Through an engagement with three contentious debates in medieval studies historiography race and individuated subjectivity Vanita Seth's work employs postcolonial and postmodern theorizing to explore questions of ontology epistemology facial privileging and emotion and identity in the European Middle Ages and early modern period While the subject matter of this book is historical the stakes are contemporary and political Seth's contention is that it is the very alterity that the medieval represents that enables contemporary scholars and activists to recognize as historical that which is so often posited as natural Writing a history of absence while also engaging radically different ways of being in the world this book argues helps to disrupt the self evident naturalization of the face to contest knee jerk celebrations of individuality tethered to the human visage and to recognize racism not as an age old nemesis but as a distinctly modern form of organizing power This work is interdisciplinary engaging scholarship in science studies philosophy feminist theory anthropology race studies and literature and postmodern and postcolonial theory It presumes no prior specialized knowledge in medieval studies and or history This book is an essential reading for scholars and students in the fields of medieval and early modern history race historiography identity and emotion studies
