Stern, 2011-07-11 The unique story of a business heretic and his concept of Economic Value Added EVA In Against the Grain Joel Stern shares for the first time not only the story of how EVA swept the corporate world but the story behind the story the intellectual underpinnings of EVA how he and his colleagues at Stern Stewart Co promoted the concept won its initial acceptance by major corporations and later turned the concept into a revolution He has for good reason been called a one man catalyst for change In an engaging memoir he has given us not only an account of his business strategy but also provided fascinating anecdotes and vignettes of encounters with leading businessmen on four continents Joel M Stern New York NY has been the Managing Partner of Stern Stewart Co since its founding in 1982 and was coauthor of The EVA Challenge Wiley 0 471 40555 8 A recognized authority on financial economics corporate performance measurement corporate valuation and incentive compensation he is a leading advocate of the concept of shareholder value Irwin Ross New York NY was retained to write The EVA Challenge with Joel Stern and John Shiely He is a former roving editor of Reader's Digest and over the years has written for Fortune and a variety of other magazines The Business of Higher Institutional Education: Integrating Academic Freedom, Pedagogical Approaches and Constitutionalism Wesahl Domingo, Michele van Eck, 2024-12-31 Higher education is facing increasing challenges Economic and financial pressures have heightened the strain on the sustainability of higher education institutions HEIs These pressures have prompted a shift toward adopting business models and commercial practices to maintain institutional operations While these changes have enabled some innovations they have also placed traditional academic dynamics under significant pressure After all the commercialisation of HEIs comes with its own challenges and has influenced directly and indirectly academic freedom constitutional values and established approaches to teaching learning and research This co edited book explores the growing tension between academic freedom and the commercial priorities of HEIs highlighting the challenge of balancing financial sustainability with higher education's function of being centres of knowledge innovation and social change Through an analysis of selected legal academic and operational dimensions this book examines how HEIs can navigate these demands while maintaining their core identity Organised around three key themes the first focuses on the business and commercial aspects of HEIs analysing how these influence institutional operations Topics under this theme include issues such as corruption procurement practices the use of demand guarantees in construction contracts and the legal nature of the student university relationship The second theme examines how the business and commercial focus of HEIs can influence academic freedom Topics under this theme includes an analysis of the rights of academics to freedom of expression and their ability to critique their employers the implications of Ghana's proposed Anti LGBTQ Bill on academic freedom and the effects of disciplinary procedures on academic freedom in Zimbabwean state universities The third theme addresses the impact of commercialisation on teaching learning and pedagogical approaches within HEIs Topics under this theme include the challenges faced by students with disabilities and the role of HEIs in breaking down barriers to inclusion the influence of HEI structures on the decolonisation of international law and the ways in which HEIs responded to the effects of Covid 19 on first year law students at the University of Johannesburg The academic contribution in this book highlights that HEIs serve a critical social function that goes beyond profit making or financial viability This social responsibility rooted in knowledge creation and societal advancement should remain the primary focus Although commercialisation is an unavoidable reality HEIs should ultimately prioritise their social mandate over profit driven objectives ensuring that their core mission is not overshadowed by commercial imperatives

Questions, Exercises and Problems in Financial Accounting David Kolitz, D. L. Kolitz, 2010-06 Divided into a selection of questions exercises and problems this workbook will help keep accountants on top of current international economic affairs The questions are multiple choice and ensure understanding of a topic before moving onto the exercises and problems The exercises can be used to develop proficiency in a topic where students are expected to reach the standard of the problems and the problems are longer and more complex in nature requiring an in depth understanding of the topic Combined this complete approach provides a full view of the up to date requirements of the International Financial Reporting Standards

Between Worlds Linda Chisholm, 2017-11-30 How the story of how missionary schools adopted the Bantu education reforms gives insight into the ongoing legacy of the apartheid in the South African educational system The transition from apartheid to the post apartheid era has highlighted questions about the past and the persistence of its influence in present day South Africa This is particularly so in education where the past continues to play a decisive role in relation to inequality Between Worlds German Missionaries and the Transition from Mission to Bantu Education in South Africa scrutinises the experience of a hitherto unexplored German mission society probing the complexities and paradoxes of social change in education It raises challenging questions about the nature of mission education legacies Linda Chisholm shows that the transition from mission to Bantu Education was far from seamless. Instead, past and present interpenetrated one another with resistance and compliance cohabiting in a complex new social order. At the same time as missionaries complied with the new Bantu Education dictates, they sought to secure a role for themselves in the face of demands of local communities for secular state-controlled education. When the latter was implemented in a perverted form from the mid 1950s, one of its tools was textbooks in local languages developed by mission societies as part of a transnational project with African participation. Introduced under the guise of expunging European control, Bantu Education merely served to reinforce such control. The response of local communities was an attempt to domesticate and master the foreign body of the mission so as to create access to a larger world. This book focuses on the ensuing struggle fought on many fronts including medium of instruction and textbook content with concomitant sub-texts relating to gender roles and sexuality. South Africa's educational history is to this day informed by networks of people and ideas crossing geographic and racial boundaries. The colonial legacy has inevitably involved cultural mixing and hybridisation with paradoxically parallel pleas for purity. Chisholm explores how these ideas found expression in colliding and coalescing worlds: one African, the other European, caught between mission and apartheid education.
