Assassinations, Threats, and the American Presidency Ronald L. Feinman,2015-08-06 Throughout American history Presidents and Presidential candidates have faced countless assassination threats and attempts on their lives These threats have extended not only to sitting Presidents and candidates but also to Presidents elect and former Presidents Assassinations Threats and the American Presidency From Andrew Jackson to Barack Obama walks through Presidential history looking at the countless assassination threats and attempts that have occurred throughout history Historian Ronald L. Feinman discusses the Presidencies of sixteen Presidents as well as three important candidates and five living Presidents today and how they were directly threatened with assassination ranging from the first known threat to Andrew Jackson in 1833 to threats to Barack Obama in late 2014 All nineteen of these Presidents and candidates were threatened with assassination six being killed three wounded and ten unhurt Additionally he reveals information about some failed attempts which had they been successful could have resulted in fifteen different men who would have become President of the United States Which ones would have been able to fill the responsibilities Which ones would have been disastrous in the Oval Office Assassination attempts both successful and failures have been part of our political culture for over 180 years and the problem of Presidential security safety and protection remains a serious problem today With the President being faced with countless death threats the Secret Service and FBI are forced to employ all kinds of technological methods to protect our Chief Executive and his family as well as other top officials in the line of succession Feinman brings to light how these agencies have grown both technologically and physically to counter these attacks He also sheds light on how these threats to our Presidency have devastated changed and grown our United States into what it is today
