Women Welfare and Empowerment in India Rameshwari Pandya, 2008 In India policies and programs at different levels of the government cover various dimensions and strategies in gender development Over the years efforts have been made to empower women socially economically and politically However due to a lack of synergy and coordination the achievements are not satisfactory It is imperative that an integrated policy and strategy be formulated to address the economic social and political issues related to women along with the requisite programs and schemes Though India has created protective legislations for women the enactments have not been easy to implement The vastness of the country the scattered nature of women workers their lack of education and legal literacy and the indifferent attitude of government bureaucracy have all contributed to the continuing vulnerability of women This is true not only for unorganized rural women but also for urban women workers Although the constitutional commitments to women find reflections in the planning processes legislation policies and programs of the central and state governments the current socio economic status of women is unsatisfactory in terms of almost all important indicators of human development Women Welfare and Empowerment in India contains research papers by social scientists and academics from different parts of India focusing on specific gender related issues The collection provides valuable information for researchers non governmental organizations and government agencies and functionaries It contains 42 contributions related to women issues categorized into the following six themed parts Health Nutrition and Fertility of Women Education and Training of Women Employment of Women Self help Groups and Empowerment of Women Problems of Rural Women Women Media Politics and Human Rights
