

UNREASONABLE DOUBT: MANIPULATING JURORS' PERCEPTIONS IN A CLOSING ARGUMENT AT TRIAL

Pamela Hobbs

ABSTRACT

This paper seeks to explain the jury's verdict of acquittal in the bizarre case of eccentric millionaire Robert Durst, who was charged with the murder of Morris Black after Black's body parts were found floating in Galveston Bay off the coast of Texas. Though an analysis of a portion of the defense' closing argument, this paper examines the Durst defense team's strategy of directing the jury's attention to a single event – the confrontation that resulted in Black's death – in order to effect a shift in focus that allowed them to use "reasonable doubt" to leverage their argument that the prosecution had not met its burden of proof. This paper demonstrates how this strategy acted to construct the "unreasonable doubt" that resulted in the jury's verdict.

INTRODUCTION

The jury is a unique feature of the Anglo-American legal system, and its longevity and continuing popularity are indicative of Americans' overriding faith

Unreasonable Doubt Unreasonable Doubt:

Unreasonable Doubt Norma Thompson, 2006 A murder trial ends in a hung jury because of the reasonable doubt of a few jurors who faced with circumstantial evidence refuse to judge the accused Thompson confronts this evasion of judgment through the reexamination of the works of Faulkner Austen Tocqueville Plato and Aristotle Provided by publisher

Unreasonable Doubt Essam M. Al Mohandis, 2014-11-17 What urged me to jot down what I had written in this little novel are the lessons that I have learned from the grand Lifes University I had benefited from the experiences that I learned Some specific points are clearly pointed and i am sure you would be able to grasp what is between the lines Yes I had learned felt seen and believed that the person who is conscious of Allah the Almighty He would make him a way out and provide him with means from sources he would think the least he would be able to get from Allah the Almighty granted me strength after weakness He granted me security after being frightened He granted me provisions after being poor Allah the Almighty employed for me those who knew me and those who dont know me I kept on calling and invoking upon the King of all kings Lord I raised my hand up to Him He didnt return them empty out of His generosity and kindness Some of the most beautiful moments are those which man spends with his own thoughts and memories that he lives second by second as he feels their sweetness bitterness hopes pains pleasures and sorrows and all their details As I jot down what I could of such moments and capture them by words and phrases I beg your pardon and ask your forgiveness I don t mean to excite you and stir your emotions through a novelist writing but rather I would like to give an honest account of my own story that carries my own emotions and feelings I seek your permission to sail with me in order to narrate to you and in order to see with your own eyes the events of two months of suffering and pains that I spent in the USA in the state of Massachusetts in the city of Boston
