Global Business Transformation Richa Goel, Chitra Krishnan, KDV Prasad, Payyazhi Jayashree, Grace McCarthy, 2025-09-08 Many contemporary business models are now completely based on the idea of a circular economy or sustainability where they extensively use technology to save resources become more efficient and leave a smaller carbon footprint on the planet. Thus this book aims to bring the discussion of global business transformation which is a need of the hour to the forefront and highlight the use of modern technology in actively aiding businesses to become more sustainable. Global Business Transformation Innovation Technology and Sustainability showcases the emerging economy context where innovation and technology are extensively used for business transformation to achieve the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It serves as a comprehensive resource to study the different dimensions of technology such as AI data mining and machine learning from businesses that utilize disruptive technology to achieve sustainability. The book addresses a variety of challenges in the pursuit of global business transformation which policymakers and experts at all levels of society need to understand well. It also provides an outline of the most pertinent issues and effects that Industry 4.0 is expected to bring to global organizations in the near future and highlights the role of government in streamlining the alignment between SDGs and technology during strategic business transformations globally. It further analyses the possible implications for international business practice and theory and examines the wider repercussions on employment development and ethics. Apart from being a valuable resource for researchers, students and professionals involved in the corporate business manufacturing and industrial engineering sectors, this book will also be of interest to those in fields related to economics, psychology, management, strategy, political science, government bodies, sociology, NGOs and other industrial organizations. Global University Rankings and the Mediatization of Higher Education Michelle Stack, 2016-04-12 Higher Education Institutions simultaneously critique and participate in national and international rankings of universities. However, this creates a difficult situation since if universities do participate in rankings, they acquiesce to a system based in media logics that has little to do with academic norms of research. If they do not participate in the rankings, they risk losing public funding, students and donors in an increasingly competitive and globalized environment. This book delves into the influence of journalists, business tycoons and multinational corporations in defining what world class is and how it will be measured. Rankings provide us with a rich study for understanding how universities define, deploy and manage their assets and liabilities in a mediatized globalized economy.

in American Literary Criticism of the Nineteenth Century Herbert Rowland, 2020-11-03 In Hans Christian Andersen in American Literary Criticism of the Nineteenth Century Herbert Rowland argues that the literary criticism accompanying the publication of Hans Christian Andersen s works in the United States compares favorably in scope perceptiveness and chronological coverage with the few other national receptions of Andersen outside of Denmark Rowland contends that American commentators made it abundantly evident that in addition to his fairy tales Andersen wrote several novels travelogues and an autobiography which were all of more than common interest In the process Rowland shows that American commentators naturalized Andersen in the United States by confronting the sensationalism in the journalism and literature of the time with the perceived wholesomeness of Andersen s writing deploying his long fiction on both sides of the debate over the nature and relative value of the romance and the novel and drawing on three of his works to support their positions on slavery the Civil War and Reconstruction Doing Digital Migration Studies Koen Leurs, Sandra Ponzanesi, 2025-10-01
