Gordon Williamson

Us Nuclear Submarines The Fast Attack New Vanguard:

US Nuclear Submarines Jim Christley, 2012-01-20 The adoption of nuclear power revolutionized submarine design Vessels can stay underwater for months trailing the enemy or training weapons on land targets from secret positions always there never seen Jim Christley a former submariner explores here the influence of Admiral Hyman Rickover in cautiously introducing these stealthy machines of war and frankly discusses the power and perils of using nuclear reactors at sea Using unique and detailed artwork he outlines the many evolving aspects of design within the submarine classes from the very first nuclear submarine USS Nautilus to the classes under construction even now Ships of the American Revolutionary

Navy Mark Lardas, 2012-01-20 Mark Lardas explores the origins of American warships primarily light and medium frigates built for the Continental Navy during the years 1776-1783 This was the first navy of the United States and much of the fleet was comprised of ships that had been modified from existing vessels converted into warships to provide a crucial service during the American Revolutionary War Despite having no real funding this unique fleet had a surprising amount of success against the might of the Royal Navy and this title discusses the strengths and weaknesses of each design and the differences between European and American warships of the time With a close look at how these ships performed in key battles as well as the exploits of John Paul Jones the founding father of the United States Navy this is a complete illustrated overview of the ships service and development until France's entry into the war and the subsequent decline in importance of the Continental Navy American Light and Medium Frigates 1794-1836 Mark Lardas, 2012-01-20 The Original Six frigates were commissioned by the new born US Navy at a staggering cost of nearly 700 000 Designed to be light and fast these warships enabled America to project its power across the globe Among the ships Mark Lardas examines is USS Constellation the first ship to be commissioned by the United States Navy Alongside stirring accounts of engagements during the Barbary Wars the author explores the design and development of these frigates explaining the shortcomings that led to their replacement by larger heavier 44 gun models by 1800 Packed with contemporary illustrations of US frigates and their British and French rivals this book follows the escalation of the naval arms race during the 18th century The Rolls-Royce Armoured Car

David Fletcher, 2012-04-20 The first Rolls Royce armoured car a privately owned vehicle fitted with a machine gun and limited armour plate was used by the Royal Naval Air Service in Flanders in 1914 By 1915 nearly 100 had been built and turned over to the Army From then on as Sir Albert Stern said They searched the world for war operating as far apart as the northwest frontier of India the Middle East and southern Africa The cars were fast quiet and reliable but above all powerful This book tells the complete story of the Rolls Royce Armoured Car following its design and development as it fought from theatre to theatre during World War I and the turbulent inter war years After World War I the War Office continued to produce the Rolls Royce while tinkering with the design These further cars served all across the Empire including in Ireland and even later Shanghai returning for a final brief appearance in the early stages of World War II US Navy Aircraft

Carriers 1942-45 Mark Stille, 2012-05-20 Aircraft carriers were the US Navy's principal weapon against Japan during the Pacific War. Development of the Essex class began in 1939 becoming the largest class of carrier ever to be built. Early in the Pacific War it became renowned for its Sunday Punch of 36 fighter planes, 36 dive bombers and 18 torpedo planes. Alongside the lighter Independence class, these carriers formed the formidable Fast Carrier Force in the Pacific. Featuring artwork detailing the interior and exterior features of the ships, this book explores their design, development and the action they saw in the Pacific, including the climactic battles of Philippine Sea, Leyte Gulf and Okinawa.

US Marine Corps Tanks of World War II Steven J. Zaloga, 2012-01-20 During World War II the US Marine Corps formed six tank battalions that battled through the harsh conditions of the Pacific Theatre. Using the same basic tanks as the US Army, notably the M3 and M5A1 light tanks and the M4 Sherman medium tank, the marines made both technical and tactical innovations to make them more effective in the fight against the Japanese. Deep wading equipment, flamethrower tanks and even wooden armor all became part of the Marine arsenal. This book examines the tactics and technology that made the US Marine Corps tank service unique in the annals of warfare.

Imperial Japanese Navy Light Cruisers 1941-45 Mark Stille, 2012-02-20 The Imperial Japanese Navy went to war with 17 light cruisers and another three cruiser-sized training ships. Of these, most were 5,500-ton ships designed to act as destroyer squadron flagships. This made them much different in capabilities and mission from their American counterparts. During the war, the Japanese built another five light cruisers, all but one of which maintained the design premise of being able to serve as destroyer squadron flagships. During the war, Japanese light cruisers were active throughout the Pacific, performing many missions in addition to their flagship duties. Mark Stille continues Osprey's coverage of the IJN of WWII with this concise and complete study of all 25 ships, from their design and development to their ultimate fates. Detailed artwork and rare period photographs from the Fukui collection held in Kure, Japan, illustrate this discussion.

US Navy Aircraft Carriers 1922-45 Mark Stille, 2012-05-20 The USS Langley, the first American aircraft carrier, entered service in 1922. Despite being converted into an aircraft tender, it was the first step in a new direction for the US Navy and naval warfare. This book covers the design, development and operation of USN aircraft carriers built prior to World War II, including their aircraft and weaponry. It also explains their various successes and losses, such as the first carrier vs carrier battle at Midway, the battle of the Coral Sea, the battle of the Philippine Sea and the Operation Torch landings.

Kriegsmarine U-boats 1939-45 (2) Gordon Williamson, 2012-04-20 Following on from New Vanguard 51, Kriegsmarine U-boats 1939-45 1, this book charts the continuing development of the U-boat in German service, including the evolution of the Type IX as a long-range cruiser intended for solo operations in distant waters. Also covered is the revolutionary Type XXI, conceived of in 1942 and launched in April 1944, the first true submarine rather than submersible, whose arrival was just too late to influence the war. Other vessels covered are the Type XXIII, a small vessel armed with only two torpedoes but technically highly advanced, and the Type X minelayers, which were rarely used in their intended role and more often used as supply boats German Battlecruisers 1914-18 Gary Staff,2012-01-20 The task of Germany's new Große Kreuzer at the beginning of the 20th century was to form an independent reconnaissance division that was able to perform special tasks. With a speed superiority of at least 3 knots they should also be capable of fighting in the line and would thus require heavy armour and good defensive qualities. The battlecruisers that were built did indeed have a remarkable ability to withstand battle damage as demonstrated by the Goeben which suffered five mine hits on one occasion. This illustrated book details all the classes of German battlecruiser with particular emphasis on each individual ship's battle experience and deployment in conflict The New Encyclopaedia Britannica: Macropaedia : Knowledge in depth ,1998 The New Encyclopædia Britannica: Macropædia : Knowledge in depth ,2002 United States Naval Institute Proceedings ,1987 Run Silent Philip Kaplan,2002 From the 17th century inventors through the nuclear powered submarines of today this heavily illustrated volume traces the history of the silent force and the elite corps of men who fought and often died beneath the waves Strategic Digest ,1989 The New International Year Book ,1956 Proceedings - American Merchant Marine Conference ,1961 The New International Year Book Frank Moore Colby,Allen Leon Churchill,Herbert Treadwell Wade, Frank H.
