Translation Quality Assessment An Argumentation Centred Approach Perspectives On Translation:

Translation Quality Assessment Malcolm Williams, 2004 Outlining an original discourse based model for translation quality assessment that goes beyond conventional microtextual error analysis this ground breaking new work by Malcolm Williams explores the potential of transferring reasoning and argument as the prime criterion of translation quality Assessment through error analysis is inevitably based on an error count an unsatisfactory means of establishing and justifying differences in quality that forces the evaluator to focus on subsentence elements rather than on the translator's success in conveying the key messages of the source text Williams counters that a judgement of translation quality should be based primarily on the degree to which the translator has adequately rendered the reasoning or argument structure An assessment of six aspects of argument structure is proposed argument macrostructure propositional functions conjunctives types of arguments figures of speech and narrative strategy Williams illustrates the approach using

Evaluating the Evaluator Hansjörg Bittner, 2019-11-28 This book offers a theoretical framework for assessing translation quality grounded in supportive argumentation The volume outlines a systematic framework for translators and translation critics to substantiate their decisions and judgments on a translation's quality and in the case of negative criticism put forward a more effective translation solution The book traces the decision making process underpinning translation practice considering the different factors surrounding a particular translation to inform the most appropriate translation strategy such as the temporal and geographical relationship between source and target texts special provisions required by clients timeframe qualifications and sociocultural and political issues The framework posits that such factors should underpin any arguments used by the translator in adopting a given strategy and in turn that any criticism of a translation's quality must be in line with the same argumentative structure Applied to a corpus of translation examiners reports of translation the book demonstrates how this framework can act as a tool to be scaled to fit the needs of the different actors of a translation translators critics and scholars This book will be of interest to scholars in translation studies and practicing translators

Positionalities of Translation Studies Garda Elsherif, Joanna Sobesto, 2025-06-12 This volume explores historical cultural linguistic and anthropocentric influences on Translation Studies TS It brings together nuanced individual self reflexive case studies and juxtaposes them in order to provoke discussion on the role of contemporary researchers in the discipline of TS As well as reflecting on the historical and geographical dimensions of the situatedness of TS the book builds on existing reflections on the local political and linguistic positions of TS and examines the practical and methodological consequences of these discussions By considering insights and perspectives from various disciplines the contributors refer to the current state of the art in TS and reconstruct the discussions held on Eurocentrism anthropocentrism and the historicity of TS that have been discussed in isolation so far This volume maps potential relations between them and introduces an analytical concept of positionality that highlights commonalities among various discourses As well as theoretical and historical analysis the contributors ask how to methodologically deal with this inevitable positioning of research in contemporary research practice. The contributions cover various aspects of positionalities and its influences on translation research including gender, anthropocentrism, experiential knowledge and geopolitics. They also explore various histories of translation studies in different temporal, spatial and linguistic settings such as China, Chinese, Iran, Persian, the Netherlands, English, Ukraine, Ukrainian, Russian and France, French, thereby highlighting that TS as a discipline is not a monolith but consists of various histories interconnected with each other.

Translation in Transition Arnt Lykke Jakobsen, Bartolomé

Mesa-Lao, 2017-09-15. Translation practice and workflows have witnessed significant changes during the last decade. New market demands to handle digital content as well as technological advances are leading this transition. The development and integration of machine translation systems have given post-editing practices a reason to be in the context of professional translation services. Translators may still work from a source text but more often than not they are presented with already translated text involving different degrees of translation automation. This scenario radically changes the cognitive demands of translation. Technological development has inevitably influenced the translation research agenda as well. It has provided new means of penetrating deeper into the cognitive processes that make translation possible and has endorsed new concepts and theories to understand the translation process. Computational analysis of eye movements and keystroke behaviour provides us with new insights into translational reading processes of literality, effects of directionality, similarities between inter and intralingual translation as well as the effects of post-editing on cognitive processes and on the quality of the final outcome. All of these themes are explored in depth in the articles in this volume which presents new and valuable insights to anyone interested in what is currently happening in empirical process-oriented translation research.

A Chronology of Translation in China and the West Sin-wai Chan, 2009. This book is a study of the major events and publications in the world of translation in China and the West from its beginning in the legendary period to 2004, with special references to works published in Chinese and English. It covers a total of 72 countries, places and 1 000 works. All the events and activities in the field have been grouped into 22 areas or categories for easy referencing. This book is a valuable reference tool for all scholars working in the field of translation.

Quality aspects in institutional translation Tomáš Svoboda, Łucja Biel, Krzysztof Łoboda, 2017. The purpose of this volume is to explore key issues, approaches and challenges to quality in institutional translation by confronting academics and practitioners' perspectives. What the reader will find in this book is an interplay of two approaches: academic contributions providing the conceptual and theoretical background for discussing quality on the one hand, and chapters exploring selected aspects of quality and case studies from both academics and practitioners on the other. Our aim is to present these two approaches as a breeding ground for testing one vis-à-vis the other. This book studies institutional translation mostly through the lens of the European Union (EU) reality and more specifically of EU institutions and bodies due to the unprecedented scale of their multilingual operations and the legal and political importance of translation. Thus it is concerned with the supranational international level deliberately leaving national and other contexts aside Quality in supranational institutions is explored both in terms of translation processes and their products the translated texts
