslims material culture diasporic horizons global interventions and politics to bear on South Asian folklore studies the authors hope to stimulate more dialogue across theoretical and geographical borders to infuse the study of the Indian Subcontinent s cultural traditions with a new sense of relevance that will be of interest not only to areal specialists but also to folklorists and anthropologists in general This book was originally published as a special issue of South Asian History and Culture The Time of Transition, Or The Hope of Humanity Frederick Arthur Hyndman, 1900 The Transition of Power: From Men to

Women L. Edwards, 2017-02-13 The author has spent years and countless hours collecting information and interviewing people from all walks of life to put this book together Many will find it informative compelling controversial and even provocative Informative On reading this book we guarantee you will find information you would never have given a second thought to For instance how many of us know that it is written The man is the head of the house No matter how soci

Pentecostal Churches in Transition Shane Clifton, 2009 The global growth of Pentecostal movements during the course of the twentieth century has been widely documented although to date there has been little written on their developing ecclesiology After making the case for a concrete rather than idealised approach to ecclesiology this book describes and analyses the transitions that have framed the ways in which Australian Pentecostals have understood church life and mission From a loosely knit faith missions movement to congregational free church structures to the so called apostolic models of mega churches Australian pentecostalism stands as a microcosmos of ecclesial developments that have occurred throughout the world This book therefore provides a means of reflecting upon what has been gained and lost in the process of ecclesiological change State and Society in Transition John Irvine Little,1997 Examining the process of state formation as it occurred in the Eastern Townships of Quebec following the unification of Upper and Lower Canada J I Little argues that institutional reform was not simply imposed by the government but the result of a complex process of interaction between the state and the local community While past studies look at state formation in the post Rebellion period largely from the perspective of the central government State and Society in Transition focuses on the significant role the local population played in shaping institutional reforms Law, Society and Transition in Myanmar Melissa Crouch,Tim Lindsey,2014-10-23 This edited volume addresses the dynamics of the legal system of Myanmar Burma in the context of the dramatic but incomplete transition to democracy that formally began in 2011 It includes contributions from leading scholars in the field on a range of key legal issues now facing Myanmar such as judicial independence constitutional law human rights and institutional reform It features chapters on the legal history of Myanmar electoral reform the role of the judiciary economic reforms and the state of company law It also includes chapters that draw on the experiences of other countries to contextualise Myanmar s transition to democracy in a comparative setting including Myanmar s participation in regional bodies such as ASEAN This topical book comes at a critical juncture in Myanmar s legal development and will be an invaluable resource for students and teachers seeking greater understanding of the legal system of Myanmar It will also be vital reading for a wide range of government business and civil society organisations seeking to re engage with Myanmar as it navigates a difficult transition toward democracy and the rule of law The Great Transition Bruce M. S. Campbell,2016-06-23 In the fourteenth century the Old World witnessed a series of profound and abrupt changes in the trajectory of long established historical trends Transcontinental networks of exchange fractured and an era of economic contraction and demographic decline dawned from which Latin Christendom would not begin to emerge until its voyages of discovery at the end of the fifteenth century In a major new study of this Great Transition Bruce Campbell assesses the contributions of commercial recession war climate change and eruption of the Black Death to a far reaching reversal of fortunes from which no part of Eurasia was spared The book synthesises a wealth of new historical palaeo ecological and biological evidence including estimates of national income reconstructions of past climates and genetic analysis of DNA extracted from the teeth of plague victims to provide a fresh account of the creation collapse and realignment of Western Europe s late medieval commercial economy The Transition to Late Antiquity, on the Danube and Beyond Andrew Poulter,2007-12-27 This is a major contribution to the fascinating debate on the changes that occurred in the late Roman period contrasting the approaches of history and archaeology Covering the themes of the army the countryside and the nature of cities the volume focuses on the lower Danube but there are comparative studies from Italy to the Euphrates Communities in Transition Søren Dietz,Fanis Mavridis,Žarko Tankosić,Turan Takaoglu,2017-11-30 Communities in Transition brings together scholars from different countries and backgrounds united by a common interest in the transition

Scottish Federalism and Covenantalism in Transition Stephen G Myers, 2016-09-29 How freely can salvation be offered to people How do Law and Grace find balance What influence does federal theology have on the overall theological enterprise How does a confessional church interact with both the civil government and other religious communions These are the questions roiling the twenty first century church these were the questions threatening to splinter the Scottish church in the early eighteenth century In those earlier days of mounting theological confrontation within the Scottish church Ebenezer Erskine a parish minister renowned for his evangelistic zeal had a major role to play Through this examination of the theology and ministry of Erskine one therefore gains not only a deeper understanding of a man critically important within Presbyterian history but also insight into the pressing theological disputes of the day By analysing Erskine's contributions to ongoing theological discussion greater clarity is gained on the development of federal theology on the root causes of the Marrow controversy and on the challenges involved as increasing religious diversity penetrated lands once dominated by national churches In these areas and more Erskine serves both to illuminate an obscure era and to refine modern understandings of still controversial theological issues

Cultural Transition in the Chilterns and Essex Region, 350 AD to 650 AD John T. Baker, 2006 This comparison of the archaeological evidence from the fourth to seventh centuries AD in the Chilterns and Essex regions focuses on the considerable body of place name data from the area The counties of Hertfordshire Middlesex Essex and parts of Buckinghamshire Bedfordshire and Cambridgeshire are included

Acts: An Exegetical Commentary : Volume 2 Craig S. Keener, 2013-10-15 Highly respected New Testament scholar

Craig Keener is known for his meticulous and comprehensive research. This commentary on Acts, his magnum opus, may be the largest and most thoroughly documented Acts commentary available. Useful not only for the study of Acts but also early Christianity, this work sets Acts in its first century context. In this volume, the second of four, Keener continues his detailed exegesis of Acts utilizing an unparalleled range of ancient sources and offering a wealth of fresh insights. This magisterial commentary will be an invaluable resource for New Testament professors and students, pastors, Acts scholars, and libraries.

Orthodox Christianity and the Politics of Transition Tornike Metreveli, 2020-11-29. This book discusses in detail how Orthodox Christianity was involved in and influenced political transition in Ukraine, Serbia, and Georgia after the collapse of communism. Based on original research including extensive interviews with clergy and parishioners as well as historical legal and policy analysis, the book argues that the nature of the involvement of churches in post-communist politics depended on whether the interests of the church, for example in education, the legal system, or economic activity, were accommodated or threatened. If accommodated, churches confined themselves to the sacred domain; if threatened, they engaged in daily politics. If churches competed with each other for organizational interests, they evoked the support of nationalism while remaining within the religious domain. Diasporic Chinese Voluntary Associations in Transition Ningning Chen, Emily Hertzman, Sylvia Ang, 2025-02-17. Recent studies of Chinese voluntary associations (CVAs) have attempted to highlight the theoretical significance of CVAs for understandings of community re-making. However, the power dynamics inherent in community re-making have rarely been expounded. In recognition of this, this book weaves together case studies across countries in the Asia Pacific to explore the complex power relations played out in and through the transformation of CVAs. Collectively, CVAs are understood as ever-changing, heterogeneous ancestral communities composed of common ancestral ties, be it origin, locality, surname, religion, or language. Contributions to this book focus on CVAs in three ways: 1) by foregrounding CVAs as sites of power relations through unpacking ethnic relations and gender hierarchies; 2) by illuminating Chinese diaspora transnationalism beyond political, economic perspectives; and 3) by examining the contemporaneous transformation of ethnic Chinese communities in shifting times, including amidst China's rise as a global power. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies.

Discerning Life Transitions Dwight H. Judy, 2010-10-01. Every one of us will experience several major life changes over the course of adulthood. Each of these transitions will be marked by external changes such as change of location, career changes, promotions, or job losses, plus changes in family circumstances including births, marriage, and death. These transitions are also marked by inner change, since most of us readily examine our faith, life, and relationship with God during such periods. This book helps people examine both the outward and the inward dimensions of major life changes. This blend of interior examination and attention to practical issues is shown in the questions that set the stage for the discernment process What theme or themes do you bring to this process of discernment What details would be necessary to know in order to discern an outcome What are the financial implications What are the implications for family members or others close to you What information do you need to start gathering

When God Speaks through Change Craig A. Satterlee, 2005-03-01 At times a congregational transition looms so large in a sermon that it becomes the lens through which scripture is interpreted the congregation is addressed the preacher is heard and God is experienced Homiletics professor and parish pastor Craig Satterlee reflects in this accessible provocative volume about on how to integrate such significant events in a congregation s life into the preaching ministry of the church Rather than offering a blueprint for preaching however he walks along pastors seminarians and other congregational leaders who want to make sure the Gospel not an agenda is preached
