Transnational Television In Europe Reconfiguring Global Communications Networks:

Transnational Television in Europe Jean K. Chalaby, Today transnational TV networks count among television's most prestigious brands and rank among Europe's leading TV channels. This is the first dynamically told story of the extraordinary journey of transnational television in Europe from struggling origins to its present-day boom. It is based in extensive research into the international television industry and makes full use of its author's remarkable access to leading industry figures from Sky and Turner to Discovery and BBC World. The tale begins with a few cross-border TV channels who fought hostile governments, faced antagonism from the broadcasting establishment and provoked the contempt of advertisers. But Jean Chalaby argues the planets came into alignment for pan-European television in the late 1990s when a transnational shift in European broadcasting was produced. He shows how transnational television and globalization have transformed one another and how transfrontier TV networks reflect and help sustain a global economic order in which the connection between national territory and patterns of production and distribution have broken down.

Transnational Television in Europe Jean K. Chalaby, 2009-02-19 Today transnational TV networks count among television's most prestigious brands and rank among Europe's leading TV channels. This is the first dynamically told story of the extraordinary journey of transnational television in Europe from struggling origins to its present-day boom. It is based in extensive research into the international television industry and makes full use of its author's remarkable access to leading industry figures from Sky and Turner to Discovery and BBC World. Transnational Television History Andreas Fickers, Catherine Johnson, 2013-09-13 Although television has developed into a major agent of the transnational and global flow of information and entertainment, television historiography and scholarship largely remains a national endeavour, partly due to the fact that television has been understood as a tool for the creation of national identity. But the breaking of the quasi-monopoly of public service broadcasters all over Europe in the 1980s has changed the television landscape, and cross-border television channels with the help of satellite and the Internet have catapulted the relatively closed television nations into the universe of globalized media channels. At least this is the picture painted by the popular meta-narratives of European television history. Transnational Television History asks us to re-evaluate the function of television as a medium of nation-building in its formative years and to reassess the historical narrative that insists that European television only became transnational with the emergence of more commercial services and new technologies from the 1980s. It also questions some common assumptions in television historiography by offering some alternative perspectives on the complex processes of transnational circulation of television technology professionals programmes and aesthetics This book was originally published as a special issue of Media History

Transnational European Television Drama Ib Bondebjerg, Eva Novrup Redvall, Rasmus Helles, Signe Sophus Lai, Henrik Søndergaard, Cecilie Astrupgaard, 2017-11-09 This book deals with the role of television drama in Europe as enabler of transnational cultural encounters for audiences and the creative community It demonstrates that the diversity of national cultures is a challenge for European TV drama but also a potential richness and source of creative variation Based on data on the production distribution and reception of recent TV drama from several European countries the book presents a new picture of the transnational European television culture The authors analyse main tendencies in television policy and challenges for national broadcasters coming from new global streaming services Comparing cases of historical contemporary and crime drama from several countries this study shows the importance of creative co production and transnational mediated cultural encounters between national cultures of Europe

Private Television in Western Europe K. Donders, C. Pauwels, J. Loisen, 2016-01-23 Private Television in Western Europe Content Markets Policies describes analyses and evaluates the phenomenon of private television in Europe clustered around the themes of European and national experiences content and markets and policies

Netflix and the Re-invention of Television Mareike Jenner, 2018-07-24 This book deals with the various ways Netflix reconceptualises television as part of the process of TV IV As television continues to undergo a myriad of significant changes Netflix has proven itself to be the dominant force in this development simultaneously driving a number of these changes and challenging television s existing institutional structures This comprehensive study explores the pre history of Netflix the role of binge watching in its organisation and marketing and Netflix s position as a transnational broadcaster It also examines different concepts of control and the role these play in the history of ancillary technologies from the remote control to binge watching as Netflix s iteration of giving control to the viewers By focusing on Netflix s relationship with the linear television schedule its negotiations of quality and marketing as well as the way Netflix integrates into national media systems Netflix and the Re invention of Television illuminates the importance of Netflix s role within the processes of TV IV

Television Stephen Cushion, Justin Lewis, 2010 De westernising journalism studies in an intelligent way this book deserves to be read around the world Professor James Curran Goldsmiths University of London United Kingdom Global Media, Culture, and Identity

Rohit Chopra, Radhika Gajjala, 2012-10-02 This edited volume examines the ways that global media shapes relations between place culture and identity Through the included essays Chopra and Gajjala offer a mix of theoretical reflections and empirical case studies that will help readers understand how the media can shape cultural identities and conversely how cultural formations can influence the political economy of global media The interdisciplinary international scholars gathered here push the discussion of what it means to do global media studies beyond uncritical celebrations of the global media technologies or globalization as well as beyond perspectives that are a priori dismissive of the possibilities of global media Some of the key questions and themes that the international contributors explore within the text include Is the global audience of global television the same as the global audience of the internet Can we conceptualize the global culture media identity dynamic beyond the discourse of postcolonialism How does the globalization of media affect feelings of nationalism How is the growth of a consumer global middle class spread and resisted through media Global Media Identity and Culture takes a comparative media approach to addressing these and other issues across media forms including print television film and new media European Politics

Tim Bale, 2017-04-28 A fully revised fourth edition of a popular introduction to the comparative politics of Europe written by a highly respected authority on the subject This lively and thematically organised text provides an accessible guide to the institutions and the issues that matter in a continent where the boundaries between East and West and between domestic and European affairs are increasingly breaking down Covering a wide array of countries it is a concise yet comprehensive overview of one of the world's most important and fascinating regions Written in an approachable style and packed with up to date real world examples and information this is the ideal place for students to begin and to deepen their understanding of Europe's politics It can be adapted as a standalone text on modules on Comparative European Politics and will be of use as a key reading on undergraduate courses on Comparative Politics more broadly as well as European Union Politics New to this Edition Updated throughout to provide coverage of developments such as the Eurozone crisis the growth of left and right wing populism the rise of nationalism and Europe's on going immigration challenge Includes a short concluding chapter rounding up and considering the future of the book's core themes of Europeanization and multilevel governance Additional country profiles on Croatia and Greece to ensure representative treatment of the key countries in Europe today European Audiovisual Policy in Transition Heritiana Ranaivoson, Sally Broughton Micova, Tim Raats, 2023-05-31 This book describes and critically addresses the innovations and shifts made in the revision of the Audiovisual Media Services Directive AVMSD adopted by the European Parliament and

Council in 2018 Reflecting on European Union regulation and policy practice in all its Member States the book's unique approach places in depth case study topics against the broader theoretical background Taking a Europe wide angle an international team of authors focuses on key aspects of the AVMSD the expansion of its scope to include video sharing platforms such as YouTube the update of the rules for commercial communications the first attempt for harmonized minimal requirements at EU level regarding transparency of media ownership new rules to ensure that video on demand services offer invest in and prioritise European content the obligation on television distributors and smart TV manufacturers to pass on broadcasters signal without any interference alteration or modification and the formalisation and consolidation of new forms of collaboration among national regulatory authorities This thorough analysis of the cornerstone of European media policy makes this edited collection a crucial reference for scholars and students of media and cultural industries media law and policy European and EU media policy and technology studies

Journalism Across Boundaries K. Grieves, 2012-11-28 Journalistic activity crosses national borders in creative and sometimes unexpected ways Drawing on many interviews and newsroom observation this book addresses an overlooked but important aspect of international journalism by examining how journalists carry out their daily work at the transnational and regional transborder level

Television Beyond and Across the Iron Curtain Kirsten Bönker, Sven Grampp, Julia Obertreis, 2016-09-23 From the mid 1950s onwards the rise of television as a mass medium took place in many East and West European countries As the most influential mass medium of the Cold War television triggered new practices of consumption and media production and of communication and exchange on both sides of the Iron Curtain This volume leans on the long neglected fact that even during the Cold War era television could easily become a cross border matter As such it brings together transnational perspectives on convergence zones observations collaborations circulations and interdependencies between Eastern and Western television In particular the authors provide empirical ground to include socialist television within a European and global media history Historians and media cultural and literary scholars take interdisciplinary perspectives to focus on structures actors flow contents or the reception of cross border television Their contributions cover Albania the CSSR the GDR Russia and the Soviet Union Serbia Slovenia and Yugoslavia thus complementing Western dominated perspectives on Cold War mass media with a specific focus on the spaces and actors of East European communication Last but not least the volume takes a long term perspective crossing the fall of the Iron Curtain as many trends of the post socialist period are linked to or pick up socialist traditions

Journalism Tim P. Vos, 2018-05-22 This volume sets out the state of the art in the discipline of journalism at a time in which the practice and profession of journalism is in serious flux While journalism is still anchored to its history change is infecting the field The profession and the scholars who study it are reconceptualizing what journalism is in a time when journalists no longer monopolize the means for spreading the news Here journalism is explored as a social practice as an institution and as memory The roles epistemologies and ethics of the field are evolving With this in mind the volume revisits classic theories of journalism such as gatekeeping and agenda setting but also opens up new avenues of theorizing by broadening the scope of inquiry into an expanded journalism ecology which now includes citizen journalism documentaries and lifestyle journalism and by tapping the insights of other disciplines such as geography economics and psychology The volume is a go to map of the field for students and scholars highlighting emerging issues enduring themes revitalized theories and fresh conceptualizations of journalism

Is it French? Popular Postnational Screen Fiction from France Mary

Harrod, Raphaëlle Moine, 2024-01-30 This book investigates the recently accelerated phenomenon of mainstream French film and serial television's remarkable popularity not only within but more novelly for European audiovisual narratives outside the domestic context Treating changes that have taken place in France's production landscape during the mass rollout of global streaming platforms as revelatory of broader tendencies in media production and circulation in Europe and beyond the collection explores emergent influential players Omar Sy Camille Cottin Alexandre Aja and Fanny Herrero companies such as Netflix and Gaumont and new genres identities and representations on screen It thus draws together a body of new research by international experts in French and European media production to analyse popular film and television series from France through a postnational lens with regards to both economic and institutional norms and to culture as a whole This book is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link springer.com
