The Affordable Housing Reader Elizabeth Mueller,J. Rosie Tighe,2022-07-14 This second edition of The Affordable Housing Reader provides context for current discussions surrounding housing policy emphasizing the values and assumptions underlying debates over strategies for ameliorating housing problems experienced by low income residents and communities of color The authors highlighted in this updated volume address themes central to housing as an area of social policy and to understanding its particular meaning in the United States These include the long history of racial exclusion and the role that public policy has played in racializing access to decent housing and well serviced neighborhoods the tension between the economic and social goals of housing policy and the role that housing plays in various aspects of the lives of low and moderate income residents Scholarship and the COVID 19 pandemic are raising awareness of the link between access to adequate housing and other rights and opportunities This timely reader focuses attention on the results of past efforts and on the urgency of reframing

the conversation It is both an exciting time to teach students about the evolution of United States housing policy and a challenging time to discuss what policymakers or practitioners can do to effect positive change This reader is aimed at students professors researchers and professionals of housing policy public policy and city planning New Mobilities Todd Litman,2021-06-17 In New Mobilities Smart Planning for Emerging Transportation Technologies transportation expert Todd Litman examines 12 emerging transportation modes and services that are likely to significantly affect our lives bike and carsharing micro mobilities ridehailing and micro transit public transit innovations telework autonomous and electric vehicles air taxis mobility prioritization and logistics management Public policies around New Mobilities can either help create heaven a well planned transportation system that uses new technologies intelligently or hell a poorly planned transportation system that is overwhelmed by conflicting and costly unhealthy and inequitable modes His expert analysis will help planners local policymakers and concerned citizens to make informed choices about the New Mobility revolution

Unique Urbanity? Tara Brabazon,2014-11-21 This book investigates small cities cities and towns that are not well known or internationally branded but are facing structural economic and social issues after the Global Financial Crisis They need to invent develop and manage new reasons for their existence The strengths and opportunities are often underplayed when compared to larger cities These small cities do not have the profile of New York London Tokyo or Cairo or second tier cities like San Francisco Manchester Osaka or Alexandria This book traces the current state of the creative industries literature after the GFC but with a specific focus The specific and worsening conditions in third tier cities are logged The social and economic challenges within these regions are great particularly with regard to health and health services education employment social mobility and physical activity This is not a study that merely diagnoses problems but raises strategies for third tier cities to create both a profile and growth The current research field is synthesized to reveal how cities are defined constituted developed and in many cases suffering decline There is an imperative to build relationships with other urban environments The book enters these under discussed locations and reveal the scarred layering of injustice signified by depopulation dis investment economic decline and a reduction in public services for health transportation and education while also developing specific and innovative models for improvement The vista summoned in Unique Urbanity is international with strong attention to trans local strategies that offer wide relevance currency and opportunities for policy makers While third tier cities are often hidden marginalized invisible or demeaned Unique Urbanity shows that innovation imagination and creativity can emerge in small places Motor Vehicles, the Environment, and the Human Condition Hans

A. Baer,2019-10-09 The world now has more than a billion motor vehicles and this number continues to increase as developing countries imitate developed societies in their adoption of the culture of automobility This book explores the political ecology of motor vehicles in an era of growing social disparities and environmental crises the latter of which are most manifest in anthropogenic climate change to which motor vehicles constitute a major contributor A political ecological perspective recognizes that motor vehicles perhaps more than any other machine embody the social structural cultural and environmental contradictions of the capitalist world system In addition to highlighting many of the environmental social and health environmental consequences of humanity s increasing reliance on motor vehicles particularly private automobiles this book argues that ultimately we need as a species to move beyond motor vehicles as much as possible but that such an effort will have be part and parcel of creating an alternative world system based on social justice democratic processes environmental sustainability and a safe climate one termed democratic eco socialism Democratic Eco-Socialism as a Real Utopia Hans A. Baer,2017-10-01 As global economic and population growth continues to skyrocket increasingly strained resources have made one thing clear the desperate need for an alternative to capitalism In Democratic Eco Socialism as a Real Utopia Hans Baer outlines the urgent need to reevaluate historical definitions of socialism commit to social equality and justice and prioritize environmental sustainability Democatic eco socialism as he terms it is a system capable of mobilizing people around the world albeit in different ways to prevent on going human socio economic and environmental degradation and anthropogenic climate change Adaptation Urbanism and Resilient Communities Billy Fields,John L. Renne,2021-05-03 Adaptation Urbanism and Resilient Communities outlines and explains adaptation urbanism as a theoretical framework for understanding and evaluating resilience projects in cities and relates it to pressing contemporary policy issues related to urban climate change mitigation and adaptation Through a series of detailed case studies this book uncovers the promise and tensions of a new wave of resilient communities in Europe Copenhagen Rotterdam and London and the United States New Orleans and South Florida In addition best practice projects in Amsterdam Barcelona Delft Utrecht and Vancouver are examined The authors highlight how these communities are reinventing the role of streets and connecting public spaces in adapting to and mitigating climate change through green blue infrastructure planning maintaining and enhancing sustainable transportation options and struggling to ensure equitable development for all residents The case studies demonstrate that while there are some more universal aspects to encouraging adaptation urbanism there are also important local characteristics that need to be both acknowledged and celebrated to help local communities thrive in the era of climate change The book also provides key policy lessons and a roadmap for future research in adaptation urbanism Advancing resilience policy discourse through multidisciplinary framework this work will be of great interest to students of urban planning geography transportation landscape architecture and environmental studies as well as resilience practitioners around the world A Sustainable Bioeconomy Mika Sillanpää,Chaker Ncibi,2017-04-13 An authoritative and comprehensive volume of knowledge and green technologies wholly focused on the future of the bioeconomy The authors present data show opportunities discuss R D findings analyze strategies assess the wider economic impact showcase achievements criticize policies and propose solutions for the green revolution in biofuels biochemicals and biomaterials production and power generation A fascinating range of case studies from the US China and many European countries are used to inform readers about the impact of this field on society and how various technologies are currently being implemented. Additionally, the role of industry on this green industrial revolution is outlined with contributions from several major companies such as DuPont, US UPM, Kymmene Oy, Finland, Anhui BBKA Biochemical Co, China. International Encyclopedia of Geography, 15 Volume Set Noel Castree, Michael F. Inclusive Transport Hans Jeekel, 2018-10-29. Inclusive Transport: Fighting Involuntary Transport Disadvantages offers readers profound and multifaceted insights into transportation and social equity, guiding transportation and urban studies researchers, planners and policy makers in evaluating potential solutions to this complex issue. It considers discrimination and its societal consequences, providing a needed perspective on who is left out of transportation planning and why. The book is systematically divided into 2 parts. Part A is problem-oriented and explores the main problems to the transportation disadvantaged: accessibility and affordability. It looks at the consequences of non-accessibility, the problems non-car owners face and the interplay between housing and transportation. Part B is policy-oriented and analyses how current policies tend to forget transport disadvantages. It looks at pragmatic solutions for transport disadvantaged and ends with a design for inclusive transport, being a more radical approach combining sustainability challenges, people's behaviours and emotions, creating more just and equitable mobility. Synthesizes academic research and narratives on transport disadvantage and the transport disadvantaged, linking the research with current mobility policies and practices. Connects the fight on transport disadvantages with sustainable and smart mobility strategies and looks into car sharing, ride sharing and individualising public transport while de-individualizing car use. Has an extensive usage of data, figures and examples from around the world and inspiring mobility plans and policies

Building the Critical Anthropology of Climate Change

Hans A. Baer, Merrill Singer, 2024-08-14 This book applies a critical perspective to anthropogenic climate change and the global socio ecological crisis The book focuses on the critical anthropology of climate change by opening up a dialogue with the two main contending perspectives in the field namely the cultural ecological and the cultural interpretive perspectives Guided by these the authors take a firm stance on the types of changes that are needed to sustain life on Earth as we know it Within this framework they explore issues of climate and social equity the nature of the current era in Earth s geohistory the perspectives of the elite polluters driving climate change and the regrettable contributions of anthropologists and other scholars to climate change Engaging with perspectives from sociology political science and the geography of climate change the book explores various approaches to thinking about and responding to the existential threat of an ever warming climate In doing so it lays the foundation for a brave new sustainable world that is socially just highly democratic and climatically safe for humans and other species This book will be of interest to researchers and students studying environmental anthropology climate change human geography sociology and political science
