Implicating the System Elspeth Kaiser-Derrick, 2019-03-15 Indigenous women continue to be overrepresented in Canadian prisons research demonstrates how their overincarceration and often extensive experiences of victimization are interconnected with and through ongoing processes of colonization Implicating the System Judicial Discourses in the Sentencing of Indigenous Women explores how judges navigate these issues in sentencing by examining related discourses in selected judgments from a review of 175 decisions The feminist theory of the victimization criminalization continuum informs Elspeth Kaiser Derrick's work She examines its overlap with the Gladue analysis foregrounding decisions that effectively integrate gendered understandings of Indigenous women's victimization histories and problematizing those with less contextualized reasoning Ultimately she contends that judicial use of the victimization criminalization continuum deepens the

Gladue analysis and augments its capacity to further its objectives of alternatives to incarceration Kaiser Derrick discusses how judicial discourses about victimization intersect with those about rehabilitation and treatment and suggests associated problems particularly where prison is characterized as a place of healing Finally she shows how recent incursions into judicial discretion through legislative changes to the conditional sentencing regime that restrict the availability of alternatives to incarceration are particularly concerning for Indigenous women in the system Mothers, Addiction and Recovery Wendy Peterson, 2018-07-01 This anthology is a collection of personal accounts research treatment approaches and policy commentary exploring women s experiences of mothering in the context of addiction Individual chapters focus on a variety of addictions during pregnancy or mothering including misuse of substances food and smartphones A central theme of the book is the meaning of women s maternal identity as key to recovery Part I focusses on women s lived experiences of mothering through their addiction and recovery The chapters in part II report findings from studies that have prioritized the perspective of mothers living with addiction In Part III of this collection we expand our view of addiction and turn to approaches for supporting mothers of daughters with eating disorders and prevention of smartphone addiction In part IV contributors expand on the themes of harm reduction and restorative healing approaches to the treatment of mothers addictions that have echoed throughout the chapters of this book The anthology concludes with a gendered analysis and critique of addiction programs and policy Shame and Gender in Transcultural Contexts Elisabeth

Vanderheiden, Claude-Hélène Mayer, 2024-09-06 This volume is envisioned as a primary reference in research studies and concepts on shame through the lens of gender and from transdisciplinary cultural and transcultural perspectives It sheds light on the state of the art regarding shame and its meaning in the context of gender from theoretical conceptual and empirical perspectives from the standpoint of positive psychology Since the experience of shame the expression of shame as well as the individual or collective handling of shame depends in a special way on cultural factors special importance has been given in the chapters to the consideration of cultural framework conditions This volume is founded on the editors first three publications on shame from positive psychology perspectives and an upcoming work on shame and ageing
