Translocal Geographies Ayona Datta,Katherine Brickell,2016-02-17 Bringing together a wide range of original empirical research from locations and interconnected geographical contexts from Europe Australasia Asia Africa Central and Latin America this book sets out a different agenda for mobility one which emphasizes the enduring connectedness between and embeddedness within places during and after the experience of mobility These issues are examined through the themes of home and family neighbourhoods and city spaces and allow the reader to engage with migrants diverse practices which are specifically local yet spatially global This book breaks new ground by arguing for a spatial understanding of translocality that situates the migrant experience within across particular locales without confining it to the territorial boundedness of the nation state It will be of interest to academics and students of social and cultural geography anthropology and transnational studies

Resilient Urban Regeneration in Informal Settlements in the Tropics Oscar Carracedo García-Villalba,2020-09-15 This book focuses on the implementation of slum upgrading projects and the last generation of citywide programmes that define the future urban configuration of informal settlements from a citywide perspective in the Earth s tropical region The book presents a study on regeneration experiences in Asia and Latin America and it identifies important points of connection and similarities between the two cases while also determining that compared to Asia informality in Latin America is in its second generation

Transnational Architecture and Urbanism Davide Ponzini,2020 Transnational Architecture and Urbanism combines urban planning design policy and geography studies to offer place based and project oriented insight into relevant case studies of urban transformation in Europe North America Asia and the Middle East Since the 1990s increasingly multinational modes of design have arisen especially concerning prominent buildings and places Traditional planning and design disciplines have proven to have limited comprehension of and little grip on such transformations Public and scholarly discussions argue that these projects and transformations derive from socioeconomic political cultural trends or conditions of globalization The author suggests that general urban theories are relevant as background but of limited efficacy when dealing with such context bound projects and policies This book critically investigates emerging problematic issues such as the spectacularisation of the urban environment the de contextualization of design practice and the global circulation of plans and projects The book portends new conceptualizations evidence based explanations and practical understanding for architects planners and policy makers to critically learn from practice to cope with these transnational issues and to put better planning in place

Transnational American Spaces Tina Powell,Patricia Sagasti Suppes,2022-06-07 As people migrate they face the need to create a stable space within a disconcertingly unfamiliar environment This experience of creating new spaces opens opportunities for positive transcultural connections however these opportunities can also serve as the disciplining of the migrant body This text focuses on the movement of bodies in transnational communities and the formation of domestic and communal spaces that provide respite from migratory paths negotiate transnational relationships or establish a new home In doing so we explore literary texts that question challenge and deepen our understanding of the experience of migration through the use of space and place The texts in question examine three levels of transnational spaces intimate spaces such as family personal growth or sexuality inherited spaces reflected in generational conflicts religious identity and inherited histories and national spaces that look at issues of broader national identities The texts we examine engage with transnational communities within the United States and the ways in which narratives reimagine new space to negotiate change and create new norms These narratives can sometimes bridge both cultures or can sometimes result in a violent sense of displacement Each chapter problematizes a different aspect of transcultural adaptation and the geographic ties of each community focus reflect the multicultural reality of the U S with connections to Asia the Caribbean Europe the Middle East and Latin America Global Heartland Faranak

Traversing Transnational Biomedical

Landscapes Judith Schühle, 2020-04-02 In the age of globalization the transnational dimension of sciences like medicine seems to be given. However, the agents connecting different parts of this transnational biomedical landscape have yet to receive their due attention. Situated at the intersection of contemporary debates as well as theories of medical anthropology and migration in the 21st century, this book explores the experiences of Nigerian trained physicians who migrated to the US and the UK within the last 40 years. By drawing on individual professional life stories, Judith Schühle illuminates how these physicians disconnect from and re-connect to diverse local social and biomedical contexts becoming established abroad while at the same time trying to influence health care services in Nigeria through transnational endeavors.

Global City Makers

Michael Hoyler, Christof Parnreiter, Allan Watson, 2018-09-28 Global City Makers provides an in-depth account of the role of powerful economic actors in making and un-making global cities. Engaging critically and constructively with global urban studies from a relational economic geography perspective, the book outlines a renewed agenda for global cities research. Focusing on financial services, management consultancy, real estate, commodity trading, and maritime industries, the detailed studies in this volume are located across the globe to incorporate major world cities such as London, New York, and Tokyo, as well as globalizing cities including Mexico City, Hamburg, and Mumbai.
