Sun a main character in popular media over the past three centuries This book examines how popular media have adapted to our ever changing understanding of the inner workings of the Sun It provides a valuable way to observe the inherent problems of communicating science to a non technical audience Chapters cut through the widespread hype found on the Internet and instead explore our ever improving scientific exploration of the Sun the persistent misconceptions surrounding it the fate of the Sun and its relation to the fate of the Earth and why despite comments to the contrary by Oscar Wilde the average person should care about sunspots

Cult Collectors Lincoln Geraghty,2014-02-24 Cult Collectors examines cultures of consumption and the fans who collect cult film and TV merchandise Author Lincoln Geraghty argues that there has been a change in the fan convention space where collectible merchandise and toys rather than just the fictional text have become objects for trade nostalgia and a focal point for fans personal narratives New technologies also add to this changing identity of cult fandom whereby popular websites such as eBay and ThinkGeek become cyber sites of memory and profit for cult fan communities The book opens with an analysis of the problematic representations of fans and fandom in film and television Stereotypes of the fan and collector as portrayed in series such as The Big Bang Theory and films like The 40 Year Old Virgin are discussed alongside changes in consumption practices and the mainstreaming of cult media Following this theoretical chapters consider issues of gender representation nostalgia and the influence of social media Finally extended case study chapters examine in detail the connections between the fan community and the commodities bought and sold Topics discussed include The San Diego Comic Con and the cult geographies of the fan convention Hollywood memorabilia and collecting cinema history The Star Wars franchise merchandising and the adult collector Online stores and the commercialisation of cult fandom Mattel Hasbro and nostalgia for animated eighties children s television

Haida Monumental Art George F. MacDonald,2011-11-01 The Haida of the Queen Charlotte Islands in British Columbia constructed some of the most magnificent houses and erected some of the most beautifully carved totem poles on the Northwest Coast During the last quarter of the nineteenth century images of the Haida s immense cedar houses and soaring totem poles were captured first on glass plates and later on film by photographers who travelled to then remote villages such as Masset and Skidegate to marvel at and record what they saw there Haida Monumental Art initially published as a limited edition hardcover and now available in paperback includes a large number of these remarkable photographs selected from a collection of over 10 000 original prints and photographic plates They depict the Haida villages at the height of their glory and record their tragic deterioration only a few decades later As well this edition contains the complete text from the first edition including site plans and detailed descriptions of fifteen major villages and several smaller sites which are catalogued by house and pole By combining archeology and ethnohistory George MacDonald presents an integrated framework for understanding the physical structure of a Haida village He explains how the houses and poles are part of a fascinating web of myth family history and Haida cosmology which provides a unique insight into Haida culture
