Unsettled Belonging Educating Palestinian American:

Unsettled Belonging Thea Renda Abu El-Haj, 2015-11-27 Unsettled Belonging tells the stories of young Palestinian Americans as they navigate and construct lives as American citizens Following these youth throughout their school days Thea Abu El Haj examines citizenship as lived experience dependent on various social cultural and political memberships For them she shows life is characterized by a fundamental schism between their sense of transnational belonging and the exclusionary politics of routine American nationalism that ultimately cast them as impossible subjects Abu El Haj explores the school as the primary site where young people from immigrant communities encounter the central discourses about what it means to be American She illustrates the complex ways social identities are bound up with questions of belonging and citizenship and she details the processes through which immigrant youth are racialized via everyday nationalistic practices Finally she raises a series of crucial questions about how we educate for active citizenship in contemporary times when more and more people's lives are shaped within transnational contexts A compelling account of post 9 11 immigrant life Unsettled Belonging is a steadfast look at the disjunctures of modern citizenship

Native Presence and Sovereignty in College Amanda R. Tachine, 2022 What is at stake when our young people attempt to belong to a college environment that reflects a world that does not want them for who they are In this compelling book Navajo scholar Amanda Tachine takes a personal look at 10 Navajo teenagers following their experiences during their last year in high school and into their first year in college It is common to think of this life transition as a time for creating new connections to a campus community but what if there are systemic mechanisms lurking in that community that hurt Native students' chances of earning a degree Tachine describes these mechanisms as systemic monsters and shows how campus environments can be sites of harm for Indigenous students due to factors that she terms monsters sense of belonging namely assimilating diminishing harming the worldviews of those not rooted in White supremacy heteropatriarchy capitalism racism and Indigenous erasure This book addresses the nature of those monsters and details the Indigenous weapons that students use to defeat them Rooted in love life sacredness and sovereignty these weapons reawaken students presence and power Book Features Introduces an Indigenous methodological approach called story rug that demonstrates how research can be expanded to encompass all our senses Weaves together Navajo youths stories of struggle and hope in educational settings making visible systemic monsters and Indigenous weaponry Draws from Navajo knowledge systems as an analytic tool to connect history to present and future realities Speaks to the contemporary situation of Native peoples illuminating the challenges that Native students face in making the transition to college Examines historical and contemporary realities of Navajo systemic monsters such as the financial hardship monster deficit not enough monster failure monster and in visibility monster Offers insights for higher education institutions that are seeking ways to create belonging for diverse students

Handbook of Children and Youth Studies Johanna Wyn, Helen Cahill, Hernán Cuervo, 2024-08-20 This second edition of the handbook gives a new scientific perspective to youth and childhood studies as multi scientific and interdisciplinary subjects which as such have not yet found their own framing in a particular discipline It provides theoretical and methodological key debates and issues that develop and add an understanding of childhood and youth research discipline from a broader perspective The Handbook on Children and Youth Studies draws on current thinking but also challenges theoretical and conceptual orthodoxies in the field drawing on interdisciplinary thinking and critical perspectives It focuses on childhood and youth to address the emerging consensus that the boundaries between childhood youth and adulthood are blurred The view that defining youth and childhood largely in terms of problem topics is out dated Instead the handbook focuses on 16 themes that are open to international perspectives and to different conceptual approaches Each theme is edited by a pair of field editors thereby capturing a plurality of views The 16 themes as a starting point are globally timely and they need scientific debates on the boundaries between childhoods youth and adulthood This handbook will meet the needs of childhood and youth researchers and the academics in the field It recognizes the changing social context of the lives of children and young people while developing theoretical frameworks and discussing about the core substantive issues of Children and Youth Studies (Re)Constructing Memory: Education, Identity, and Conflict Michelle J.

Bellino,James H. Williams,2017-02-08 How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex inter relationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces Critical Youth Research in Education Arshad Imtiaz Ali,Teresa L.

McCarty,2020-04-23 Critical studies of youth play an increasingly important role in educational research This volume adds to that ongoing conversation by addressing the methodological lessons learned from key scholars in the field With a focus on the doing of critical youth studies in ways that center praxis and relational care in work with youth and their communities the volume showcases scholars discussing their research and reflecting on the practical strategies they have used to operationalize their conceptions of knowledge in youth centered research projects Each chapter addresses the research features challenges tensions and debates of the project engagement with communities and relationality reciprocity and responsibility to participants The focus throughout is on qualitative approaches that are humanizing anti colonial and transformative Teaching Culturally and Linguistically Relevant Social Studies for Emergent Bilingual and Multilingual Youth Ashley Taylor Jaffee,Cinthia Salinas,2024 Through research storytelling curriculum development and pedagogy this book will help educators engage emergent bilingual and multilingual EBML students with social studies and citizenship education Chapters are written by well known and new scholars who are enacting teaching and research that center the needs interests and experiences of EBML youth Drawing from multiple intersecting and interdisciplinary frameworks that
