Researching Translation in the Age of Technology and Global Conflict Kyung Hye Kim, Yifan Zhu, 2019-11-20 Mona Baker is one of the leading figures in the development of translation studies as an academic discipline This book brings together fifteen of her most influential articles carefully selected and grouped under three main topics that represent her most enduring contributions to the field corpus based translation studies translation as renarration and translators in society These applications and approaches have been widely adopted by translation scholars around the globe The first section showcases Baker s pioneering work in introducing corpus linguistics methodologies to the field of translation studies which established one of the fastest growing subfields in the discipline The second section focuses on her application of narrative theory and the notion of framing to the study of translation and interpreting and her contribution to demonstrating the various ways in which translators and interpreters intervene in the negotiation of social and political reality The third and final section discusses the role of translators and interpreters as social and political activists who use their linguistic skills to empower voices made invisible by the global power of English and the politics of language Tracing key moments in the development of translation studies as a discipline and with a general introduction by Theo Hermans and section introductions by other scholars contextualising the work this is essential reading for translation studies scholars researchers and advanced students

Contested Legitimacies Jannis Julien Grimm, 2025-10-01 Since the overthrow of President Mursi in mid 2013 Egypt has witnessed an authoritarian rollback and shrinking spaces for civil society Nationalist discourses have villified popular protest and channelled pressure for reform into a state centric model of governance Despite this hostile environment for social mobilization protest has persisted Contested Legitimacies explores this resilience of contentious politics through a multimethod approach that is attuned to the physical and discursive interactions among key players in Egypt's protest arena. Drawing from a unique archive of sources, it investigates the rise and fall of different coalitions of contenders from the Tamarod uprising against Mursi to the Anti Coup resistance against the military coup to the challenges posed by the Tiran and Sanafir island campaign to Al Sisi's regime. It highlights the decisive impact of battles fought in a discursive arena on the conditions of possibility for street politics. In postrevolutionary Egypt, a contest over the meaning of political legitimacy cemented political polarization, limited social movements' coalition choices, and ultimately paved the way for a restoration of autocracy.

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Politics Jonathan Evans, Fruela Fernandez, 2018-04-19. The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Politics presents the first comprehensive state-of-the-art overview of the multiple ways in which politics and translation interact. Divided into four sections with thirty-three chapters written by a roster of international scholars, this handbook covers the translation of political ideas, the effects of political structures on translation, and interpreting the politics of translation, and an array of case studies that range from the Classical Mediterranean to contemporary China. Considering established topics such as censorship, gender, translation under fascism, translators and interpreters at war, as well as emerging topics such as translation and development, the politics of localization, translation and interpreting in democratic movements, and the politics of translating popular music, the handbook offers a global and interdisciplinary introduction to the intersections between translation and interpreting studies and politics. With a substantial introduction and extensive bibliographies, this handbook is an indispensable resource for students and researchers of translation theory, politics, and related areas.

Edinburgh Companion to the Postcolonial Middle East Anna Ball, 2018-11-14. This Edinburgh Companion seeks to develop a postcolonial framework for addressing the Middle East. The first collection of essays on this subject, it assembles some of the world's foremost postcolonialists to explore the critical theoretical and disciplinary possibilities that inquiry into this region opens for postcolonial studies. Throughout its twenty-four chapters, its focus is on literary and cultural critique. It draws on texts and contexts from the late nineteenth to the early twenty-first centuries as case studies and deploys the concept of postcolonial modernity to reveal the enduring impact of colonial and imperial power on the shaping of the region. And it covers a wide and significant range of political, social, and cultural issues in the Middle East during that period, including the heritage of Orientalism in the region, the roots and contemporary branches of the Israel-Palestine conflict, colonial history, state formation, and cultures of resistance in Egypt, Turkey, the Maghreb, and the wider Arab world; the clash of tradition and modernity in regional and transnational expressions of Islam; the politics of gender and sexuality in the Arab world; the ongoing crises in Libya, Iraq, Iran, and Syria; the Arab Spring; and the Middle Eastern refugee crisis in Europe.

Literature and the Work of Universality Alice Duhan, Stefan Helgesson, Christina Kullberg, Paul Tenngart, 2024-07-22. In an age of accelerating ecological crises, global inequalities, and democratic fragility, it has become crucial to achieve renewed articulations of human commonality. With anchorage in critical theory as well as world literary studies this volume approaches literature and modes of literary thinking as a key resource for such a task Universality is understood here not as an established universalism but as a horizon towards which intellectual inquiry and literary practices orient themselves In the field of world literature there is by now a wide repertoire of epistemological resources through which claims to universality can be both questioned and reconfigured If at one end of the spectrum world literature confronts us with the spectre of homogenisation and the commodification of difference under a regime of global capitalism at another end renewed forms of philological anthropological and ecological attentiveness to the particulars of languages and texts within the crucible of connected histories allow for defamiliarising perspectives both on received historical narratives and aesthetic practices Vernacularity emerges here as a central point of reference for constructing the universal from within the particular the idiomatic and the experiences of social subordination or complicity

Allying beyond Social Divides Yasmine Berriane, Marie Duboc, 2020-11-25 This book offers a fresh look at the role of coalitions in contentious politics in North Africa and the Middle East based on conceptual reflexions and empirical case studies by researchers who have conducted extensive fieldwork in the region Coalitions of actors that have traditionally not been allies have become a key feature of the protest movements that have emerged across North Africa and the Middle East since 2011 But what happens when Islamists ally with Leftists workers with student unions and young engineers with local tribesmen How do coalitions form across ideological generational professional ethnic and class divides Are such collaborations transformative The authors seek to show that it is important to go beyond analyses that focus mainly on identifying the factors that led to a coalition's success or failure coalitions are moments of transformative encounter that can lead to changes affecting relations with political authorities ideological learnings repertoires of action and understandings of the notion of right Instead of analyzing coalitions and social divides as two opposite processes this book further argues that studying the alliance of social groups goes hand in hand with exploring processes of differentiation that are engineered by both political regimes and social actors Focusing on the role of coalitions in contentious politics before and after the Arab uprisings this book proposes a sociology of coalitions in the Middle East based on key empirical examples to analyze the transformations that emerged out of such alliances at the levels of repertoires of action forms of organization relations to political authorities and ideological learnings The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Mediterranean Politics

Creative Resistance Sabine Damir-Geilsdorf, Stephan Milich, 2020-04-02 During the uprisings of the Arab Spring between 2010 and 2012 oppositional movements used political humor to criticize political leaders or to expose the absurdities of the socio political conditions These humorous expressions in various art forms such as poetry stand up comedy street art music caricatures cartoons comics and puppet shows were further distributed in the social media This first comprehensive study of political humor in the uprisings explores the varieties and functions of political humor as a creative tool for resistance It analyzes humorous forms of cultural expression and their impact on socio political developments in different countries of the Middle East and North Africa with a special focus on the changing modes of humor

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and the City Tong King Lee, 2021-06-27 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and the City is the first multifaceted and cross disciplinary overview of how cities can be read through the lens of translation and how translation studies can be enriched by an understanding of the complex dynamics of the city Divided into four sections the chapters are authored by leading scholars in translation studies sociolinguistics and literary and cultural criticism They cover contexts from Brussels to Singapore and Melbourne to Cairo and topics from translation as resistance to translanguaging and urban design This volume explores the role of translation at critical junctures of a city's historical transformation as well as in the mundane intercultural moments of urban life and uncovers the trope of the translational city in writing This Handbook is critical reading for researchers scholars and advanced students in translation studies linguistics and urban studies

Creative Radicalism in the Middle East Caroline Rooney, 2020-06-11 Addressing the question of how neoliberal ideology has served to conflate the radical left with extremism this book examines how the Arab left has asserted itself in the context of authoritarianism and Islamic extremism during and after the Arab uprisings It examines how the Arab cultural left has offered a critique of the signifying practices of political hegemonies in the region and argues that though creative expression as constituted in the very language of the Arab uprisings it has put forward its own alternatives Using a wide array of texts and sources both Arab and non Arab the opening chapters of the book identify how ethical and radical values pertaining to sociality are co-opted by political leaders in the Middle East and turned into jargon Later chapters outline resistance to this co-option through a poetics of inter-subjectivity that takes structures of feeling into account ranging from disappointment despair and distrust to dignity solidarity and reconfigured senses of the sacred In showing how psychological and affective states relate to signifying practices the book offers an original conceptual framework for differentiating radicalization from the creative radicalism of the Arab avant-garde

Women of the Midan Sherine Hafez, 2019-04-03 An exploration of gender the Arab Spring and women's experiences of revolution including firsthand accounts In Women of the Midan Sherine Hafez demonstrates how women were a central part of revolutionary process of the Arab Spring Women not only protested in the streets of Cairo they demanded democracy social justice and renegotiation of a variety of sociocultural structures Women's resistance to state control Islamism neoliberal market changes the military establishment and patriarchal systems forged new paths of dissent and transformation Through firsthand accounts of women who participated in the revolution Hafez illustrates how the gendered body signifies collective action and the revolutionary narrative Using the concept of rememory Hafez shows how the body is inseparably linked to the trauma of the revolutionary struggle While delving into the complex weave of public space government control masculinity and religious and cultural norms Hafez sheds light on women's relationship to the state in the Arab world today and how the state in turn shapes individuals and marks gendered bodies
