Women Ageing Changing Identities Challenging Myths:

Women Ageing Miriam Bernard, 2000 Women Ageing provides a better understanding of what ageing is like for women and challenges the myths which have grown up around the ageing process Blending the scholarly the personal and the political it reveals the range of strategies and identities women adopt to manage the transitions of the second half of the life course In doing so it uncovers not only the commonalities and the similarities between mid life and older women but also some of the variation and diversity relating to ethnicity and race class disability and sexual orientation Women Ageing makes the ordinary lives of ordinary women as in this instance they grow older more visible Its findings have important implications for policy and practice All those studying or working with older people will find it an illuminating text The polemics of Ageing as reflected in Literatures. Essays on Ageing in Literature and Interviews with Vikram Chandra, James Halperin, Doris Lessing, Zadie Smith and Terri-ann White , El envejecimiento no es s lo un proceso biom dico sino tambi n social econ mico psicol gico pol tico y cultural Las representaciones literarias del envejecimiento contribuyen a entender aspectos como el miedo a la decrepitud la p rdida de creatividad o la muerte las relaciones intergeneracionales y la sostenibilidad de la calidad de vida En el libro escritores y acad micos discuten temas de vital importancia para nuestras sociedades actuales con art culos y entrevistas que reflejan actitudes positivas hacia el proceso en que todos estamos implicados Women Ageing. Literature and Experience Brian J. Worsfold, 2005 Se puede llegar a concebir el envejecimiento como un proceso diferencial seg n el g nero Aspectos analizados en diferentes narraciones sobre el envejecimiento femenino demuestran que as es Miradas al espejo revisiones de vida y la expresi n de la sexualidad son rasgos distintivos del proceso vital femenino En este libro se revelan los sentimientos las preocupaciones las prioridades y las aspiraciones que moldean las distintas fases de las vidas de las mujeres Women Ageing Miriam Bernard, Val Harding Davies, Linda Machin, Judith Phillips, 2005-06-22 Women Ageing provides a better understanding of what ageing is like for women and challenges the myths which have grown up around the ageing process Blending the scholarly the personal and the political it reveals the range of strategies and identities women adopt to manage the transitions of the second half of the life course In doing so it uncovers not only the commonalities and the similarities between mid life and older women but also some of the variation and diversity relating to ethnicity and race class disability and sexual orientation Women Ageing makes the ordinary lives of ordinary women as in this instance they grow older more visible Its findings have important implications for policy and practice All those studying or working with older people will find it an illuminating text Aging and Caring at the Intersection of Work and Home Life Anne Martin-Matthews, Judith E. Phillips, 2010-10-18 There are not many books that address the boundaries of care of older people from a work life perspective This book authored by contributors from various countries looks at the boundaries of care by looking at private and public help professional and personal help and paid and unpaid caregivers It captures and conceptualizes the complexity of the intersection of work and home life as it relates to the provision of assistance and support to older relatives in a variety of care work contexts It explores these issues within a critical framework rather than from an assumed stress or burden perspective which dominates current texts on the topic Readers of this volume will gain a deeper understanding of issues of care provision amongst networks of careers and helpers and of the particular dynamics of care when it is episodic or framed by constraints of space and time as a result of geography In addition each chapter addresses issues of diversity with sensitivity to gender race and ethnicity This book will be of use to academics and graduate students in Gerontology Family Studies IO psychology Gender Studies and Sociology Age Matters Toni M. Calasanti, Kathleen F. Slevin, 2013-10-11 This volume of original chapters is designed to bring attention to a neglected area of feminist scholarship aging After several decades of feminist studies we are now well informed of the complex ways that gender shapes the lives of women and men Similarly we know more about how gendered power relations interface with race and ethnicity class and sexual orientation Serious theorizing of old age and age relations to gender represents the next frontier of feminist scholarship In this volume leading national and international feminist scholars of aging take first steps in this direction illuminating how age relations interact with other social inequalities particularly gender In doing so the authors challenge and transform feminist scholarship and many taken for granted concepts in gender studies Politics and Old Age: Older Citizens and Political Processes in Britain John A. Vincent, Guy Patterson, Karen Wale, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2001 Older people have been characterized by two mutually contradictory stereotypes One the one hand they have been portrayed as a powerful lobby growing demographically and able to demand large redistributions of the nation's income in their direction On the other hand they have been typified as a marginalized group at high risk of poverty and exclusion and in a political context largely powerless This book examines using original research conducted by the Older People and Politics Project OPPOL within Exeter University's Sociology Department the reality of the impact of the increasing number of older people on the British political process The project had three main investigative concerns how effective are pressure groups and lobbyists for older people how is the power and influence of older people perceived by older people themselves and the general public and how are politicians responding to older people and their needs Older Widows and the Life Course Pat Chambers, 2018-01-18 Later life widowhood is the expectation of most older wives since statistically women live longer than men and tend to marry men older than themselves Despite this there has been little coverage of the complexities of later life widowhood In this book Pat Chambers redresses this balance combining an analysis of the literature that does exist with qualitative research amongst older widows The research reveals a multi faceted experience of later life widowhood Older widows life stories challenge the dominant public narrative of misery and decline pointing instead to a complexity of experience which is rooted in personal biography and the female life course rather than in later life widowhood itself Chambers develops the concept of multiple narratives as a way of uncovering the complex but often hidden lives of older widows Without such an understanding she argues it is all too easy to subscribe to the powerfully dominant public narrative and thus to misinterpret older widows current needs and aspirations This is an engaging and original study of a key topic for gerontological research and will be of great interest to sociologists and social policy scholars who study ageing and the life course Family, Citizenship and Islam Nilufar Ahmed,2016-06-17 A longitudinal intersectional study of migrant women this book examines the lives of first generation Bangladeshi migrants to the UK considering the dynamic relationship between people and place Shedding new light on a migrant population about which little is known the author explores the experiences of women who left rural homes to live in London speaking no English with no experience of local customs and having to adjust to what would now be dramatically shrunken family sizes within which they would act as bearers of culture and tradition Based on research spanning a decade Family Citizenship and Islam draws on qualitative interviews with over 100 women and examines questions of identity belonging citizenship and Britishness religion ageing care and the family With attention to the fluidity of the experiences of the first generation of migration women the book offers an alternative to much ethnographic research which often offers only a snapshot of a particular minority or migrant group as fixed and preserved in time As such Family Citizenship and Islam will appeal to scholars of sociology geography and anthropology with interests in migration and diaspora citizenship gender religion family and the lifecourse and the ways in which these different aspects of a person s life come together to shape lived experience

Managing the ageing experience Denise Tanner,2010-09-01 Current social policy recognises that older people should be treated as experts in their own lives and be actively involved in their care This book explores what can be learned from older people s experiences of managing ageing Direct connections are made between the everyday experiences and perspectives of older people related research and theoretical perspectives This yields an engaging and informative analysis of how older people manage the ageing experience and what this means for policy and practice directed at promoting older people s wellbeing The book will be of value to undergraduate and postgraduate students in health and social care and practitioners in these fields EBOOK: Quality of Life and Older People John Bond,Lynne Corner,2004-09-16 What is quality of life How should we assess quality of life for older people What are the personal and external influences on quality of life for older people Quality of Life and Older People provides a critical approach to the conceptualization and measurement of quality of life in social gerontology and health and social care research The book re examines what we mean by quality of life in a post modern world and examines the impact of continuous personal and social changes on the lives of older people The book explores ideas about quality of life in social gerontological literature and describes the experiences of older people through both their own personal accounts and representations in everyday life popular culture and scientific research In this way the book is unique since it reviews the way that older people talk about their quality of life and how this differs from the ways that younger people researchers and scientists policy makers and professionals discuss it The book draws on a range of behavioural and social science knowledge to present a new way of thinking about and understanding quality of life and older people While the book provides a critique of existing social science theories underpinning conceptions of quality of life it also addresses operational issues for the use of quality of life in social gerontological research Quality of Life and Older People is essential reading for undergraduate and postgraduate students taking courses in gerontology medicine nursing social work and social sciences It is also of interest to social gerontologists and health and social care researchers as well as to those involved in the planning and delivery of services to older adults Ageing and Older Adult Mental Health Patrick

Ryan, Barry J. Coughlan, 2013-03 This book examines the issues and implications that mental health professionals face when dealing with ageing and older adults The book focuses on the biological psychological and cultural influences that impact on the work of mental health practitioners who work with this client group Based on current empirical research and evidence based practical issues this book explores topics including ageing and dementia elder abuse caring for older adults depression and ageing the paradox of ageing how older adults are key to the success of future generations Throughout the book the contributors emphasise the notion of healthy ageing and the importance and significance of this concept as part of the life cycle process As such Ageing and Older Adult Mental Health will be key reading not only for mental health professionals but also for those involved in policy making for older adults Growing Old in Cameroon Charles Che

Fonchingong, 2013-12-11 For the governments of many developing African nations providing income security for the older population is difficult particularly in Cameroon This book uncovers the complex problem of pension deficits and difficulties providing welfare and other forms of social assistance A vast majority of older people in Cameroon remain unassisted and battling to survive with increasingly fragmented family and community oriented forms of support As the older population increases fundamental concerns remain Is care provided only by family members sustainable How does gender factor into this situation and who bears the brunt of these problems Borrowing from social capital theory this book discusses how older people struggle to find new forms of social protection This book articulates the view that older people display remarkable courage resilience and coping strategies which make them not a burden to society but rather key players in the development process It proposes achievable policy options that can make a difference in the lives of Cameroon's older citizens

Re-Imagining Old Age: Wellbeing, care and participation Marian Barnes, Beatrice Gahagan, Lizzie Ward, 2018-02-28 The understanding that humans are relational beings is central to the development of an ethical perspective that is built around the significance of care in all our lives Our survival as infants is dependent on the care we receive from others And for all of us in particular in older age there are times when illness emotional or physical frailty mean that we require the care of others to enable us to deal with everyday life With this in mind this book presents the findings of a project that seeks to understand what wellbeing means to older people and to influence the practice of those who work with older people Its starting point was a shared commitment amongst researchers and an NGO collaborator to the value of working with older people in both research and practice to learn from them and be influenced by them rather than seeing them as the subjects of a research project Theoretically the authors draw upon a range of studies in critical gerontology that seek to understand how experiences of ageing are shaped by their social economic cultural and political contexts By employing a broad body of work that challenges normative assumptions of successful ageing the authors draw attention to how these assumptions have been constructed through neo liberal policies of active ageing Notably they also apply insights from feminist ethics of care which are based on a relational ontology that challenges neo liberal assumptions of autonomous individualism Influenced by relational ethics they are attentive to older people both as co researchers and research respondents By successfully applying this perspective to social care practice they facilitate the need for practitioners to reflect on personal aspects of ageing and care but also to bridge the gap between the personal and the professional Understanding Loss and Grief for Women Robert W.
