Vision and Aging Nancy D. Weber, 1991 It is estimated that by the year 2020 there will be 4 6 million persons who are elderly and blind or severely visually impaired Vision loss in the elderly is a common problem but is frequently unaddressed The affected often do not know where or when to go for help and care providers are sometimes equally uninformed Vision and Aging responds to the needs of this growing population and provides the knowledge and tools necessary to increase the number and accessibility of services available to the visually impaired elderly This comprehensive book addresses many areas of concern including the current service network and its existing gaps and the public policy agenda necessary for better meeting the needs of persons who are elderly and visually impaired With proper care and rehabilitation many of these elderly can lead active independent and productive lives Social workers and allied professionals will discover what resources are currently available and how to make sure their clients are able to explore the full range of opportunities open to them. Specific strategies to identify reach and serve the population are recommended and changes to improve both public policy and the care system in general are addressed. With its thorough treatment of the subject including chapters on measurement of rehabilitation outcomes, descriptions of service delivery models, a vision screening questionnaire, and elders' reactions to vision loss, Vision and Aging will be valuable reading for everyone involved in working with the visually impaired elderly. Students, agency administrators and staff, and public policy decision makers are among those from fields such as medicine, health promotion, aging, and rehabilitation who will find useful and practical information in this enlightening book.

Gerontology in Theological Education Barbara P. Payne, 1989. Gerontology in Theological Education provides a wealth of useful information to those interested in planning the introduction or improvement of gerontological materials in the curriculum of theological schools. The need for including aging in the professional education of the clergy is clear yet it is a relatively unmet need. In response to this general lack of gerontological training in theological education, this landmark volume documents a model project planned and implemented at the Gerontology Center at Georgia State University and provides suggestions for its use elsewhere. Administrators and faculty will find here the results of a national study of gerontology in theological education. Detailed descriptions of eight innovative programs nationwide and an extensive bibliography will also provide guidance for administrators and faculty interested in locating materials that relate to their gerontological concerns.

Women and Aging Ellen Cole, Esther D. Rothblum, Ruth R. Thone, 2020-03-26. In our youth-oriented patriarchal society, aging and older women often find themselves either ignored, pitied, or feared. Women and Aging is a valuable guide to help women break through the negative stereotypes of old age and find personal fulfillment through the stages of maturity. Full of warmth and support, Women and Aging strongly enables women to take and remain in control of their lives instead of passively letting others make life-changing and possibly harmful decisions for them. This essential guide for aging will help women increase the vitality of their old age as it urges them to continue to plan for the future, keep and develop strong relationships, increase their overall wellness, and not be afraid to take risks. Truly a celebration of aging, the author's illuminating descriptions of her own aging and how she has overcome society's restrictions are sure to be a source of inspiration for all women, no matter what their ages. Women and Aging begins by addressing cultural attitudes toward women, including appearance, language, behavior, and women's work. The middle section encourages women to face their fears and limitations and express their emotions, while the concluding chapters are a virtual guide to life, showing how to live life to the fullest and find inner fulfillment while aging. Along with her own continuing narrative, the author includes a multitude of personal glimpses into the aging processes of other women. This uplifting, helpful book will be of great value not only for aging women but for women of all ages who are interested in taking active control of their own lives.
